Gay Ridge's Lilac Named All-American Supreme Champion

BY PAT PURCELL

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The two-day Eastern National Holstein Show, which brought together more than 150 Holstein breeders from Canada and eastern United States, came to a festive close when the grand champion Holstein was named the supreme champion of the 26th Annual Pennsylvania All-American Show.

C Cathland Lilac, the 6-year-old Holstein cow owned by Gay Ridge Holsteins of Hamsville, Maryland, captured the coveted title. The

Lancaster Farmers' Association Supports Land Preservation Change

BY LOU ANN GOOD

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — Lancaster County Farmers' Association named Jay Irwin, Lancaster County Extension director, as the person who performed the most distinquished service to the county's agriculture in 1989. Irwin was honored at the association's annual banquet held Tuesday night at the Farm and Home Center, Lancaster.

In other business, the association listened to the pros and cons of the present land preservation act.

Berks Co. Cattlemen Hold First Banquet

LEESPORT (Berks. Co.) — The Berks County Cattlemen's Association will be holding its first annual membership meeting and banquet on Friday, October 20, according to Sheila Miller, president. Along with a prime rib dinner, the banquet meeting's menu will include election of four directors and the selection of the first Berks Beef Industry Representative. Featured speaker will be Glenn Eberly, president of the Pennsylvania Cattlemen's Association and director of the Pennsylvania Meat Animal Evaluation Center at State College.

"The banquet will begin at 7 p.m. and will be held at R. John's Olde Haus, Womelsdorf," said Miller. "We selected R. John's as our first banquet site because of the restaurant's reputation for great beef entrees. We plan to move this event around the county in future years."

Miller noted that the banquet cost is $16 per person. For reservations, contact Geri Gammel at 215-589-4856 by Thursday, October 12.

Sunday Is Family Day At KILE

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Keystone International Livestock Exposition has scheduled Sunday, October 8, 1989 as a special day for the family. The day begins at 8:00 a.m. with a sunrise church service for the entire family. Representative Samuel Hayes, Jr. will be the speaker.

You are encouraged to bring your family and enjoy the many attractions of the Livestock Exposition. Dr. Happy LaClaire and "Blaze", his balloon-blowing

State DHIA Joins LF In Communication Venture

BY EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co,) In a move to bolster communication with members and at the same time show its present and future services to non-members (both dairymen and non-dairymen alike), the Pennsylvania Dairy Herd Improvement Association board of directors voted unanimously here Monday evening to develop a joint venture with Lancaster Farming. This working relationship is planned to include the eventual publication of DHIA's quarterly newsletter and such other items as a weekly summary of average input costs from across the state, somatic cell count averages and other farm management information that can be extracted from DHIA's vast computer information bank that's generated through local farmer reports.

In addition, as individual counties join the state in the present reorganizational restructuring, all members will become part of a group subscription plan that will be of considerable benefit to the state organization as well as individual members. Of course, the many DHIA members in counties who now have group or individual subscriptions will see no interruption in their service.

A 26x80-foot concrete stave silo collapsed last Monday on the M. Elmer Eyrich farm in Oley. The silo, which contained approximately 55 feet of corn silage, didn't hurt anyone when it fell.

Oley Area Silo Topples

BY VAL VANTASSEL
Berks Co. Correspondent

OLEY (Berks Co.) — A 26x80-foot concrete stave silo owned by the M. Elmer Eyrich family of Oley came crashing to the ground last Monday afternoon. No one was hurt in the accident, which occurred under bluebird skies about 2:30 p.m.

The family actually had advance notice of the silo's imminent collapse. But not by much.

FUTURES MARKET TRENDS GRAIN AND LIVESTOCK

This market information provided by ACRES. ACRES is a copyrighted market information service developed by the American Farm Bureau and available to Pennsylvania farmers on a daily basis through Pennsylvania Farmers' Association Farm Management Services. ACRES CORN UPDATE: Corn futures prices closed from 1/2 cent higher to 1-1/2 cents lower this afternoon after a day of narrow range trading. Opening pressure was in response to "sell the fact" trading after yesterday's announcement of a sale of 2 million metric tonnes to the USSR. Additional sales were tied to slack commercial demand and reports of good harvest progress. Losses were partially offset by news of light farmer sales and hopes that the USSR would make further purchases. After the close the USDA announced sales of 200,000 metric tonnes to the Soviet Union along with news that 200,000 metric tonnes was slated for shipment to Poland. December ended today's session 1-1/2 cents lower at $2.39 after trading in a range from $2.38-1/2 to $2.41-1/2.

ACRES SOYBEAN UPDATE: Soybean futures prices settled from 1-3/4 cents lower on the August option to 1 cent higher on the deferred November. Today's closes were at or near session lows with the front months higher throughout most of the session and falling in the closing minutes on commercial hedge pressure. Prices were higher this morning on reports of higher basis levels and whispers of export interest from Taiwan and Norway. November settled 1/4 cent higher

Northeast Chicken Parts

Wednesday, October 4, 1989

CORRECTION: LEGS SHOULD HAVE READ 31-32 CENTS NORTHEAST CHICKEN PARTS: PART 1 OF 2: FEDERAL-STATE. Buying interest was irregular but improved overall. Cutlets were fully adequate at $1.90 and clearing fairly well at this level. Whole breasts were unevenly distributed with a few early morning offerings cleared rather easily. Leg quarters were in active demand as traders booked for current and planned retail promotional activity. Legs were adequate and in closer balance due to the increased call for leg quarters. Wings were fully adequate to instances burdensome.

Delmarva Broiler Fryer Market

Tuesday, October 4, 1989

Demand for ready to cook whole fryers was no better than fair but about as expected. Supplies were more than adequate and being offered at competitive prices but very little buyer interest was noted. In the parts complex, supplies of cutlets and wings were fully adequate, whole breasts were adequate, legs were in close balance, and leg quarters were tight. Less than trucklot asking prices were unchanged at 48-56 cents. Live supplies were adequate with average live weights in a range of desirable to heavy. Today's slaughter schedules were moderately heavy. The trade sentiment was generally steady.

Take Your Seat, The Performance Is About To Begin.

You'll applaud the performance of Funk's G-Hybrids like G-4543, G-4626 and G-4446 when the curtain falls at harvest time.

A top choice for shelled grain or ear corn in 110 to 120-day maturity areas, G-4543 produces maximum yields even at lower populations. In Delaware hybrid field corn trials, it topped the field with 148.4 bu./A.

G-4626 has it all in a 115 to 120-day maturity hybrid—fast dry-down, outstanding stay-green, superior standability, excellent plant health and exceptional yields. In Delaware trials, G-4626 produced yields up to 200.9 bu./A.

G-4446 delivers superior late season standability, excellent grain quality and high test weights. A multi-purpose, widely adapted hybrid, G-4446 produced a state record 252.4 bu./A. in the 1986 Pa. Five-Acre Corn Club competition.

Get your ticket to superior performance by contacting your local Hoffman sales representative or our Landisville office. Call toll free 1-800-233-0137. In PA: 1-800-732-0456.

THE OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC

OCT. 9-15, 1989
Full Hunter's Moon.

Fire Prevention Week . . . Beatles star, John Lennon born Oct. 9, 1940, and assassinated Dec. 9, 1980 . . . First steam-propelled ferry runs between New York City and Hoboken, N.J., Oct. 11. 1811 . . . Comedian Nipsey Russell born in Georgia, Oct. 13, 1924 . . . Average length of days for the week 11 hours 15 minutes . . . Oct. 15, 1917, all privately-owned ocean-going vessels are requisitioned by the government for the duration of World War I . . . Intolerance is the child of ignorance.

Ask the Old Farmer: What is "hoss cheshnut weather" as my grandfather called it? S. L. E., Mich.
It refers to the belief that, in cold and damp weather, a horse chestnut in the pocket will stave off rheumatism.

Home Hints: Lemon juice makes a handy hair rinse, especially where water is hard.

OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECAST

New England: Indian summer-like days continue; then it's cloudy and cool mid-week; and finally rainy but still warmish. Can't complain for autumn.

Greater New York-New Jersey: Indian summer-like days extend the season and make for a warm week; rainy days and cooling change the scene a bit.

Middle Atlantic Coastal: Indian summer-like days here, too, at first. Then a rainstorm bursts in and cools things off considerably. Oh, well.

Piedmont & Southeast Coastal: Clear and pleasant to start the week; rain is heavy in the south at mid-week and it's cool; then it's sunny and warm.

OPINION

A Look At Renewable Fuels

Recent statistics compiled by the World Resources Institute now show that carbon dioxide emissions — a contributing cause to our global "greenhouse effect" problem — are growing faster in the United States than in the rest of the world since 1986. These new statistics reflect a 7 per cent increase over the past two years in U.S. emissions of carbon dioxide. U.S. emissions of carbon dioxide in 1988 were the highest ever, equaling 1.42 billion metric tons.

The report of the World Resources Institute also showed the U.S. to be the largest generator of carbon dioxide, contributing 23.7 per cent of worldwide emissions last year.

These startling statistics reaffirm the dangers posed to our world environment. While many proposals have been suggested for dealing with these alarming trends — such as international controls, legislative limitations, and unilateral initiatives — it is important that the tools of our nation's technology be utilized in this battle for cleaner air.

One partial solution is a greater reliance on alternative fuels such as ethanol which has proven to be one of the most cost effective and environmentally sound public policy options for dealing with our air quality problems.

Recent studies have shown the effectiveness of ethanol in any clean air strategy:

A report by the Congressional Research Service (CRS) has shown that the use of ethanol in our nation's gasoline would help reduce automotive carbon dioxide emission. In the report CRS noted: "If global warming is a concern, ethanol — has a distinct advantage over gasoline." The report found that the use of 10% ethanol gasoline blends could reduce motor fuel emissions of carbon dioxide into the atmosphere. This report confirmed other studies which have demonstrated that the carbon dioxide absorbed by agricultural feedstocks — such as corn — at least offset and may surpass the level of carbon dioxide emissions when burned off as fuel.

Other studies have also demonstrated how ethanol can help with our environment and health problems, and as a nation it's time to take a more serious look at renewable fuels produced from agricultural sources.

NOW IS THE TIME

To Beware Of Grazing Hazards

Dairy farmers who are grazing their milking herds in woodlots, or in pastures with oak trees, should be on the alert for fallen acorns. Our Veterinary Science people tell us that acorns are somewhat toxic to cattle and will dry up most cows for the rest of their lactation. We are aware of many oak trees in pastures, and in most years there will be a pretty good acorn crop.

If the cows start eating these acorns, then the milk flow will be reduced drastically. Either cows should be removed from the area, or someone should pick up the acorns before the cows are turned out each day.

To Watch For Unwanted Guests

Now that the weather is getting cooler you may find some unwanted guests in your barn and home. You won't see them too often perhaps, but they're there. These guests will destroy more food and property than they eat. The guests in question are rats and mice. As the weather gets colder, they migrate from outdoors to indoors.

Are you aware that one rat can cost you $28 a year, and that rats cause an estimated 25 percent of all farm fires, and that rats destroy about 20 percent of all crops planted each year. Rats have a litter every 30 days — multiplying so rapidly a pair could have 15,000 descendants in a year's life span.

They kill small animals and chickens and also carry diseases to people and animals. Reasons enough to start a good rat control program.

To Practice Good Public Relations

Farmers should be concerned about their image in the community. In most cases it's very good, and also the majority of non-farm people in the rural areas respect the needs and problems of the farmer. The image can be improved by getting better acquainted with your non-farm neighbors.

We urge farmers to invite their nearby neighbors to see their farm operation. In many cases a better understanding of the various operations will eliminate disputes and hassles about noise and odors.

Also, I would encourage farmers to become involved with community activities. You'll find that people who understand each other seldom have serious problems.

To Be Careful Around Manure Pits

This is the time of year that many liquid manure pits will be cleaned out and spread on the land; the crops have been harvested and the ground is open enough to absorb much of the liquid; this is necessary rather than to apply it on frozen ground. After application, a pass over the field with a disc will reduce the possibility of odors a great deal.

When these pits are emptied there is a danger of poisonous gases being present. If the mixture is agitated before being moved then good ventilation must be provided above the pit. Also, never go into a pit without a gas mask or some type of respirator. Keep in mind that these gases can be explosive as well as poisonous to man and animal. Special care is needed in and around manure pits.

RCMA has a future!

There is a shortage of total milk production in the U.S. for the strong demand for all dairy foods except butter. This shortage has pushed up the M.W. price (this is the basis for Northeast dairy farmr pay prices) and will take up some of the farm income slack left by RCMA suspending its pricing for September and possibly longer.

This is not the end of RCMA or organized over-order pricing. RCMA did its job; it stabilized the Northeast dairy industry by getting 70 million dollars to its 22,000 members. The fluid processors were able to pay this money to RCMA and its members because they got the extra income for RCMA from the retail market and consumers. The consumers paid a little more and the processors, without hurting their profit structure, were able to pay farmers more through RCMA. With the recent very rapid increase in the government mandated prices, processors have not been able to pass all of their milk costs, including over-order premiums, on to the stores and thus have been allowed to cut back on RCMA. That doesn't mean that a strong RCMA won't be able to reinstitute over-order pricing in the future.

In the meantime, RCMA lead-

Devotional Reading: Revelation 13: 1-10.

Background Scripture: Daniel 7.

In today's world, we see that there still exists oppressive political rulers which can be compared to the "evil empires" of the past.

In our own country, we are privileged to have a voice in the government of our nation, and we have the opportunity to debate the strengths and weaknesses of each political candidate running for public office. During presidential elections, particularly, we each have our personal worries as to whether we are choosing the individual who can handle the job with strength, intelligence, competence and compassion, among other things.

Overall, we feel safe in knowing that the president's power is delegated and will not get out of control. Still, Americans need to be fully aware of their government's actions and should exercise their voice in that government.

Unfortunately, many citizens in other nations do not have that privilege. Although Russia is now slowly allowing choices of religion and the distribution of Bibles within its borders, it is a country known for its suppression of religious freedom. Iran accepts the existence of a god, but their acts of violence and terrorism make it a fearful and evil place in which to live.

There are many accounts of evil empires that have existed in our world. Daniel 7:3-7 speaks of four great beasts that came up from the sea. These beasts represented Babylon, Persia, Medea, and the empire of Alexander the Great. The writer of Daniel saw these empires as so cruel and inhumane that he characterized them with beastly figures.

In the Revelation of St. John, descriptions of a beast are also used to describe what was, according to John, the most evil power of all — the Roman Empire. John's beast had seven heads and ten horns, all of which symbolize the rulers of the Roman Empire since the time of Augustus. Frequently, the emperors were referred to as God or Son of God. This is what John means when he says that on the heads of the beast there were "blasphemous names." Citizens were forced to worship the emperors or suffer death.

Many people today still feel powerless when it comes to the political structures that control their lives. What are they supposed to do when faced with evil? As we have seen in the past, people have allowed themselves to be controlled by cruel, and sometimes insane, powers. In recent history, Hitler's Third Reich proved that citizens of a country will obey the commands of such a ruler.

Revelation 13:9 states, "If any man have an ear, let him hear." Be aware of what is going on around you. Listen to, and believe in, what you feel is right. Revelation 13:10 goes on to say, "He that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword."

On earth, political rulers may be powerful, but no one comes near to the power of God. His is the Kingdom that shall be everlasting.

Doebler's Top Seven

HERE'S HOW I PICK 'EM

by Willard Jones

I'm Willard Jones, Doebler sales manager, with my top picks.

We sell 30 corn hybrids at Doebler's. "But what seven would you recommend first?" I'm asked. That's not easy. Soil, management, weather would come into play here.

Three-ways got lot of thought early on. During the fall sale they sell for $17 less than super singles. And some years they really crowd'em on yields.

It wasn't easy to pass over 48X, a three time winner in Penn State Commercial Corn Trials.

Or the big healthy 70X-C with its big ears and rank growth.

DOEBLER 84XP, 118 days. A top choice—grain or silage. Big ears means big yields. Like 191.4 bushels this fall in a Maryland strip test. Big tonnage fills silo quick. Excellent standup. Healthy. Superior drought rating.

DOEBLER 75X, 113 days. Still our top seller. And for good reason. Dozens of 200 bushel yields, including a record 281.6 bu. in PA Five Acre Corn Club. Silage? Old reliable also holds Virginia's silage mark. Great stalks.

DOEBLER 66XP, 103 days. A super sheller. No. 2 yield in Cornell's 1988 Medium Maturity Trials, 4.6 and 16.2 bu. head of other 600 series hybrids in our first strip test results this fall. Shrugs off blight. Easy sheller.

DOEBLER 57XP, 97 days. Popped 199 bu. in Cornell's Medium Early Maturity Trials last year, buried old 58X by 19 bu. Two recent yields over 225. My choice north of Route 80. Extra oomph pays off in thin stands and poorer soils.

DOEBLER 54XP, 95 days. Great early corn in full season country. Starts quick and stays green. Dark green, that is. Standup outstanding. Solid 202 bu. in '88 Cornell Medium Early Trials, or 15 bu. better than Pioneer's best.

DOEBLER 35XP, 83 days. Bill Camerer has made case for the new 33XP. But don't forget this baby. It outslugged 48XE 161.3 to 152.3 bu. in recent tests with 1% less moisture and 5% less down corn. Great choice in early country.

DOEBLER 28XP, 78 days. Now you have it. A big sheller for early high country. Healthy. Sturdy stalks. 141 bu. in '88 Cornell trials, five more bushels and five less points moisture than 48XE. Class of our 200 series.

PARADISE TOBACCO AUCTION IS BACK!

It is a year that we expect an intense demand for all your tobaccos. You farmers are in the drivers seat this year. YOU will be the ones to determine market prices!! How quickly you sell on the farm will determine market price! Paradise will keep you informed of market info each week in this Lancaster Farming space.

People from all parts of the country have been here to inquire about how much tobacco we will have in the market place. We have already sent out a lot of good samples representing a quality crop. We finally have gotten a sound committment from a large tobacco company to follow your auction. Your dream has come true and you will be rewarded for your support of the tobacco auction system. Paradise continues to work to put PA grown tobacco on the map. Remember, Maryland tobacco auction went 5 years before attracting tobacco companies to their market. We have gone through 4 years now, and see light at the end of the tunnel.

The tobacco auction system stands stronger among farmers and buyers than it ever has - NO MATTER WHATEVER ANYBODY TELLS YOU!!

After last year you should respect the auction system and its IMPACT!! You need to have enough confidence in the tobacco auction system to wait until it opens before you sell either type of tobacco!! This could be a year of the greatest demand you have seen for both type 41 and 609 tobacco - and Paradise expects to make a market in both types. Brace yourself hard for buyers coming out early to the farm to buy this crop before auction opens and the big new tobacco company arrives - YOU MAY BE TEMPTED BY BIG PRICES!! Don't forget the auction in a good year - remember when you wanted us in the tough years?

FOCUS ON PARADISE - We have become PA's tobacco marketing center. The auction system can survive - but it soley depends on you, "The Tobacco Farmer" - to support it and make it work!!!

AGAIN - YOU WILL BE TEMPTED BY BIG PRICES BEFORE AUCTION OPENS BUT BE STRONG - AUCTION WILL WORK TO MAKE THEM BIGGER! Remember, we will sell both types of tobacco.

For Sale: 3 Compartment bale boxes with either hydraulic or hand jacks; Cotton baling twine, we can ship UPS.

MILLER PRO MANURE SPREADERS

Extra Heavy Duty Design

When you get a Miller Pro Manure Spreader, you get more than just the basics. You get a piece of equipment which has been designed to outlast and out-perform other spreaders on the market. Compare these Miller Pro features

- Solid polyethylene plastic tongue-in-groove board floor and sides (not just poly liners) eliminate freeze-up and will not rot or decay.
- Unitized frame weldment 3/16" crossmembers and wrap-around steel corners provide extra rigid support.
- Galvanized steel flares and splash guards resist rust and corrosion.
- Durolon bushings last up to 10 times longer than bronze bushings.

Extensive Warranty

- Lifetime warranty on the polyethylene floor and sides.
- Two years on all parts.
- One year on labor.

at $5.76-1/2 after trading in a range from $5.76 to $5.82. Meal closed from 10 higher on the October to 130 lower n the March on selling tied to profit-taking. Subsequent to the close, the USDA announced a sale of 200,000 metric tonnes to the Soviet Union.

ACRES WHEAT UPDATE: Wheat futures prices closed from 1/2 cent lower on the December option to 1-3/4 cents higher on the May today with gains made late in the session on a short covering rally. Trading was light with profit-taking and long liquidation featured. Prices strengthened on news that Egypt had purchased 475,000 metric tonnes of export bonus with gains pared by the absence of further export developments. Additional sales were tied to reports of good planting progress and favorable moisture levels. December settled 1/2 cent lower at $4.09-1/4 after trading in a range from $4.07-1/2 to $4.11.

ACRES CATTLE UPDATE: Live cattle futures settled from unchanged on the April option to 30 lower on the October, with losses on the spot option prompted by continued heavy delivery postings. Further pressure was in response to sluggish retail demand with losses held in check by reports of active fed cattle sales at steady to firm prices along with ideas that packer inventories were dwindling. Feeders settled higher from 10 to 40 points on buying tied to firming cash fundamentals. Talk continues about the unusually large number of deliveries being demanded with concerns surfacing that these cattle are ready to go to the packer with interest in November contracts fading.

NEXT DAY OUTLOOK: CASH PRICES - steady FUTURES - steady to mixed.

ACRES HOG UPDATE: Live hog futures staged a minor reversal today and ended the day from 33 to 63 points lower on selling tied to long liquidation and profit-taking. Further pressure was attributed to heavier than expected movement on Tuesday with losses held in check by reports of strong fresh wholesale pork markets as higher prices were quoted for loins, hams and bellies. Additional support came from reports of higher cash prices. Bellies were also lower on long liquidation and spillover weakness from the live hogs with losses held at a minimum by reports of active frozen belly movement.

Agway has the top fielders in both leagues.

Loyalties run deep. Whether you're talking ball teams or seed corn. That's why we offer you a fielder's choice of the best seed corn brands in both leagues. Nationally ranked DEKALB and AGWAY—the eastern regional favorite.

Together they make a great team. Not only are they backed by the world's largest seed research program, they are the most extensively tested seed corn varieties in the East. Each delivers outstanding performance under the wide variety of soil types and growing conditions characteristic of the eastern region.

For more bushels of grain or tons of silage per acre, see your AGWAY store or DEKALB farmer dealer today With a lineup like ours—five new high performance hybrids for 1990—you could end up in another league altogether!

F.A.R.M. Aims To Pay Off Schuylkill Fairgrounds Mortgage

By VAL VANTASSEL
Berks Co. Correspondent

SUMMIT STATION (Schuylkill Co.) — The Schuylkill County Fair is a little dream that has grown beyond all expectations. What started as a 4-H Fair on the parking lot of Penn State Schuylkill Campus has grown into a week-long event on the 70-acre fairgrounds in Summit Station.

The transformation from a little event on borrowed premises to a major attraction with year-long potential has taken place in just six years. Like a teen-ager sprouting in all directions the Schuylkill Fair is having a few growing pains. They can be summed up in just one word . . . . money.

"In 1984 we opened the fair up. By the next year we realized that we had outgrown the space available and we started looking for a new place to hold the fair. It took us a year and a half, but eventually we had a chance to buy the Happy Holiday Park," explained Tim Allison, a member of the Schuylkill Co. Fair Association.

The 70-acre park came complete with a hefty $200,000 price tag and few facilities, but it did have a feature not easily found in Schuylkill County. "The park is level. It was basically a swimming and picnicking spot with a few miscellaneous camp sites. There was a building that we use for the fair office and shower facilities," Allison explained.

Money from preceding fairs had been used for fair improvements and so there was no money available for purchasing the fairgrounds.

That's when F.A.R.M., the Foundation for Agriculture and Resource Management, was formed. "Nine banks agreed to loan us a total of $190,000 and a fair association member loaned us another $10,000. F.A.R.M. owns the property and the fair association runs the fair. There are 11 members on the F.A.R.M. board, with six being members of the Schuylkill Fair Association," Allison said. Allison is one of the association's representatives on the F.A.R.M. board.

That means F.A.R.M. gets to pay the mortgage. Payments on the 10-year loan run approximately $43,000 a year. Raising that kind of money would be a daunting task for many organizations but the one thing that the fair association and F.A.R.M. aren't short on is enthusiasm.

"We waited to run a major fund raising campaign until we received our 501 C status from the IRS. For the first year the Schuylkill Fair Association carried F.A.R.M.," Allison said. The new status makes contributions tax deductible.

"Now it's time for F.A.R.M. to support itself," Craig Morgan, F.A.R.M. member added.

F.A.R.M. started their campaign in July. They announced that they hoped to raise $250,000 in three years to pay off the mortgage. "Then we can put our monies toward the fair and other activities," Allison said.

F.A.R.M. is asking businesses and individuals for pledges. This includes the approximately 460 members of the Schuylkill Fair Association. "We're asking them to pledge $100 each of the three years. We've been running a telephone campaign and it has been moderately successful. To date we've raised approximately $16,000," Allison said.

Recently the group has been extending their efforts. "I met with the Schuylkill Carbon Farm Association and they volunteered to include a letter from F.A.R.M. to their 700 members. They also are willing to help us find farmers to visit agribusinesses for contributions," Morgan said.

"We need more people, not only to contribute money, but to help run the campaign," Allison added.

FALL FESTIVAL DATES SET

F.A.R.M. in conjunction with the fair association has some other creative avenues for raising funds. "We will be holding our Fall Festival Oct. 14 and 15 at the fairgrounds. It featurers a Belgian horse trolley, a haunted house, a greased pig contest, petting zoo, fishing rodeo and lots of games. A number of craft people demonstrate their arts. Last year we had caning, painting woodworking, quilting, apple butter making, and sausage making," Allison explained.

The group has sold raffle tickets and they hold an auction in the spring.

The most popular event by far is the fair. It's come a long way and the group is proud of its achievements. "The fourth year of the fair we had a Class C rating. Last year we became a Class A fair. We've gone from 5,000 people in attendance to 40,000 people this year," Allison said.

"We even ran out of parking Wednesday and Thursday night," Craig Morgan added.

It isn't big name entertainment that draws big crowds to the fairgrounds. "Ours is basically a family oriented agricultural fair. We just have a lot of family type activities for people to participate in," Allison said.

Among the creative ideas the fair has employed are big wheel races for youngsters, a youth talent show, hay bale tosses and rolling pin tosses, senior and junior Olympics, a volleyball tournament and a tractor driving contest.

That was really popular. We had about 40 participants in different divisions. There were 300 to 400 people watching the contest before we were finished," Morgan said.

"One request we had was for more daytime activities and we will be working on it for next year."

The agricultural exhibits are also a big draw. Over 150 dairy cattle, 160 goats, and 130 breeding sheep were shown at the fair. "Until the fair came along there was no 4-H market sale. This year we had 25 swine, 32 market lambs and 6 beef sold at the fair," Morgan explained.

"The fair has made people aware of the agriculture that is in this country. When most people think of Schuylkill County they think of mining. Agriculture is valuable in this county and ag-business is our number one business," added Allen Borger, F.A.R.M. member.

Part of the secret to the fair's success is its eager membership. "We

Glenna Takes National Guernsey Show

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Fifty of the nation's best breeders and exhibitors had cows entered in the Guernsey Show, held in conjunction with the 26th Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show at the Farm Show Complex. Several of them took home championship banners.

Branstetter Dairy of Edmonton, Kentucky, brought one of the big winners, "Penn Del Vicuvius Glenna." Glenna was the grand champion female of the show, total performance winner, senior champion female and best cow five years and over.

"Land of Living Big T Nectar," was the reserve grand champion female and the best senior female bred and owned by the exhibitor, Land of Living Farm from Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Land of Living Farm was declared the premier exhibitor.

T-P Acres of Otto, New York, exhibited the junior champion female and the best junior female owned and bred by the exhibitor, an intermediate calf named "T-P Acres Happy Birthday Heidi." The reserve junior champion female was "Locust Hill T H Jenny," exhibited by R-Way Farm of Southington, Ohio.

The premier breeder was Holcomb Guernsey Farm of Greene, New York, the premiere sire was "Dutch Mills Telestars Fayette," and the New York State Herd took first place for state or provincial herd.

National Junior Guernsey Show

A junior show was held in conjunction with the national show, with separate classes for boys and girls ages 10-21 who own registered Guernsey females.

Crown Stone Farm, Clear Spring, Maryland, received a trophy and banner for grand champion female, "Crown Stone Jupiter Orchid." The reserve grand champion was "Coffey Farm Fayette Reva," exhibited by Branstetter Dairy of Edmonton, Kentucky. The best animal bred and owned by the exhibitor was "Rocky Maple Fayette Seven," exhibited by Rocky Maple Farm of Smithsburg, Maryland.

The junior champion female of the National Junior Guernsey Show was "Green Slopes Hassles Huckel," exhibited by of Green Slopes Farm, Imler, Bedford County. The reserve junior champion female was "Hi Field Mel Blossom," exhibited by Hi-Field Farm of Derry, Westmoreland County.

Jay Lancaster of Ferndale, Washington, was the official judge. Class sponsors included ALFA Mar View Farm, Blue Mt. View Farm, Dolly Run Farm, Hi-

Maryland Farms Do Well In Ayrshire Show

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Maple Dell Farm of Woodbine, Maryland, had a successful day at the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show. Their entries captured several top honors.

Their champion senior yearling heifer, "Maple Dell Banner Betsy," was declared the junior champion female of the show and the best junior female own and bred by the exhibitor. Maple Dell was named the premier breeder of the show and had the best breeder's herd of the show.

Palmyra Farm of Hagerstown, Maryland, was selected the premier exhibitor of the Ayrshire Show, but failed to exhibit any champions other than the first place intermediate heifer calf and first place senior two-year-old.

The grand champion female of the show was "Brilea Patricia's Image," the best cow with the best udder in the five-and-older class. Jack Miller and Family of Bradner, Ohio, exhibited the reserve grand champion female, "Millers Jerry Tina." Tina was the best cow and had the best udder for four-year-olds.

"Meredith Liberator" will carry on as the premier sire of the show.

Green Slopes Wins Most Good Housekeeping Awards

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — One of the awards made during the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show might go unnoticed, but gets earned for being noticed.

Unannounced inspections are made in the barns of the Farm Show Complex every day by independent judges. Points are awarded to exhibitors for educational decoration and attractiveness, cleanliness and care of exhibit area, condition and presentation of cattle in the barn, and spirit of cooperation with visitors, exhibitors and show management.

Daily winners are selected in each of the six breeds, and the farm with the highest points at the end of the week wins the Good Housekeeping Award, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association.

Green Slopes Farm of Imler, Bedford County, won the award four out of five days in the Guernsey division and received a first place plaque and $50 for their weeklong efforts.

Green Slopes, owned by Galen and Sonja McDonald, certainly was one of the most attractive areas of the complex this week.

Receiving plaques for the week in the other five breeds were: Lylehaven Farm of Montpelier, Vermont, Holstein; Top-O-Hill Farm, Downington, Chester County, Jersey; Toll Gate Ayr Farm of West Alexander, Washington County, Ayrshire; GMC Farm of Tunbridge, Vermont, Milking Shorthorn; Top Acres Farm, St. Paris, Ohio, Brown Swiss.

York Farm Credit Offers Equipment Leasing

YORK (York Co.) — York Farm Credit has expanded its line of services by including equipment and fixtures leasing as an alternative for customers seeking equipment financing. "We are excited about this new service," said Edward N. Heindel, Vice President of York Farm Credit. "Our customers will be able to realize a noticeable improvement in cash flow by leasing new equipment acquisitions," Heindel added, "and do it without disturbing existing loan agreements."

Those who use equipment leasing find that it offers many benefits. It helps the lessee improve cash flow because a lease provides 100% financing. There is no down payment. Rental payments may be made monthly or annually, whichever best fits cash flow patterns. Rates are fixed for the entire lease term, so there is no need to deal with fluctuating interest rates. In addition, lessees may be able to use their full lease payment as a tax deduction.

The leasing program offered by York Farm Credit allows eligible borrowers of the Farm Credit System to work with local dealers in the selection of their equipment. When price and delivery dates are negotiated, the equipment user contacts the Association for lease pricing. The standard leases offered through this program are 60 months in duration. During that time only 90% of the original cost of the equipment is amortized, keeping payments low. At the end of the lease term, the lease may be renewed for an additional term, the equipment may be purchased for the remaining 10%, or the equipment returned with no further obligation.

York Association's leasing program is supported by Farm Credit Leasing Services Corporation (FCL), a Minneapolis based entity of the Farm Credit System. FCL's nearly 20 years of experience exclusively serving the leasing needs of agriculture has thrust FCL into national leadership in agricultural leasing.

In the past few years, FCL has experienced increased business activity with agricultural producers, ranchers and aquatic harvesters, according to Greg Davis, FCL's Eastern District Manager. "The streamlined lease program administered by York Farm Credit generally meets the requirements of the majority of Association customers; however, leases are also available for more complex projects", Davis added.

For more information about this new program contact Edward N. Heindel, Vice President, York Farm Credit at (717) 792-3652, or your local Farm Credit office.

York Farm Credit, ACA presently provides over $108 million in long term and short term loans to 1,900 borrowers in Adams, Cumberland, Franklin, Fulton, Perry and York counties.

York Farm Credit, ACA is affiliated with the Farm Credit Bank of Baltimore, part of the nationwide Farm Credit System, the nation's leading agricultural lending institution.

p.m. my younger son Chris heard the staves breaking. We had time to move the blower and a wagon before the silo went over," Elmer Eyrich explained. "We moved the family way back in case it exploded. Then we watched it go. Chris even got pictures of it," he added.

The Fickes silo, erected in 1976, was about 55 feet full of corn silage. "It had about 4 feet in it from last year. We've been filling for about two weeks and we had about 45 acres of corn silage in it. Normally if that silo has 70 feet in it, that's enough for the year, Eyrich said.

No one is sure what caused the accident. "Some of the lower staves were showing signs of deterioration from the acid, so we had them checked two years ago by a reputable dealer but they weren't overly concerned about it at that time," Eyrich stated.

At this point the Eyrich family is working to salvage as much as they can from their loss. The silo, complete with unloader, fell into a harvested corn field. Mangled steel hopps were strewn in the area amid spilled sillage. Concrete, in every size from slabs to bits, was scattered in the wreckage. "I'm grateful that it fell this way. Our feed room is right next to it, and it could have gone that way," added Eyrich.

By 4:30 that afternoon the family was contemplating what to do with the mess. Chris and his older brother Ty had the tractor and front-end loader out hauling away some of the larger metal hoops and the top of the silo. The bottom of the silo was still intact even though it was laying on its side, silage packed within the concrete and metal hoops measured more than four times the height of a grown man. "A new silo isn't in the financial picture. We hope to cover it with black plastic. Then we'll load it in the chuck wagon and feed it that way. I'm not sure just yet how we'll get all the concrete out of it but I know it will take a lot of work," Eyrich said.

Eyrich's wife, Cheryl, summed up the situation neatly. "Elmer says he's not happy that it happened, but he is going to try not to lose a lot of sleep over it."

According to Penn State ag engineering professor Harvey Manbeck, who has a strong interest in ag structures, there are a number of reasons that silos can fall down. Many of them are related to the silo's construction and design. "Silos can fall for several reasons. Sometimes they are blown over in extreme weather. In the Berks County area, silos should be constructed to withstand 70- to 80-mph winds even when they are empty. A full silo can withstand more wind because of its increased mass," he said.

"Another problem is the disintegration of hoops. Also, some silos used for high-moisture materials may have an insufficient number of restraining hoops," Manbeck explained.

"Seepage creates problems as well. If the inside of the silo wall is not impervious to silage juices, the seepage can deteriorate a concrete stave. I know many farmers will disagree with me, but these silos shouldn't seep. Sometimes poor - quality concrete or a cracked liner can cause problems.

"Farmers should be sure they have an adequate foundation to put their silo on. Silos have lots of mass and no matter how you try, you can't fill them perfectly evenly. Pick a well-drained site for your silo. If it has to be on a wet site your requirements for your foundation are much more stringent. Take special care in these situations."

Manbeck urged farmers to use good practices with their silos. "Always try to fill from as near the center as possible. Watch out for even distribution of the load."

Farmers also should frequently inspect their silo including the concrete, the liner and the steel reinforcements. Normally a farmer can do his own visual inspection, but if the silo is five or 10 years old, and the farmer has doubts a professional should be called.

"If you change the material you are putting in your silo, check the specifications to see if it can carry the load. If it was designed for grass silage or haylage, it may not be able to handle shelled corn," said Manbeck. Finally put your material in at a moisture content so that seepage doesn't occur. I know many farmers won't agree but silos aren't designed to seep."

Manbeck stressed that silo collapses have to be kept in perspective. "For the number of silos we have out there, there are very few failures."

A real fish story. But no tall tale.

Here's a fish story that's based on facts and solid research from Purina*. Purina's advanced technology has produced new pig starters with fishmeal which provide dramatically enhanced nutritional value and pig perfromance. This new feeding program produces an 8% increase in average daily gain and a 2.1 lb. increase in weight out of the nursery in comparison to our current line. And that's the best there is!

Feeding trial results show extra margin over feed cost on every pig. Now that's a fish story that's no tall tale — but we do expect some mighty tall orders.

Who'd want to feed anything less? Call or drop by for details.

and director of operations, listed specific goals for the joint communication effort to include: (1) the desire to better convey DHIA's purpose to become a farm management systems provider;

(2) to reach non-member dairymen about DHIA service;

(3) to help improve the management skills of producers;

(4) to emphasize quality milk production rather than only recoginzing high production records;

(5) and to develop a working relationship that will be beneficial to both parties, to the dairy industry in general and to members of DHIA in particular.

Pennsylvania DHIA has nearly 6,000 herds with 339,000 cows on test. Lancaster Farming publishes between 25 to 30 tons of newsprint each week that goes to 47,800 subscribers.

The target date to begin a weekly column under a logo developed jointly by the parties is set for November, 1989.

Bob Ormsby Joins Staff

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — Pennsylvania DHIA welcomes aboard Bob Ormsby as Training Coordinator. Bob's formal training for the position includes a B.S.E. degree in Secondary Ed. English from Mansfield University, nine graduate credits in teacher effectiveness from Wilkes College, and five years experience as a public school teacher. His practical training for the position involves a lifetime of agricultural related activities. The most recent of these is serving as a supervisor and manager for Bradford County DHIA. His responsibilities included hiring and field training new supervisors and monitoring their performance.

As Training Coordinator, Bob will work closely with Herman Espy, Director of Field Services in developing and revising curricula and support materials for all formal training for DHIA Assistant Supervisors, Supervisors, Senior Supervisors, and Region Managers. He will schedule and develop member education programs for new services and products and assist in developing promotional plans and materials. As a member of the Cooperative Communicators Association of North America, Bob will edit and produce all PA DHIA publications, including the newsletters, press releases and annual report.

Bob has been an Eastern A.I. technician, a full-time dairyman, a relief milker and agricultural salesman. His teaching experiences include Athens, Upper Dauphin, Southern Tioga and Troy area public schools. Bob received "Outstanding Service to the University" award and an academic achievement award at Mansfield University. He is a 25-year member of the Grange, active in church work, and received the "Rookie of the Year" award from PA DHIA for his work in Bradford County.

Bob and his wife, Carol, have two children. Paul is serving in the United States Navy, stationed at Bethesda, MD, and Susan is a freshman at New Covenant Academy in Mansfield, PA where they now reside. Bob and Carol are natives of Allegany County, New York. Their interests include church and family activities. They are now planning to relocate in the State College area.

Herd Health Management Can Optimize Herd Response To BST

GAINESVILLE, FL — The ability of bovine somatotropin (BST) to enhance milk production in dairy cattle has been known for more than 50 years. However, until recently, opportunities to apply this knowledge on a broad scale did not exist. Today, advances in biotechnology have made possible the production of this protein hormone in quantities sufficient to serve the needs of commercial agriculture. However, before that can occur, the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) requires data confirming efficacy and safety in animals that will receive the product, safety to humans consuming products derived from BST treated animals, and environmental safety.

One purpose of this fact sheet is to review existing data on the health of BST-treated dairy cows. Other topics on the use of BST in dairy cattle are covered in separate fact sheets included in this series. A second purpose is to outline herd health management practices that will maximize profit and will help to ensure optimal responses to BST and other new technologies when they become available.

Milk Production In BST Treated Cows

Research data collected from several single-lactation trials and one two-lactation study have demonstrated increases in milk yield ranging from 10 to 40 percent. Increases were observed at all stages of lactation; however, the magnitude of the response was greatest when BST treatment was initiated after peak lactation. The studies indicate that cows treated with BST are able to increase peak milk yields and sustain them for longer periods of time. In addition to the increase and extension of peak milk yields, continued BST treatment slows the rate of decline in daily production as the lactation proceeds. In other words, lactation persistency is increased.

Health Effects In BST Treated Cows

There are very few published reports on the impact of BST on animal health. Some have suggested that BST treatment would increase the incidence of metabolic diseases such as ketosis and milk fever. However, single lactation studies conducted at Cornell and Pennsylvania demonstrated no adverse effects on the health of BST treated cows. Udder health, and the incidence of ketosis, displaced abomasums, milk fever, and feet and leg problems were unaffected by BST treatment in these studies. To date, there is little indication of changes in blood chemistry in treated cows.

Disease, whether clinical or subclinical, would be expected to reduce milk production as well as productive efficiency. Since the overwhelming majority of studies have shown marked responses to BST one might conclude that health effects are likely minimal. Yet, some question remains as to possible health effects that could only be detected in very large numbers of animals over an extended period of time and under a variety of management conditions.

Most notable in this regard are studies suggesting a negative impact on reproductive performance in cows receiving the highest experimental dose of BST (50 milligrams per day) in early lactation. Researchers reported reduced conception rates, fewer established pregnancies, higher embryo loss and extended days open for animals receiving this high dose. Cows receiving lower doses apparently were not affected in this way. Additional experiments will be required to confirm these findings.

Reasons for the reduction in reproductive performance observed in cows receiving high doses of BST are not clear. However, research has shown that genetically superior, high producing cows experience increases of .3 days open and .005 services for each 100 pounds increase in milk production. It has been suggested that the poorer reproductive response in high producing cows may be related to an amplification or extension of negative energy balance. It is generally agreed that conditions which would enhance negative energy balance could adversely affect the cow's normal ability to conceive and maintain pregnancy or both.

More information on possible health effects is needed. Large field trials are currently being conducted for this purpose. At the present time, however, research suggests that the effect of BST treatment on health is minimal and primarily associated with reproduction in cows treated with high doses of BST in early lactation.

Preparing To Make The Best Of BST And New Technology

In light of tremendous expansion in new technology and knowledge it has become more challenging than ever to remain properly informed. Readers are encouraged to stay up-to-date with the latest information on BST and other technologies presently under development. Attend Extension seminars or other meetings where such topics are being discussed and ask questions. Make it a point to be informed.

Avoid the use of a product or procedure until you have conclusive evidence of its safety and effectiveness. Before making a final decision discuss your thoughts with respected colleagues, your veterinarian, county extension agent, or other individuals who are likely to have knowledge of or experience with the product or practice you are considering. Lastly, critically evaluate yourself and your operation. Be sure that you are presently implementing sound production, health and management practices.

BST is not a magic formula. While it has produced a marked response in the majority of herds in which it has been studied, it has not yielded a positive production response in every herd. A point often overlooked but critically important is that only healthy herds that are properly fed, well-managed and comfortably housed will be able to obtain the maximum benefit from BST. No amount of BST can compensate for the herd suffering a high incidence of metabolic or infectious disease, as a result of deficiencies associated with nutrition, feeding, management or housing.

Herd Health Programs To Optimize Production

To prepare for eventual BST use, a herd owner should institute herd health programs to optimize production using today's technology and management practices.

1. Establish a herd health program with a veterinarian. Consult with him/her on treatment and other health management procedures. Use the guidance of the veterinarian to design a vaccination program which will best address the specific needs of your operation.

2. Establish a reproductive program with a veterinarian and seek his/her advice on matters pertaining to reproductive health care. The reproductive health of all cows should be monitored following calving, but particularly so when they have experienced calving difficulties, milk fever, retained placenta, or other abnormal conditions associated with parturition. Reproductive examinations should begin at about 3 to 4 weeks following calving for cows which calve normally. Cows that have or develop complications should be examined earlier. Prompt diagnosis and treatment of reproductive disease in the early post-calving period promotes a quicker return to maximum milk production and significantly improves the chances for conception to occur within the desired period following calving.

3. Minimize udder health and milk quality problems by milking clean, dry udders with properly functioning equipment. Have the milking machine and its components evaluated at least twice a year (once a month or more in large herds). Be sure to apply an effective post milking teat dip at the end of each milking and dry treat all quarters of all cows at dry off.

4. Monitor production on individual cows as well as the herd and record the incidence of both metabolic and infectious diseases. Consult your nutritionist and veterinarian whenever there appear to be problems of low production or high incidence of health related problems. Be sure heifers and cows are reaching production peaks that are reasonable and acceptable. Use this information and body condition scores taken at drying off, calving, and at peak production during the lactation to determine if the feeding program is achieving its intended goals.

5. Manage and house cows to make them as comfortable as possible. Concrete floors should be grooved for good footing. Stalls should be of adequate size and well bedded. All cows, milking and dry, need adequate shelter from harsh cold weather in warmer climates, shade structures, overhead sprayers, fans and other cooling strategies should be employed to reduce heat and environmental stress.

6. Do not overlook the dairy heifer replacement program. Be certain that heifers are growing at an acceptable rate. Monitor growth by weighing or taping heifers every 3 to 6 months. By monitoring growth rates one can determine if feeding, parasite control, and other disease prevention strategies are accomplishing their objectives. This information also can form the basis for early culling decisions on heifers unlikely to make profitable herd replacements.

In summary, herd health management is centered on disease control through proper feeding and management, sanitation, vaccination, and routine veterinary health care. Dairy producers who have or will adopt established health management practices will profit most from BST and the other technologies to follow.

Dairy Replacements

Every herd needs replacements. The question is, should you buy your replacements or should you raise your own. Buying replacements has some advantages as well as some disadvantages.

You can probably buy replacements cheaper than you can raise them, unless you have a high-producing herd and are looking for heifers of equal or superior quality. They can be a source of superior genetic material for upgrading your herd if you know their breeding and if you choose them wisely. You can also purchase replacements that will calve when you have the greatest need for more milk.

Not raising heifers and buying replacements as you need them frees up more of your land and barn space for housing and feeding milking cows, which give a greater and quicker return on the dollar; money spent on calves and heifers gives no return until 1-2 years later.

However, when you buy replacements you increase the risk of exposing your herd to new diseases. If this does happen, it could erase all the benefits discussed above.

Some of these risks could be reduced if you can find someone to raise your heifers for you, preferably without them being mixed with cattle from other farms. You also have more opportunity to select which service sires are to be used.

Raising Growthy Heifers

If you do decide to raise your own heifers be determined to do a good job. Keep only those heifers of good breeding, the ones that have the best potential for continued improvement of the herd.

Be sure you have adequate housing and feeding space for them; otherwise, downsize your heifer herd to fit your facilities and do the best job with the few that you do raise.

A stunted heifer, grown in overcrowded, inadequate facilities can be very costly; you'll pay this cost the rest of her life in the form of reduced milk production and higher culling rates. It's a cost you may not see, but it is very real.

As you design, or evaluate, your heifer management program, set some goals for yourself. Examples are: Calf mortality less than 5 percent; heifer culling from weaning to freshening lass than 5 percent; heifers ready to breed at 13-15 months at 750-800 pounds and ready to freshen at 22-24 months and weighing 1200 pounds; first service conception rate to A.I. bulls over 60 percent, first lactation milk projections nearly equal to herd average, etc. If some of these goals are too high for you, set goals that are more realistic and applicable to your situation.

Heifers should freshen with good size, in good enough flesh, and with healthy appetites so they'll calve with ease, be ready to start a productive lactation and dry off in good enough flesh to be ready to start their second lactation with a running start. Unlike our heifers of yesteryear, today's productive heifers have to be well grown by the time they freshen; the nutrient demands for high levels of production are so great that very few nutrients are left over for growing out undersized heifers during the first lactation.

Healthy Calves

A healthy calf starts with a good dry cow program and a healthy dam.

To reduce infections at calving time — diarrhea and navel illness of the calf plus udder and uterine infection of the dam — provide the dam with a clean, dry sanitary, well-ventilated maternity area. A well-sodded pasture lot is still one of the best places. During inclement weather, indoor pens are necessary. Not using pens during good weather allows them to be cleaned, sanitized and idled for long periods of time, thus helping to break up disease cycles.

Separate the calf from the dam as soon as it is born, even before it has a chance to nurse, and put it in an individual pen. This will help prevent the calf from ingesting manure, which is very important if you are trying to prevent the calf from acquiring Johne's disease. Also clip the navel and dip it in a disinfectant. The calf pen should be clean, dry, well bedded, draft free, well ventilated, and away from older animals. The aim is to protect the calf from inhaling germ-laden air and from having nose to nose contact with other cattle. Remember, fresh air is more important than warm air.

Give the calf about 3 quarts of colostrum milk, preferably within 30 minutes of birth, and a total of 6 quarts within 24 hours of birth. The aim is to have colostrum be the first thing that a calf ingests. This is very important since the calf has no antibodies to fight off infection when it is born; it is almost solely dependent upon colostrum. The absorption rate of immunoglobulins from colostrum, through the intestine and into the bloodstream is very high during the first 30 minutes after birth; very little absorption occurs after 24 hours.

The quality of colostrum is also important, and will vary from cow to cow. Colostrum from heifers and from cows that have been milked before freshening often is of lower quality. For this reason, it is desirable to have a supply of frozen, good quality colostrum in reserve. The quality of colostrum can be measured easily by a colostrometer.

The most stressful time for a calf is about 3 days of age. The above practices will help calves get through this crucial period. You may also want to discuss with your veterinarian the need for special shots such as: selenium, vitamins, scours, respiratory, etc. Your veterinarian can also advise you on a vaccination program for your herd.

Scours can be infectious and nutritional. Infectious scours can be prevented by good sanitation and by immunization efforts, such as those discussed above. Keep nipples, buckets, and mangers clean, and keep feed and water fresh.

To prevent nutritional scours, limit milk intake to about 8-10 percent of body weight. If milk replacers are used, choose good quality replacers that are easily digested by calves; they generally contain more dairy products and fewer plant products.

Coccidiosis

Coccidiosis can also cause scours in calves, but the damage to calves starts about 3 weeks before you see the scours. By the time you see the scours or count the oocysts in the manure much damage has already been done. Prevention needs to start soon after birth; one method is to feed calf starters which contain a coccidio-

FARM MANAGEMENT

EMPLOYEE SUPERVISION

By Bruce Kreider
Farm Management Agent

Every farm manager who wants a productive work force must learn the art and diplomacy of worker supervision. This column will look at the qualities needed for this task, and some of the practical keys to good supervision and evaluation of workers.

Qualities of Supervisors

A survey of farm employees, as reported in Cornell University's Human Resource Management letter #4, reported that workers expect the following qualities from their supervisor:

-Knows the employee's job
-Understands the worker's perspective
-Is fair - no favorites
-Is patient, sincere, firm, considerate and tactful.

James Tappan, an Arizona dairyman, spoke about authority in a presentation at Cornell's Large Dairy Herd Management Conference in 1985. He pointed out that a supervisor's effectiveness is based on the following components of supervisory authority:

-Authority of Competence (they know the job and the worker)
-Authority Of Position (a clear chain of command and delegation)
-Authority Of Personality (will listen and communicate well)
-Authority Of Character (are fair, patient, etc.)

The supervisor with these qualities develops rapport with the workers as they learn to trust and respect the "boss". This all sounds great in theory, but what are some practical ways of developing supervisory rapport?

Keys To Supervision

Let's look at the two basic questions that every worker needs to answer. What is my job? How am I doing? Obtaining these answers is the major task of the worker's supervisor, whether there are 2 or 200 employees. It can be a difficult or embarassing job and many of us try to avoid it at all costs. However, it is an important job that must be done regularly to help workers to be productive.

1.The employer must clearly define the job. This should be written as a job description - truly a rare item among farm employers. This job description should specify tasks, hours, performance standards and who the employee must answer to.

In many cases, the employer is either not sure of the specific tasks to be done, or is unwilling to tell the employee all of the jobs which will be assigned to him. In other cases, the employee must answer to two or three bosses - an impossible position.

2.The employer must communicate the job description clearly to the employee. It is not enough to have a good job description. Both parties must understand it, agree to it and follow it.

3. The supervisor must provide guidance and training initially, and establish the lines of communication. If a worker can talk with his/her boss, and the boss listens, the worker will have a more positive attitude. Many employers will need to set up a regular schedule to ensure that this communication does take place. Otherwise, the only time these discussions occur is in a hostile setting when there is a greivance.

4. Good work deserves approval and praise - poor work requires constructive criticism. The goals and standards from the job description create the basis on which to judge work performance. Try to catch them doing something good! The training, guidance and communications should iron out the minor misunderstandings, leaving only larger problems for disciplinary action.

5. A good supervisor provides opportunities for employees to increase their responsibilities as worker skills improve. If this involves more training, for the benefit of the business, the supervisor should encourage and support the effort.

6.Increased employee responsibilities require that increased authority and increased rewards and incentives be offered to the worker. A supervisor has a difficult job that involves the use of many interpersonal skills. It takes planning and intentional effort to successfully supervise employees. However, the rewards of a good supervisor are great, both professionally and in their personal relationships. After all, the skills of a good supervisor are also the skills of a good parent and teacher.

Granger Lanius Nominated For PMMB

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — Donald E. Lanius, a member of Red Lion Grange #1781, York County, appeared before the Senate Agriculture Committee on Wednesday, September 27, 1989 to voice testimony for his nomination to serve on the Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board, (PMMB).

Lanius has been nominated to serve as a member of the PMMB for a term of six years. He served previously on PMMB from November 10, 1976 to November 17, 1982. Lanius has been a dairy farmer his entire life. He and his wife operate a 193-acre farm in Windsor Township, York County. "As a result of my previous opportunities, I bring to this position 6 years of service to the Commonwealth," he said.

A few of his honors include: Past president of the Pennsylvania State Association of County Fairs, past chairman of the Federation of Fairs, past president of the Pennsylvania Poland China Swine Association and a charter member of the York Township Lions Club.

"I seek this PMMB position because I feel I can bring experience, a strong desire to serve and a life-long commitment to agriculture and the dairy industry," said Lanius.

The Pennsylvania State Grange is a family farm organization representing 42,000 farm and rural Pennsylvanians.

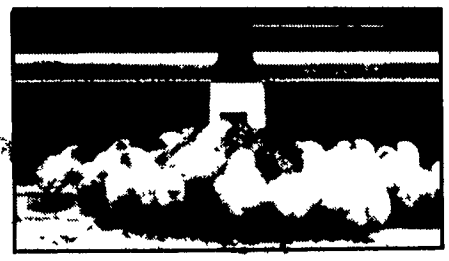
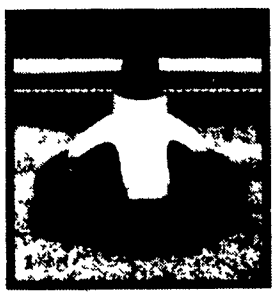
INTRODUCING CHORE-TIME®'s NEW H2 FEEDER

A New Way To Feed Broilers And Turkey Poults



H2 Broiler Feeder With Flood Gates Open, Fills Pan With Overflow Onto The Paper For Quick Starts With Minimum Waste.



H2 Turkey Poult Feeder Has Feed Chutes To Fill Pan Without Any Spillage Onto Shavings.

Pan Hangs On Cone For Easy Cleaning.

- OUR 10-YEAR WARRANTY on the auger and 5-year warranty on the pan says it all - WE STAND BEHIND IT!
- ALL-PLASTIC FEEDER consists of 3 simple, rugged polypropylene parts for permanent corrosion-proofing. Pan easily removes for clean-out and hangs from feeder for drying and storage.

FEED WINDOW (when Feed Gate is open) automatically floods pan with feed to attract chicks from day one. Saves labor — no more hauling and scooping feed into feeder pans!
ROLL-FORMED TUBE is galvanized inside and out for rust-resistance.
LARGE DOME discourages growing birds from getting into pan.
MINIMAL FEED STORAGE within dome means fresh feed quickly to all birds.
SELF-LEVELING PAN — a patented Chore-Time feature — cuts feed waste and bird bruising since pans can swing.
EASY-TO-ADJUST FEED LEVEL lets you set feed opening to allow for different types of feed you might decide to use.
UNIQUE PAN SHAPE and low pan height is ideal for chicks, with no grill to obstruct eating. Pan has 13-inch diameter.
BUILT-IN HIGH CONE evenly distributes feed in pan, prevents stale feed buildup in feed level tube.
DOUBLE FEED-SAVER LIP on pan limits raking and billing and helps you save every bit of precious feed.

champion's owners are Greg Wilcom, Charles Burrier and Michael Pue III. This tall, beautifully bodied cow with an outstanding mammary system produced 33,335 pounds of milk, with a 4.7 percent butterfat test, and 1,547 pounds of butterfat for her 5-year lactation.

Excitement and anticipation filled the large arena as the lights were turned low and a solitary spotlight encircled the grand champions of every breed as each made its way to the center of the show ring while the Master of Ceremonies read the champion's list of accomplishments.

The best of each breed was exemplified and the grand champions deserved to reign supreme. All were excellent, high-producing cows reaffirming the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show continues to be the premier dairy show in the eastern United States.

Penn Del Vicuvius Glenna, the Guernsey grand champion female, was named the first runner-up for supreme champion. Glenna, now owned by Fowler Branstetter of Branstetter Dairy of Edmonton, Kentucky, was bred by Penn-Del Farm of Willow Street in Lancaster County, Pa. She has been undefeated in her class throughout her lifetime with a previous grand championship at the All-American, the North American International and the Madison Dairy Show.

Exhibitors in Jersey, Milking Shorthorn, Guernsey, Holstein, Brown Swiss, and Ayrshire in both open and junior shows received more than $87,000 in premiums during the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show.

HOLSTEIN

The Pennsylvania All-American is billed as the premier show of dairy cattle east of the Mississippi and the list of award winners substantiates that claim. The 152 exhibitors came from California to Canada and many points in between bringing with them the finest dairy cattle on the North American continent.

Holstein reserve grand champion, a 6-year-old, was C Renvale Prestar Della owned by Lylehaven Farm in Montpelier, Vermont. Best senior female bred and owned by an exhibitor was Lantland Warden Linda ET. Lantland Farm of Horseheads, New York, was the exhibitor. The best bred and owned junior female bred by an exhibitor was Cowenhurst Starbuck Suzie-ET owned by Cowenhurst of Bainbridge, New York.

Cowenhurst Starbuck Suzie-ET, exhibited by Frank Cowen of Bainbridge, New York, was named best bred and owned junior animal of the 1989 Eastern National Holstein Show. Anne Marie Mitchell, PA State Dairy Princess, made the presentation.

Maryland exhibitors joined together to capture the First State Herd banner of the Eastern National Holstein Show held in Harrisburg last week as part of the 26th Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show.

Richard Shade Named Dairyman Of The Year

MADISON, WI — A Rockton, Illinois man instrumental in the development of a voluntary supply-management plan under Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng is World Dairy Expo's Dairyman of the Year. Shade and three other Expo honorees will be recognized at the World Dairy Expo Recognition Banquet at 6 p.m. Tuesday, October 3 at the Sheraton Inn and Conference Center.

Shade, 79, has been a leader in a number of dairy organizations. He was a director of Mid-West Dairymen's Company for 39 years and served as its president from 1957 to 1979. He is former president of Illinois Milk Producers and served as a director for the Illinois American Dairy Association.

He was instrumental in the formation of Lakeshore Federated Dairy Cooperative, serving as a director for 17 years and treasurer for 15 years. Lakeshore Federated Dairy Cooperative is comprised of Manitowoc Milk Producers Cooperative, Milwaukee Cooperative Milk Producers and Mid-West Dairymen's Company. Shade also was director of Central Milk Producers Cooperative for 11 years.

For 18 years, Shade was an active director of National Milk Producers Federation, serving on many of its committees. He retired from the board last year and was recognized at the organization's annual meeting as a Honorary Director for Life.

Noted for his ability to hammer out farm policy solutions, Shade was appointed by Democratic Agriculture Secretary, Orville Freeman, to serve on the National Dairy Advisory Board, and, in 1986, was appointed by Republic Agriculture Secretary, Richard Lyng, to serve on the National Dairy Commission. Although the supply-management program he was instrumental in developing was not adopted by the National Dairy Commission, dairy leaders maintain it is a program that could be adopted in the future to help maintain a balance between supply and demand.

Shade was born and raised on an Illinois farm near Champaign. As a youth, he worked with his father on the family's dairy farm and bottling plant, Shadeland Dairy. The processing plant was merged with Beatrice Foods in the 1940s. Shade graduated from the University of Illinois and, following one semester of graduate studies, began working as the Winnebago County (IL) Extension 4-H agent, a position he held from 1934 to 1936. He then worked for Farmers Home Administration from 1936 to 1940 and for Federal Land Bank from 1940 to 1945.

In 1945, Shade started farming on a dairy and hog farm near Rockton. Presently, he is in partnership with his son, Steve, milking 65 Holsteins and operating a feeder steer enterprise. They farm 900 acres of land, most of which is in corn and soybeans.

With his background with farm lending institutions, Shade has been a valuable advisor to groups in financial matters. He is a trustee of the Rockton Methodist Church and, as former chairman of the building committee, spearheaded construction of an educational center for the church.

He was a charter member of Rockton's Macktown State Bank in 1958. He served as the bank's first president, a position he continued through 1966. He served as vice president from 1972 to 1975 and was appointed president for a second time from 1976 to 1988. He then was appointed chairman of the bank board in 1989. During his tenure with the bank, it has grown from $1 million in assets to $35 million.

Shade and his wife, Lois, have three children, Julie, 49; Steve, 47; and Nancy, 43.

Time Fall Alfalfa Cuttings

NEWARK, DE — "Alfalfa plants probably suffer more from mismanagement in early fall than at any other time of year," says Kent County Extension agent Rich Barczewski. "Careful management is the key in preparing alfalfa stands for the winter. If cut just before a killing frost, plants may not survive the winter."

According to Barczewski, the carbohydrates stored in alfalfa roots and crowns during September and October must be at a high level for successful overwintering. Plants should have at least 10 inches of top growth to promote maximum carbohydrate storage. They will use as much as half of this stored food during dormancy.

To make sure plants have time to produce a high level of carbohydrate reserves, the county agent advises farmers not to cut or graze alfalfa for four to six weeks before the first killing frost. While that date varies by a few days from county to county, it averages around October 17 in Delaware.

Harvesting after the first killing frost affects alfalfa less than cutting before frost, Barczewski says. However, if a cutting is taken after frost, he suggests leaving a 6-inch stubble to catch and hold snow and to protect crowns and roots from winter winds.

"You can't develop a sound cutting management program without taking into account the fertility status of the soil," adds Barczewski. "High soil fertility is necessary to maintain alfalfa stands under intensive cutting frequencies of 30 to 35 days."

Pennsylvania Named First State Herd

Waverly Farm Dominates Mid-Atlantic Jersey Show

BY PAT PURCELL

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — "Tall, stylish, put together end-to-end most correctly, an easy winner, a beautifully bodied cow . . ." said the show judge of the Mid-Atlantic Regional Jersey Show held in Harrisburg in conjunction with the Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show last week.

Judge James P. Shaw of Mercer, Pennsylvania, found no faults with the best-uddered cow in an outstanding class of 3-year-olds and returned to the class for his grand champion and reserve grand champion.

Glenyle S J Hetty from Spring Valley Farm of Westminster, Md., captured the championship by edging by several tremendous dairy cows exhibited at this show which brought more than 35 Jersey breeders together from the East Coast. Spring Valley Farm is owned by Wayne R. Stiles.

The reserve grand champion of the show went to another well-known Jersey breeder from south of the Mason-Dixon Line, the Stiles of Waverly Farm. Waverly Jerseys of Clearbrook, Va. clearly dominated the show. They captured the reserve grand title with JRS Volunteer Britani, the second-placed 3-year-old, (the grand champion was in first place) and second best-udder in the class. Owner on the reserve grand was Randall Stiles and Waverly Farms.

This honor was one of many for the Waverly Farm Jerseys on their way to earning both the premier breeder and premier exhibitor awards from the 26th Pennsylvania All-American Dairy Show.

WF Saint Lyric, a senior yearling, owned by Ginger Doody and Waverly Farms took the junior championship title in the show and was also named best bred and owned junior animal. Reserve junior champion went to the second-placed senior yearling heifer owned by Kris Stiles of Damascus, Md.. The champion was Heaths Grand Slam Sabrina.

Pennsylvania Jersey exhibitors captured the Jersey First State Herd Banner. Pennsylvania breeders who placed first in their class were: Hillacres Jerseys of Peach Bottom, junior calf; Four Spring Jerseys, Centre Hall, senior yearling in milk; best udder went to Clearview Farm of Toughkenamon; Top 'O Hill, Downingtown, get-of-sire; Jennifer Lamborn, Landenburg, dam and daughter.

Lancaster Farmers' Association

tor, explained the current farmland program that was passed under Act 149 in 1988. He said that Act 149 so far allowed 74,000 acres owned by 11,000 landowners to be placed in ag security areas.

Donald Ranck, a Paradise farmer and farmers association director, countered that the current plan favors a small number of farmers rather than allowing every farmer to benefit from the program.

He said the farmland referendum that voters passed two years ago, is underfunded and calculates that at $1,000 per acre less than one percent of the current farmland could be preserved. Rather than watch the program fail, Ranck rallied farmers to adopt a resolution that Act 149 be changed to allow counties to provide property tax credit, financed by the bond issue.

Landowers by accepting the tax credit would prevent non-agricultural development on enrolled land for a period of five years. Each year, the land owner took the tax credit would automatically extend the agreement and keep the land from development. If the landowner chooses to pay full property taxes by refusing the tax credit, it would allow exit from the program after five years.

Ranck stressed that his proposal would allow farm land to be preserved with a tax credit, and at the same time, landowners could have the option to be in or out of the land preservation program. Planning would then revolve around wishes of the land owner rather than township supervisors.

Daniel's said that the Ag Preserve Board doesn't have a ruling on Ranck's proposal, but they prefer a long term rather than short term preservation.

Ranck countered that his plan would have a long term effect while allowing farmers the option to control their land.

After discussion, members of the association voted in favor of Ranck's proposal.

Local delegates will take the recommendation to the state association assembly held November 13 through 15. If the state association agrees, it will endorse legislation to change Act 149.

The association voted to add the mile a minute weed to the list of noxious weeds in Pennsylvania. The prickly vine, also known as tearthumb, destroys new tree plantings and even displaces Japanese honeysuckle in a single season. The troublesome weed must be controlled by landowners to prevent legal action.

A proposal to ban the general use of BST, a growth hormone occuring naturally in dairy cattle, was rejected by the association.

The association will recommend at the annual state convention that nutrient management legislation be handled by the Department of Agriculture rather than the Department of Environmental Resources.

The following directors were chosen: Jane Balmer, district 1; Bob Fox, district 4; Don Ranck, district 6; Delmar Weaver, district 7; Raymond Hess, district 9; and Glenn Aument, district 13.

Free association memberships were presented to winners of the contest sponsored by the association's newsletter committee. Dennis and Karen Lehman, Penryn, were named winners of the photo contest. Their farm will be pictured in back of the association's logo. Marlin and Phylis Moyer, Manheim, won the slogan contest with their entry: "Lancaster County Farmers Growing With Pride."

At the Lancaster County Farmers Association banquet, Donald L. Ranck, a Paradise farmer and a director of the association, and Thomas Daniels, Lancaster County Ag Preserve board director, voiced the pros and cons of the ag preservation program. Members then voted to support Ranck's proposal that Act 149 be amended.

USDA Recommends Amendments To Milk Order

WASHINGTON, DC — The U.S. Department of Agriculture has recommended several amendments to the New York-New Jersey federal milk marketing order.

Recommended changes include shortening by five days the period in which milk handlers must make final payments to dairy farmers, and correspondingly shortening some other payment and reporting dates.

Daniel D. Haley, administrator of USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, said the changes would bring the order into conformity with new New York State law. The law becomes effective Jan. 1, 1990.

Haley said making payment dates agree with that law was one of many issues raised at an extended public hearing in June 27, July 21, and November 14-16, which was convened to consider proposed amendments to the New York-New Jersey, New England, and Middle Atlantic federal milk marketing orders. USDA will respond to the other issues raised at the hearings after it has completed reviewing them, he said.

The recommendations shortening the payment period will appear as a proposed rule in the Sept. 26 Federal Register. Copies are available from Norman K. Garber, acting market administrator, 708 Third Avenue, N.Y., N.Y. 10017-4101, telephone (212) 309-1600, or from the Dairy Division, AMS, USDA, Rm. 2968-S, P.O. Box 96456, Washington, D.C. 20090-6456.

Comments or exceptions to the recommendation, in six copies and postmarked no later than Oct. 17 should be sent to the Hearing Clerk, Rm. 1083-S, Washington, D.C. 20250, where they will be available for public inspection.

Rules For Junior All-Pennsylvania Awards

The Junior All-Pennsylvania Awards will be made in 1989 under the following rules:

Classes Recognized - Junior Heifer Calf - Born March 1, 1989 - April 30, 1989; Intermediate Heifer Calf - Born December 1, 1988 - February 29, 1989; Senior Heifer Calf - Born September 1, 1988 - November 30, 1988; Summer Yearling Heifer - Born June 1, 1988 - August 31, 1988; Junior Yearling Heifer - Born March 1, 1988 - May 31, 1988; Intermediate Yearling Heifer - born December 1, 1987 - February 28, 1988; Senior Yearling Heifer - Born September 1, 1987 - November 30, 1987; Junior 2-Year-Old - Born March 1, 1987 - August 31, 1987; Senior 2-Year-Old - Born September 1, 1986 - February 28, 1987; Three-Year-Old - Born September 1, 1985 - August 31, 1986; Four-Year-Old - Born September 1, 1984 - August 31, 1985; Five-Year-Old - Born September 1, 1983 - August 31, 1984; 100,000 lb. Cow - Cow any age that has shown in the 100,000 lb. class. An animal can be entered in either individual age class or the 100,000 lb. class. NOT BOTH. Aged Cow - Born prior to September 1, 1983.

Ownership - Each animal competing must be registered in the Herd Book of the Holstein-Fricsian Association of America in the name of its Junior exhibitor and meet the requirements of Junior project work and for exhibition at 4-H, FFA or Junior State Shows or fairs. The exhibitor must be the sole owner of the animal at all shows in which she is exhibited.

Title by January 1, 1989 (for 2 year olds and over) May 1, 1989 (for calves and yearlings). Title of all animals over 2 years old in this competition must be shown on the registry certificate with ownership recorded by January 1, 1989 as shown by the filing date on the transfer. The date of ownership on animals showing as yearlings and calves must be recorded by May 1, 1989. All ownership records will be checked by the Holstein Association of America and their decision on eligibility under this rule will be final.

Partnership Animals - Upon recommendation of the Extension Committee and management of Holstein Association of America and in line with the rules for 4-H exhibition in the great majority of shows, all entries must stand on the Association records in the individual name of the exhibitor. Senior-Junior family partnerships will not be acceptable.

Qualification for Entry - To qualify for entry in the Junior All-Pennsylvania Contest, an animal must win first or second in a District, State or Regional Junior Show in the United States or as an alternative, if placing lower in such a show, must have placed first or second in the open class thereof. All entries must have competed in junior classes at their own county, district, state or regional show to establish their junior eligibility on their home grounds and regardless of winnings in open classes elsewhere. JUNIOR DIVISION PLACINGS AT THE THREE NATIONAL SHOWS WILL NOT QUALIFY AN ANIMAL.

Closing Date - Closing date for the receipt of entries in the Jr. All-PA Awards Contest is November 1. Entry is completed by submitting a suitable, professional picture of each eligible animal together with a completed entry blank. These pictures and entry blanks should be sent to the Pennsylvania Holstein Association, 839 Benner Pike, State College, PA 16801. Pictures 5x7 inches are preferred.

The Awards - All entries will be given consideration by the Junior All-PA Judging Committee.

VILLINES POULTRY, GREEN FOREST, ARK

My name is Mitch Villines of Green Forest, Arkansas We have a layer operation of about 600,000 layers

In the past, we have always had an ammonia problem in our houses This past February, we ran a test using Bio-Ade Mixer #1 in our layer feeds at the recommended level of one pound per ton for ammonia control

The temperature in the test house was set at 80°F and we did not have any ammonia problem.

The product performed to my expectation. It made my employees happier with no ammonia odor in the house stat. This should be continued for about 100 days.

Coccidia are widespread in the environment and are ingested by calves soon after birth. After ingestion, coccidia spend the first 16 days in the lining of the small intestines; injury occurs, but there is no visible evidence. The next 5-6 days are spent in the large intestine, at which time scours may appear — or there may be no symptoms.

Similar to mastitis organisms, coccidia are opportunistic "bugs." They may be present, but the symptoms may not appear until calves are stressed by over crowding, poor nutrition, change of ration, inclement weather, weaning, moving, diseases, etc.

After about five life cycles of the coccidia organism, (100 days or so) calves begin to develop some immunity to coccidosis. Feed additives such as Bovatec and Rumensin possess some coccidiostat properties, but do not offer protection to young calves. These materials are either not fed at a young enough age or they are not fed in quantities large enough to treat infections that are already present. However, they are useful in helping to prevent coccidiosis outbreaks in older cattle.

Equally important is the need to deworm calves and heifers 3 and 6 weeks after they are turned out to pasture in the spring, and again in the fall as they are taken off pasture for winter housing.

Older Calves And Heifers

Weaning is another stressful time for calves. They should be consuming at least 1 pound of calf starter before being weaned. The first grouping experience is also quite stressful. Both of these situations can really set calves back especially if they occur simultaneously and in the presence of other stressors.

After weaning, it is highly desirable to give calves ample time to adjust to dry feeds before requiring them to do battle with other calves for a spot at the feed bunk or watering hole. Ideally, the number of calves in this first transitional pen should be limited to about 3-5, and the pen should be away from older animals.

Once the calves have become goat will be performing throughout the day. Blaze will amaze you and your youngsters with his balloon-blowing feats. Ed and Geraldine Berbaum will stroll through the complex entertaining you with songs.

Of special interest to young and old alike is the Pioneer Farm Display. The display features old-time machinery such as antique tractors, equipment and engines. They will be demonstrating apple butter making, corn shelling, the making of corn meal, baling and thrashing. Apple butter will be available for sale to the public.

Agway Racing Pigs will present six shows throughout the day to entertain you. Pigs named "Miss Pennsylvania", "Betty Bacon", and "Go Scat Go" will run the race to the finish. Each 15 minute show features four heats.

Educational Exhibits are displayed throughout the complex to provide you with information on varied areas. The Kessler "Nittany Lion" petting zoo will be open all day for your family to enjoy. Ag Commodity Food Booths are set up to tantalize your tastebuds.

Schuylkill Fairgrounds Mortgage

have many volunteers. Many of them virtually live at the fairgrounds in the weeks before the fair to help make sure it comes off. We built our milk house with volunteer labor and enclosed an old pavilion to make the craft building. It's funny. A lot of times people don't seem enthusiastic when they join the fair association. But once they get started they just can't break away. It just seems to grow on you," Allison mused.

"The fair is great. It's too bad we can't have it every week of the year, but we are looking for other ways to keep the fairgrounds in use," Craig said.

F.A.R.M. is working to fill the fairgrounds with activities throughout the year. Complete with three ponds, a trout stream, wetlands and forest, the site is ideal for environmental education. According to Morgan, the district manager for the Schuhlkill Co. Soil Conservation District, the group is working to establish a nature center on the site complete with nature trails. The center would be staffed by a full-time environmental education person. "The center will be for the young and old. We are even working to make a nature trail for the handicapped," Morgan explained. The Blue Mountain High School Envirothon team, last year's national winners, trained on the site.

Among the proposed uses of the facilities are: Aquatic life collection and identification, electrical fish shocking in the stream, stream and pond studies, and forest management activities.

"We also hope to have companies use the facilities for picnics," Allison added. A model farm and farm museum are also possibilities in the future.

"We need to get the mortgage paid off or may we may have to increase rates at the fair. This year we charged three dollars a car. Of the fair association's $127,000 budget only $27,000 comes from fair week. After all if we can't pay our bills we have to go out of business," Morgan said.

With the fair's amazing popularity and the site's potential it would be a shame to let this dream fade away for a lack of funds. Individuals and business interested in joining the fair association can contact Rev. Jim Swenk (717) 345-2923. Those wishing to help F.A.R.M. pay off the mortgage should call Pat Evanchalk (717) 345-4048 or send their tax deductible gifts to: The Foundation for Agriculture and Resource Management, P.O. HORSEHIDE
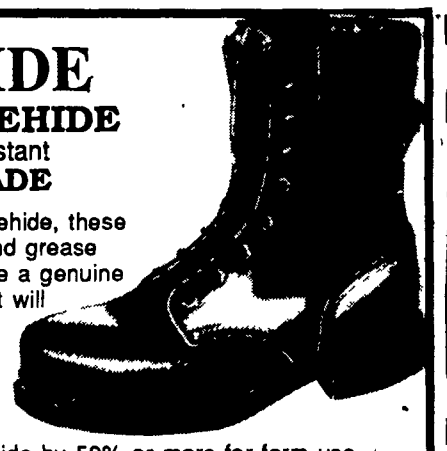
GENUINE HORSEHIDE
Barnyard Acid Resistant
AMERICAN MADE



Made of tough, long wearing horsehide, these shoes stand manure, silage, oil and grease better than cowhide. Shoes feature a genuine Goodyear welt, nitro cork sole that will not track, steel shank, padded collar, cushion insole and arch support. Ideal for barn use. Sizes 7-13 including ½ sizes. 1st quality. Our experience shows that horsehide outlasts good cowhide by 50% or more for farm use.

Dairylea Meeting This Week

SYRACUSE, N.Y. — Milk pricing, farm legislation, recycling and technology will be among the topics receiving policy attention from delegates to Dairylea Cooperative's Annual Meeting in Liverpool, NY, October 10-11.

The 2,100-member milk marketing cooperative's Resolutions Committee has already met to consider member proposals for presentation to the delegate body. The Committee is elected annually with one member representing each of the cooperative's 13 membership districts. The districts cover five northeastern states.

Committee Chairman Richard Watros of Marathon, NY, has announced that the Committee will be in open session at 12:15 p.m. on Tuesday, October 10, to consider questions and proposals from members.

Among the issues to be brought before the expected 400 elected delegates will be one to support legislation in Congress to change the way the government computes the amount of "surplus" milk. New York State Congressman Sherwood L. Boehlert (R-Utica, NY) has introduced a measure that would require the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) to deduct all milk products used for social welfare programs BEFORE calculating the amount of the surplus. (Currently, milk is in short supply both regionally and nationally. Only butter is being purchased in any quantity by the CCC).

The need to protect viable farmland from being used for landfills will also be brought before delegates, as will a proposal to endorse stronger efforts in the development of recycling and use of biodegradables.

Lack of reciprocity in accepting farm and plant inspections by certain states in the Northeast will be a subject of policy discussion and action. Currently only Connecticut, Massachusetts and Louisiana among the 48 contiguous states refuse to accept the inspections of other states.

Other resolutions will deal with consumer education, technology, taxation, health and safety on the farm, wetland controls, littering and other subjects affecting farmers.

Groups Budget For Co-op Advertising

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program Commodity Marketing Board has set the stage for a new fiscal year that will focus on cooperative advertising and promotions.

In September, at its final meeting of the 1988-89 fiscal year, the Board approved a 1989-90 media plan that will be jointly executed with ADA/DC and Mid East UDIA, as part of the three groups' recently signed agreement. Each group will contribute $700,000 to a $2.1 million campaign that will include fluid milk, ice cream and all-product holiday broadcast flights, plus outdoor media.

The PDPP is also retaining the public relations and marketing services of the Harrisburg-based Partnership of Packer, Oesterling and Smith (PPO&S), which will work with the PDPP Board and staff in implementing publicity, cooperative mershandising promotions, special events and will produce a variety of publications and collateral materials.

For the 1989-90 fiscal year, the PDPP Board has approved a $1.5 million budget, based on estimated dairy farmer contributions, of which 58 percent is earmarked for advertising and 10 percent for public relations and marketing projects. Another 11 percent has been allocated for assisting local dairy promotion groups in implementing their special events; 11 percent is to help fund nutrition education through the Dairy Council, Inc. units serving Pennsylvania; 6 percent will go to research and to reach the retail and food service publics; and 4 percent is slated for administrative costs.

EARLY BIRD HEATING EQUIPMENT SPECIALS

The Shenandoah Space Heater

Stainless Steel Or Galvanized Cabinet For Extra Long Life.

Shenandoah's new direct gas-fired circulating space heater (SSH) has an out put of 170,000 BTUH. One space heater is equivalent to 5 or 6 conventional brooders. Fewer heaters require less thermostat adjustment and maintenance.

The space heater, when suspended the recommended 42" off the floor, will gain increased floor space as well as more even heating and improved visibility.

Shenandoah's space heaters are crafted from durable stainless steel and come factory assembled for ease of installation. The two-speed fan with a fully enclosed motor produces 780 cfm of output on high speed. The fan continues to circulate air when on a low speed setting.

Homebred Market Lamb Is New Holland Fair Champ

BY LISA RISSER

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — Jeff Martin led his homebred Suffolk-Hampshire cross to a championship title Wednesday at the New Holland Fair. The 126-pound wether, although not Martin's first grand champion, is the 18-year-old's first champ at New Holland.

Martin, the son of John A. and Marilyn Martin of East Earl, has a small flock of Suffolks and was particularly pleased the wether won since at last week's Ephrata Fair it was placed third in its class.

Jeff Martin, right, sold his 126-pound champion wether to Wilmer "Willie the Butcher" Kreider for $1.80 per pound. With Willie is his grandaughter Michele Kreider.

Wilmer "Willie the Butcher" Kreider purchased Martin's champion for $1.80 per pound or $26.80.

The second-place heavyweight lamb won the reserve grand champion rosette for Kristin Chupp, who had the grand champion at last year's New Holland Fair. This reserve title follows up the one she received last week during the Ephrata Fair. Chupp, the daughter of Larry and Barb Weaver of New Holland, had a Hampshire cross wether.

Chupp sold her lamb to top bidder Ken Stoltzfus of Stoltzfus Meats for $225.70, or $1.85 per pound. The total sales volume for market lambs was $2,322.63 with an average of $1.09 per pound.

New Holland Youth Shows Champion New Holland Fair Hog

BY LISA RISSER

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — The time was ripe for veteran showman Chad Folker. It had been quite some time since the son of Tony and Edith Folker of New Holland had had a champion. His Hampshire cross barrow didn't let him down. Judge Dave Hartman, Columbia County Extension ag agent, selected the 235-pound mediumweight hog as grand champion of the New Holland Fair swine show on Thursday.

The 15-year-old has been showing hogs for eight years and plans to continue this year's show season with Manheim Fair and the state Farm Show in January. He sold his champion to New Holland Sales Stable for $3.35 per pound or $787.25. He plans to save the money and perhaps put it toward fixing up a '60s vintage Mustang.

For Kenton Good of Denver, the New Holland Fair was much like last week's Ephrata Fair. The 17-year-old son of Ezra and Elsie Good had the reserve grand champion hog at both fairs. In addition, Jerry Clemens, representing Hatfield Quality Meats, purchased both hogs. The crossbred barrow shown Thursday brought $3.50 per pound, which was $.15 more per pound than the top bid for the grand champion.

Good plans to use his earnings to help pay off his Irock Z Camaro.

High Wins Second Consecutive New Holland Fair Champion Steer Honors

BY LISA RISSER

NEW HOLLAND (Lancaster Co.) — For the second year in a row, Casey High had the champion steer at the New Holland Fair. Both animals were purebred Angus. ET, a 1,310-pound Pine Drive Big Sky son, already had won championship titles this year.

High, 11, showed the steer at the Eastern Regional Angus Breeders and the Pennsylvania Angus Breeders shows where it was named reserve grand champion of both.

The son of Larry and Mae High of Lititz, High is a third-year 4-H'er. He sold his meaty project to Norman Kolb of New Holland Sales Stable. Kolb, who paid $1.52 per pound, also will receive a free week's stay in Sarasota, Fla., from the New Holland Beef Club.

Casey High, right, showed the grand champion steer at the New Holland Fair. The Angus was bought buy New Holland Sales Stable, where the auction was held. Norman Kolb, center, and Abe Diffenbach represented the Stables, which paid $1.52 per pound for the steer.

Veteran showman Krista Martin of East Earl showed a boxy kind of steer that judge Dave Hartman, Columbia County Extension ag agent, slapped for the reserve grand champion rosette. Martin, the 16-year-old daughter of Bill and Ruth Ann Martin, showed a Maine Anjou/Chianina/Angus cross. Thursday's win was the second reserve champion title in her seven years of cattle exhibition.

Krista sold her 1,190-pound steer, Weston, to John Yoder of Yoder's Country Market and Restaurant for $1.20 per pound.

The steers averaged $1 per pound and totaled $14,771.

Reservations Due For Dairy Youth Management Workshop

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — There is still time to sign up for the 1989 Dairy Youth Management Workshop at Penn State on October 20 and 21. Sponsored by the University's Department of Dairy and Animal Science, the conference is open to high school students, ages 14 and up, who have an interest in pursuing a career in some aspect of the dairy industry.

This year's session focuses on the dairy heifer. Management, nutrition, reproduction, and mammary development will be highlighted. In addition to classroom sessions, there will be several opportunities to participate in hands-on exercises which should be fun as well as educational. Members of the Penn State Dairy Science Club will be on hand to discuss their activities and college experiences with participants.

The conference starts at 9:00 a.m. on Friday, October 20, and will finish at approximately 10:30 a.m. on Saturday. Students attending may want to stay longer and visit the Ag Hill Festival which runs through Saturday evening.

The cost for registration and meals (lunch and dinner on Friday) is $20. Housing has been reserved at the South Ridge Motor Lodge (814-238-0571) and Elby's Inn (814-237-8005). Please make your own hotel reservations.

To sign up for the conference, complete the form below and return to Dr. A.J. Heinrichs. Registration is limited to the first 100 people signed up for the conference. If you have any questions or would like more details, please call Dr. Heinrichs at 814-863-3916.

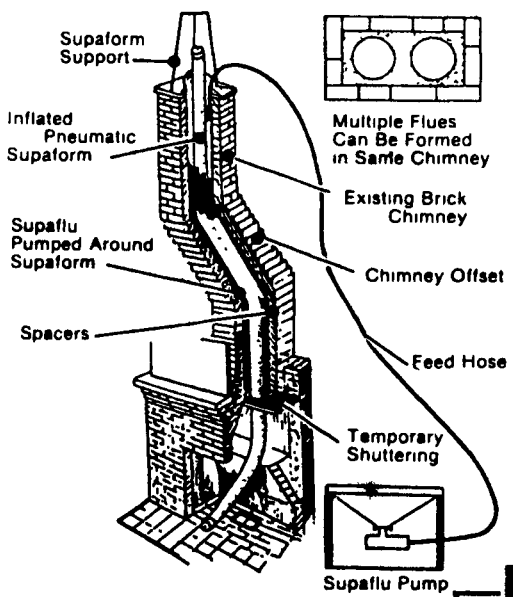
CHIMNEY PROBLEMS?



Supaflu Fights Hot Chimney Fires Before They Begin.

Creosote build-up, cracked chimney tiles, decaying mortar and hot trapped gasses. This is the way dangerous and damaging chimney fires start. A trained Supaflu chimney professional can spot these hazards in a hurry and take care of them almost as fast. A fast and inexpensive cast-in-place Supaflu installation makes your chimney better than new, safer than new. A smooth, strong Supaflu lined chimney fights creosote build-up and eliminates hot trapped gases, dramatically reducing chimney fire dangers.

ership should be looking at other ways to help dairy farmers. While Maine and Massachusetts and to a lesser degree Pennsylvania are mandating over-order pricing, the rest of the states could be encouraged to follow suit.

Farmers have a potentially strong organization beyond just over-order pricing and should be considering alternatives to pursue. There is an opportunity to have 22,000 farmers consider the farm labor problem, preserving valuable farm land, consolidation of federal/state milk market orders, joint (farmer/processor) branded advertising of fluid milk, supply management, transfer of technology to enhance farm profits, guaranteed supply of milk to the fluid milk market.

The real strength of an organization is in its members, and RCMA members have been impressive.

While I no longer work for RCMA directly, I am continuing to work toward a better dairy industry and have offered to assist individual farmers, cooperatives, processors and RCMA in meeting their needs.

At the same time, I would encourage the farmers that built RCMA to hang in there and make it even better, and perhaps fill some long-term needs of farmers and the Northeast dairy industry.

Type judges for the different dairy breeds were as follows: Holstein, Lee Majeskie from Maryland; Milking Shorthorn, Guernsey and Ayrshire, John Morris from Maryland; and the Brown Swiss and Jersey breeds were judged by Michael Barnes from Virginia.

County Agent Joseph Beard reported that this was the largest Pennsylvania Junior Dairy Show to date, requiring three rings of judging in the large arena.

Yeutter Seeks National Dairy Board Nominees

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yeutter today asked dairy producer and other farm organizations certified by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to nominate candidates to succeed 12 members of the National Dairy Promotion and Research Board whose terms expire April 30, 1990.

Yeutter will appoint 12 from those nominated to serve three-year terms beginning May 1, 1990, and ending April 30, 1993.

Members whose terms expire April 30 are Manuel Santos Jr., Tulare, Calif. (region 2); Ruth E. Miller, Kuna, Idaho (region 3); Ivan K. Strickler, Iola, Kan. (region 4); Leslie R. Winters, Bingham Lake, Minn. (region 5); Daniel J. Rodenkirch, Kewaskum, Wis. (region 6); Gerald R. Sipple, Menominee, Wis. (region 6); G. Joe Lyon, Toledo, Iowa (region 7); Ruth M. Robinson, Jonesborough, Tenn. (region 8); Herman M. Brubaker, West Alexandria, Ohio (region 9); Walter A. Martz, Frederick, Md. (region 11); Carl E. Butler, Pine Plains, N.Y. (region 12); and Leo O'Brien, Jr., South Burlington, Vt. (region 13).

All of the above members, except Ruth Miller and Leo O'Brien, have served two terms and are not eligible for renomination. The two exceptions are eligible for renomination since they have not served two terms. No terms for regions 1 (Washington and Oregon) and 10 (Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia) expire in 1990.

The National Dairy Promotion and Research Board was established under the Dairy and Tobacco Adjustment Act of 1983 to develop and administer a coordinated program of promotion, research and nutrition education. The 36-member board of milk producers is authorized to design programs to strengthen the dairy industry's position in domestic and foreign markets.

The National Program is financed by a mandatory 15-cent per hundredweight assessment on all milk marketed commercially by dairymen in the contiguous 48 states.

Nominations must be submitted by November 3, to Marcia Gibney, USDA, AMS, Dairy Division, Promotion and Research Staff, Rm. 2753-S, P.O. Box 96456, Washington, D.C. 20090, telephone 202-447-6909. For more information, contact Gibney.

Am. Ag Movement To Sue Chicago Board Of Trade

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The American Agriculture Movement, Inc. voted to file a lawsuit against the Chicago Board of Trade. AAM, Inc. National President Harvey Joe Sanner said "This is another necessary step in our history of acting on behalf of the family farmers who make up our membership.

This legal action was necessitated by the July 11 order of the CBOT Board of Directors that July soybean contracts be liquidated causing a sudden drop in soybean prices. Several knowledgeable sources have indicated that a significant price increase for 1989 crop soybeans was sacrificed, costing farmers millions of dollars.

David Senter, AAM National Director said "After weeks of study and research AAM, Inc. felt there was no other course of action except to seek damages in the judicial system."

The suit will be filed as soon as possible and will allow soybean farmers that were affected to seek recovery of damages.

David Senter was heard to say "Producers of practieally all commodities have a stake in this litigation, when one commodity is adversely affected it impacts others. This will be an opportunity for all producers and others that are concerned with our marketing system to have those concerns addressed."

Sanner went on to say "We should probably thank the Board for providing us with this opportunity. After protests, hearings, F.B.I. investigations, and indictments of traders may have caused the angry frustration to mount. To calm the fears of those who accuse AAM, Inc. of trying to destroy the Board of Trade, it is not so. We know that there must be integrity in our marketing system. But it was not farmers nor AAM that destroyed integrity and our lawsuit may be the healthiest thing for the market and the producers," said Sanner. "The injunctive section of the suit seeks to prohibit the Chicago Board of Trade from repeating this type action again. It should also be said that it wasn't farmers who were dual trading or indicted by the F.B.I. It was not farmers who caused soybean markets to plunge downward and it was not AAM or farmers who prohibited by being short in the market, as some firms did. It was not us who had a windfall when soybean prices fell because of the ruling made by the Board of Directors of the CBOT. Quite frankly, the Board has done a lousy job in the integrity department. Our suit might let a little sunlight into the "pits" on Lasalle Street."

David Senter concluded by saying "Why does the Board of Trade believe in "FREE TRADE" only when it applies to everyone else, but when it comes to themselves they manipulate the market?"

Anyone wanting more information should contact Harvey Joe Sanner, National President, at the AAM, Inc. Arkansas office at 501-256-4766 or 501-256-4846 (FAX).

Maryland Team National 4-H Dairy Judging Champ

The Maryland 4-H dairy judging team beat out all other state teams this week to become the national champion. They competed in the 4-H National Dairy Judging Contest held in Madison, Wisc., in conjunction with the 23rd annual World Dairy Expo. The team competed in five classes: Brown Swiss, Ayrshire, Guernsey, Holstein, and Jersey judging.

$35,000 Calf Tops All-American Holstein Sale

BY EVERETT NEWSWANGER
Managing Editor

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.)—The top of the All-American Holstein Sale here last Thursday night at $35,000 was a two-month-old calf. But what a calf it was. The daughter of Plushanski Mark Fife-ET (VG-88, 3y) with a two year old record of 29,368m 4.5% 1325f 3.5% 1042p. Next dam was Flute (VG-87-GMD) with records to 35,745m 5.2% 1828f 3.4% 1193p. 9Third dam was Fancy (VG-87-GMD with records to 35,614 4.4% 1584f 3.5% 1231p and the fourth dam was Charles Plushanski's famous Faith cow (4E-94-GMD with records to 37,718m 5.1% 1813f.

Art Acres Bell Pontiac was the sire making every animal you can see in the pedigree excellent or very good. The buyer by telephone was Doc-Trim Holsteins, Waupaca, WI.

Wilmer Hosteter, Oxford, bought the first choice female from five pregnancies due April 1990 from Valiant Elea-Nor-ET for $12,500 consigned by Woodbine Farms, Airville. The future heifer will be from the heart of the Ella family (4E-97 EEEE-GMD) all time All American aged cow with five records over 1101f to 48,731m 4.2% 2028F.

The third highest selling price at $5600 came on the consignment by Sassafras Syund., Oxford, for the first choice of six transfers due May 1990 out of Long-Haven Sassafras-ET (VG-86, 3Y) with a two year record of 30,320m 3.9% 1170f 3.4% 1022 p. The buyer was Modern Markets Inc., River Forest, IL.

Star Limited, %Andy Stoltzfus, Morgantown, sold choice of females from embryos due either November 1989 or January 1990 out of Cabin-Run Mark Star-Et (VG-86, 3y) with a two-year record of 26,190m 3.9% 1014f to William McKay, Merias, Iowa, for $5,100.

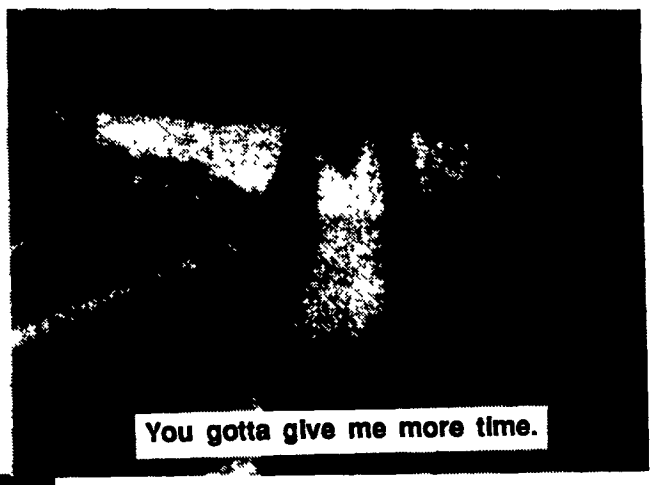
At $5,000, Solid Gold Holsteins, Mike and Cindy Weimer, Emlenton, sold choice of two-month-old calves by Exels S-W-D Eagle out of Mun-Cre Mark Fesha-ET (VG-86, 3y) with 1-11Y 365d 24,576m 3.9% 970f 3.3% 805p.

In all, 43 lots averaged $3409 for a total of $115,900.

All In The Selling Of A Calf

When the $35,000 calf was sold in the small arena at the Farm Show Building in Harrisburg during the All American Dairy Show last week, teams of sale staff members manned two dirct-line phone calls from potential buyers from across the nation. One team was on the phone at the front of the arena and the contending bids came over the phone at the back of the arena. In this sequence of photos, Managing Editor Everett Newswanger caught Auctioneer Harry Bachman in auction as he relayed the bids from the peron at the phone to the auction ring above. You be the judge. Did Harry's team win or not?

Only 35. That's right...35. Only 35...thousand.



You gotta give me more time.

Now it's your...turn.

Hold it Mike. Don't knock it off yet.

Come on--Wisconsin!

Did he win? Or didn't he?

Chester/Delaware Farmers Adopt Resolutions

SADSBURY (Chester Co.)—The Chester/Delaware County Farmers' Association held their annual meeting last week to discuss and adopt or reject resolutations that will be passed on to their state association (PFA) for consideration to become state and national policy. In all, the 150 members attending the meeting recommended 26 resolutions mainly aimed at easing restrictions on farmers and promoting agriculture in Pennsylvania. The members voted to withdraw the 27th resolution that called for the banning of BST.

Colin Johnstone, chairman of the Chester County Agricultural Development Council, said that to ban BST would be like banning penicillin and urged the farmers not to turn their backs on new technology.

But Al Bartels, an association member, warned that additives like BST make the consumer uncomfortable.

Leon Wilkinson, a member of the Pennsylvania Milk Marketing Board, suggested that farmers get involved in local government. He said our urban neighbors dominate the local boards of supervisors and he said that farmers should seek positions that influence their lives.

Many of Chester County's agricultural industries were represented at the meeting. And the mushroom growers made several proposals including support for the "Fresh Mushroom Promotion, Research and Consumer Information Act" and permanent classification of mushroom growing as agriculture by all governing bodies in Pennsylvania.

The guest list for the dinner meeting included government officials, various candidates for office in the November elections and Dallas Green, former manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, who owns a farm in southern Chester County and is a member of the association.

Sen. Earl Baker, chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican Party, attended. He has been involved with the association since the early 1970's. "Chester County's agricultural history goes back to the days of William Penn," he said. "I think that's a heritage we should be proud of and be very careful to preserve. Our agricultural economy is sound, but we have to work at keeping it that way."

Enters Select Sires Program

PLAIN CITY, OH — 7H3738 Pa-Dot Paulas Premiur-ET, a young sire bred by Paul King, Cochranville, PA, has been chosen to enter Select Sires' Program for Genetic Advancement (PGA) sire sampling system. Based on his outstanding pedigree, 7H3738 has been selected as one of 160 Holstein bulls from throughout the United States to enter the program in 1989.

7H3738 is an extremely high genetic indexed young sire since he is a Jesse son from a Rotate daughter. The dam scored GP(83) and made nearly 30,000M, 1,200F and 900P in just 299 days as a three-year-old. 7H3738 is backed by a pedigree of high test and dollar value.

Select Sires is a family of 12 farmer-owned and controlled A.I. cooperatives, serving the largest number of co-op members in the United States. 7H980 Walkway Chief Mark, the most extraordinary type and production sire of the decade, is an example of the superior genetics Select Sires offers.

DUTCH STANDARD
Everything you'll ever need in a paint.

We would like to bring to your attention certain legislation enacted by several states that curtails or prohibits the sale and application of many types of oil-based paint coatings. This kind of legislation could result in the restricted availability of oil-base paints. With this in mind, choosing the best possible latex paint is becoming a very important consumer issue.

Manufacturing and marketing of latex paints began in the 1940s. The research and development of these paints are not new to Harrison Paint Corp. and they are now our most popular consumer coatings.

We offer the highest quality and the most complete line of interior and exterior latex paints available. Dutch Standard latexes surpass today's industry standards for durability and protection.

Expo's Dairy Woman Of The Year Named

MADISON, WI — The chairperson of the California Milk Advisory Board has received World Dairy Expo's 1989 Dairy Woman of the Year Award.

Beatrice Moons' activities stretch from heading up one of the country's leading dairy promotion organizations to involvement in her community and playing an active role in the family's farming operation.

Moons and her husband, Jack, own Moons Dairy, an 850-cow Holstein operation on 98 acres near Chino, California. Approximately 85 percent of the herd, which includes 1,000 replacement heifers, are grade animals, while the remainder are registered. The cows, with a herd average of about 18,000 pounds, are milked in a two-double-ten herringbone parlor. Sixty-five of the farm's acres are triple-cropped to oats, barley and sudan grass, all of which are green chopped and fed to the herd. The farm employs six full-time workers.

Moons is considered an astute businesswoman and serves as the farm's bookkeeper, maintaining financial records, as well as records for young stock. Until a year ago, when she took over as CMAB chairperson, she played a full role in all phases of the farm's day-to-day operation, including planting and harvesting. Giving up field work was enabled when their son, John, came back to the farm after graduating from Cal Poly University - San Luis Obispo in the spring.

She maintains responsibility for the appearance of Moons Dairy, a duty which earned the farm the distinction as Outstanding Dairy from the Chino Chamber of Commerce in 1988. With an attractive farmstead, complete with bonsai trees, Moons Dairy occasionally hosts dairy tours for local school children.

Moons has excelled in dairy advertising, research and education efforts. A CMAB director for ten years, she served as its secretary and vice chairperson before becoming chairperson a year ago.

During that 10-year period, Moons was highly involved in moving CMAB into cheese promotions when many dairy producers thought only in terms of advertising fluid milk. She was instrumental in launching CMAB's Real California Cheese program, which involved developing a state identity for cheese produced in California. Development of the program involved an extensive research project on the viability of a cheese industry in California.

Those efforts, along with those of others in the California dairy industry, has led California from producing 150 million pounds of cheese 10 years ago to 600 million pounds today. While fluid milk remains the organization's top promotion priority, CMAB spends up to $6 million on cheese promotion yearly.

Moons serves on CMAB's new products committee, an advisory group made up of processors, co-op managers and dairy farmer leaders to look at development of new dairy products. She also represents CMAB on the Dairy Research Center committee, a group which oversees dairy research, and on COW. The COW organization is made up of representatives of the promotion organizations in California, Oregon and Washington and works cooperatively to advertise dairy products.

Moons also is a dairy leader outside her state. She currently serves on an advisory committee initiated by the National Dairy Promotion and Research Board designed to determine how best to coordinate national promotion efforts.

Moons has served on the Dairy Science Advisory Committee for Cal Poly for about five years. She is treasurer of a parent advisory group for her daughter's high school, and she is active in the San-River Dairy Bells, a regional service and social organization of dairy women whose activities include planning dairy tours and working at local fairs.

She served as a director to the Chino Chamber of Commerce from 1980 to 1982 and worked with the California Dairy Princess contest for a number of years, holding positions as district chairperson, state vice chairperson and treasurer. Currently, she is a member of Dairy Shrine, state and national Holstein Associations and Milk Producers Council of California.

In 1989, Moons was named an honorary member of the Los Lecheros Dairy Club at Cal Poly, an honor reserved for one dairy farmer and one dairy industry representative yearly.

Moons and her husband have four children: Stephanie, 23; John, 22; Agnes, 20 and Jacqueline, 15.

acclimated to a group situation and have developed more immunity, they can be exposed to larger groups and older animals. However, it is desirable to have enough groups to permit similar sized heifers to be housed together.

Remember the cheapest growth you can put on a heifer is the growth she makes as a young calf. Therefore, strive to prevent setbacks in her early life. Tape or weigh heifers periodically to monitor their growth and to evaluate your heifer program.

It is just as important to develop balanced feeding programs for heifers as it is for cows. Request a program from your nutritionist and also discuss the merits of feeding Bovatec or Rumensin for improved gains and feed effiency.

When heifers are of sufficient size, breed them to a good, proven A.I. bull. In addition to selecting for desirable production and type traits you may also want to consider calving ease. If heat detection is a problem, consider synchronizing heats to help you concentrate your heat detection efforts.

The use of herd bulls is discouraged for several reasons: Their genetic potential and semen quality are less predictable, they can spread infection from cow to cow especially if you use them on problem breeders that are more likely to be infected, and they are dangerous to work around.

As the bred heifers approach freshening time, introduce them to the dry cow group and give them ample time to adapt to ration changes, new herdmates and new surroundings.

A variety of information on heifer raising is available from your Cooperative Extension Office. Among them are: Keeping Dairy Replacements Healthy, Cattle Vaccines, Feeding The Dairy Heifer, Calf and Heifer Housing, Restraint and Treatment Facilities, Reproductive Management of the Dairy Heifer, Synchronizing of Estrus and Artificial Insemination in Cattle, Parasites in Beef and Dairy Cattle, Body-Condition Scoring, and Calf and Heifer Growth Charts - by breeds.

The Cooperative Extension is an affirmative action, equal opportunity educational institution.

$8.00 PER BUSHEL IS OFFERED FOR SOYBEANS

by our fertilizer company, if they are grown on their fertilizer, because of the extra protein and minerals and absence of toxins. They have buyers waiting for them, to feed to livestock and poultry. Apply this long lasting, mineral and carbon-rich material this fall to condition your farm for next year. It takes a while for our fertilizer to demolish the poisonous toxins in your soil to be eligible for the $8.00 soybeans next year.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT THING

Food consumers are tired of being sick and tired. They are discovering that it comes from toxic food, and are protesting from coast to coast. If it comes on the news that milk carries a residue like it will if farmers don't stop pollution, then sales will drop fast like it did with apples last winter, and of course the price will drop, like it or not. Who will you blame? Uncle Sam can't afford any longer to subsidize farmers who are themselves to blame when they could have received better crops anyway, our way. Some have received 83 and 90 bushels soybeans per acre using our special orgainically grown seed. Some have received around 250 to 300 bu. corn per acre, and one had 29% protein hay, which crops also sell for a good premium.

SPELTZ (similar to fall oats) yielded 150 bu. per acre last year and over 100 bu. this year on fertilizer, from organically grown seed from us. It is superior livestock feed. Contract price for 1990 is $10.00 per hundred. Sow at once. If you don't need the extra profit from our program, give it to the poor or Red Cross. Our literature explains the materials.

Immunization Clinics Boost Children's Health And Parents Wallets

BY VAL VANTASSEL
Berks Co. Correspondent

When our son Ethan was born, the obstetrician announced that he was the loudest baby he had ever delivered. Ethan quickly lived up to his advanced billing. He could out holler the rock and roll band that practiced next door. And while all the neighbors swore they could never hear the baby, they often offered words of encouragement and bits of advice.

When he was three weeks old the vomiting started. For the next four months Ethan alternated between blood curdling screams and losing his meals. Eventually the doctors concluded that he was allergic to a number of foods including milk. Meanwhile we spent most of our spare time and cash at the pediatricians.

We were just a week short of Ethan's two month check up when another young mother on a stringent budget shared an amazing discovery with us. "Did you know you can get free immunizations from the state health department?" she asked.

Although Lyn and I also have a three year old, we had never heard of this service. A call to the state health department confirmed the information.

According to Patricia Sanderson, the supervising nurse at the Berks and Schuylkill State Health Centers, shots have been available for at least 45 years but the types of families coming in for the service are changing.

"At one time most people coming in for the immunizations were of a lower economic status but now you see folks from all walks of life. Most people start coming to us because the cost of immunizations is so high. One person told me that it would cost $50 to have the immunizations done at her doctor's and that she just couldn't afford it."

Even people with good health insurance are finding their way to the state health center. "Many insurance companies don't pay for well child care and immunizations," she explained.

In Berks County immunizations are offered in three locations. "We hold clinics in Reading, Kutztown and Boyertown. We get a lot of plain people at the Kutztown site. It gives them the opportunity to receive their immunizations without having to take their buggies into the city," Sanderson stated.

In Schuylkill County immunizations are also given at three sites along with additional services. Services vary from county to county. Because Schuylkill County does not have as many providers of health services, the state health center also offers child health conferences along with the immunizations. Children are weighed, given a physical exam and a nurse discusses the child's development with the parents. These services are offered at Pottsville, Shenandoah, and Tower City.

Parents aren't limited to services within the county of their residence. "Often we have parents from Dauphin County bring their children to the Tower City location," Sanderson added.

According to a pamphlet put out by the State Health Department there are 175 of these child conference centers in the state of Pennsylvania.

Armed with this information I scheduled Ethan for his first shots at the Reading state health center. Scheduling the first visit should be done well in advance.

"We advise expectant mothers in Berks and Schuylkill Counties to call us as soon as they bring the baby home from the hospital. In Berks County we advise most parents to get the first shots when their baby is 2 months old from their doctor, and to schedule for their next set of shots. In Schuylkill County we have more clinics and are normally able to schedule the babies for their first shots. Older children should be scheduled as soon as possible to keep them up to date," Sanderson said.

I followed the health center's advice and agreed to have Ethan scheduled for his second shots, but due to his illness his first shots were delayed until it was time for him to make a visit to the center.

It is important to bring a record of the older child's shots to the clinic. "We won't give children a shot without their shot record in front of us. You can tell your physician to get your record. Many mothers bring their baby books," Sanderson said.

On shot day, I left the house with a beach bag full of diapeters, assorted toys, baby food and a snack for Ethan's big brother Zach. I wasn't sure what I would find when we arrived at the center city location. Sanderson had warned that waiting at the Reading site was normally half an hour to 45 minutes and that Schuylkill County could be longer because of the physical. She added, "I wouldn't schedule anything else to close to the shot. Nothing worse than worrying about making an appointment."

I was pleasantly surprised when

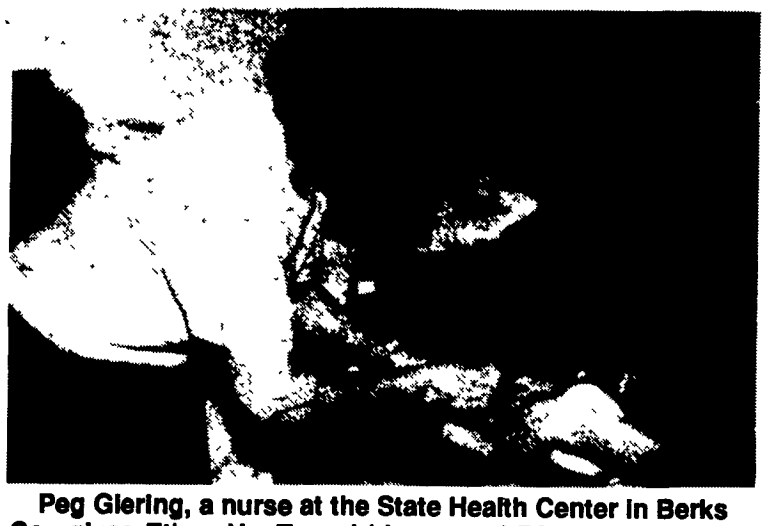
Dana Gehr, 19 months, comes over to check out the fun, that Charles Zellner, 1, is having in the toy box at the State Health Center.

Ethan VanTassel, 6 months, recovers quickly to play with his big brother Zach, 3.



Peg Giering, a nurse at the State Health Center in Berks Co., gives Ethan VanTassel his second DPT shot.

Dylan Piehel, 2, leans on his aunt's arm after receiving his Hib vaccine. His aunt Debbie Berg brought Dylan because his mom was ill.

I arrived at 625 Cherry Street. A municipal garage across the street made parking easy, an important consideration when transporting children and paraphnelia. Large elevators eliminated the hassle of stairs and kept the trip to the four floor health center pleasant. In fact the health center is probably one of the easiest places in Reading to take kids and gear.

I'm not sure what I expected the health center to be like but it was much like the peditrician's office on a slow day. The office was carpeted and well lighted. Rows of chairs were set aside for parents. Moms and Dads comforted children who had already been immunized. Several other children placed hide and seek between the chairs. Two toddlers emptied the toy box and climbed in. I signed Ethan in and Zach played cars with a new found buddy.

In the 20 minutes before Ethan had his shot, I had a chance to talk to some of the parents waiting for immunizations. "We come mostly because of the cost of getting shots at the doctor's office," explained John Gehr. His daughter Dana, 19 months, was waiting for her MMR, mumps, measles and rubella vaccine. "We like getting our shots here," he added.

Debbie Berg brought her nephew Dylan Piehel to get his Hib (Haemophilus Influenza b) vaccine. "My sister is sick so I brought Dylan. She is happy with the service she gets here. It just got too expensive to do it at the doctor's," she said.

Dylan is not the only child brought by someone other than his parents. "With so many parents working often other family members or friends bring the kids for their immunizations. We simply ask that the parents write a note giving permission for the shot to be given," Sanderson said.

Sanderson also recommended that parents check their children's health before sending them for shots. "If children have a fever or are sick, don't send them for a shot. If they have a mild cold it may be all right for them to be immunized. Call the office early and discuss it with one of the nurses," Sanderson explained.

Ethan's name was called and we gathered up our gear and headed into the office. Nurse Peg Giering checked on Ethan's health history including any reaction to past immunizations.

Then the time had arrived. Zach was concerned about Ethan's performance under pressure. "These hurt. If you're good you get a treat." Ethan gurgled and pulled his brother's hair.

Giering looked at Zach and said "It doesn't seem right to tell him it won't hurt does it? But it won't last long."

It took a second for Ethan to believe what was happening. Giering was nearly finished before he broke into a scream.

We hurried him back into the waiting room and within a minute he was giggling at the antics of the other kids. Shortly I put him down to crawl around on the floor until the 20 minutes waiting period was over.

"We ask parents to wait 20 minutes in case the child should have any severe reaction. It doesn't happen very often but we would like the child to be here if it does," Sanderson said.

It allowed plenty of time to schedule Ethan for another DPT (diptheria pertussus tetanus) two months and set Zach up for his pre-school boosters.

Ethan's recovery was aided by attention from his brother and several other little friends. Neither fellow was ready to leave when the 20 minutes were over.

Zach finally agreed to pick up the toys and proceed with getting Ethan's treat. As I was saying good bye to Pat Sanderson I heard Zach tell the baby, "Ethan how about a hamburger for a treat."

Ethan gave his brother a big toothless grin. I guess when you have a brother, treats should be for two.

Our first trip was successful and a big boost to our wallets since we continue to have high medical bills while treating Ethan's allergies.

He is much healthier and happier now although he is underweight. At six months he weighed 15 pounds.

We, like many other parents, are grateful for the immunization programs that offer our children a boost in health and a boost to our wallets since it saves us money.

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

All of a sudden fall is here although I haven't given up hope for a few more warm and sunny days. Somehow I was caught off guard and still had a lot of house plants to pot when the first frost was predicted.

The four black kittens that live on the back porch were no help. In fact they pawed soil out of the flower pots and chewed the plants. They are simply too playful for me. My daughter has promised to take two of them and I'm very glad.

I've just finished spending a lot of time hand chopping tomates, celery and peppers for a relish that I cook each year. This is my second batch as I have a son who likes it a lot. It is easier to spend time on something that is appreciated — or so it seems. A while back we had a hired man who loved my jellies and jams and ate a piece or two of bread every meal. But now that he is no longer here, my jelly shelf stays full and I didn't make very much this year.

Years ago I washed the milker every morning. I hated to leave the small children and baby in the house while I did this work but it was a necessary job. What made the job harder was that all I heard was that the hoses weren't clean enough and the straps that held the milkers should be scrubbed more.

A kind word goes a long way and a compliment makes a day much more pleasant. I remember my husband telling me that my cherry pies were the "best." I suspect it was the few drops of almond flavor that I added that did the trick. Of course, he has never complained about the shoofly pies, the apple and raisin or the lemon meringues. It is a good thing that I enjoy cooking and baking.

On being a farm wife - And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

With its usual ear-splitting "bang!," the engine of the riding mower became silent. After securing the wide doors of the woodshed from the inside, I picked my way through the darkness, across the tractor's rubber tires and mowing attachment, to exit the shed's smaller front entrance.

(Our mower rarely shuts off without a backfire, about three seconds after the engine switch is turned. Inside the shed, the noise is deafening. But let me cover my ears in self-defense, and the dog-gone thing just sits there, innocently silent. Time after time after time.....)

A newly-mown lawn - especially after several inches of rain and a mowing interval of more than two weeks - equals instant gratification. Grass that was shaggy and scruffy-looking transforms to trimmed and neat. Flower borders have edges again. And the littering maple leaves, chopped into tiny bits by the lethal slashing of whirring blades, have vanished into the clippings.

But, even when newly-trimmed, the lawn surrounding our farmhouse will never resemble those freshly-manicured, thick, lush, green lawns that look like a picture. Our lawn is lived in - and looks it.

A permanent path, worn to the bare earth, betrays the route we travel daily from the basement to the barn. It's the "inter-state" across maybe twenty-five yards of lawn, the shortest, most direct route to our business. On rainy days, the cats also conform to the route of the hard-packed barn path, where their paws find less soggy traveling.

Only slightly less barren of grass is the packed path under the laundry lines, stretched between two of the ancient maples. Laundry hung here long before our arrival a quarter-century ago, as the trees have actually grown around the metal bars fastened to their old trunks. Clothes driers have lessened the traffic during bad weather, but the path still gets regular use year-round.

At least once each summer it seems a flat, shaded part of the back lawn sees temporary use as a rehabilitation center for an injured cow or heifer. Last year, it was for a heifer that became temporarily paralyzed due to calving difficulties. Just recently, the "patient" was a yearling that slipped and injured her back.

The lawn offers the most soft, cool spot on the farm, with excellent footing for an injured animal, struggling back onto its feet. The joy and satisfaction of their healing more than compensates for a lawn ornamented with residue of hay and manure, and feed and water tubs scattered across the grass.

Two square, barren patches currently mark the locations of the guineas' pens, before they became roaming residents of the farmstead. Grass has mostly regrown over the patch of gravel washed into the lower lawn during a flooding cloudburst some 16 months ago.

And the bare patches under the bird feeders are merely a ground-level of feeders for a competing species. That's where the half-dozen remaining bantams scavenge fallen sunflower seeds, scratched off the feeding platform by the finches, jays and sparrows.

Our lawn looked even worse than usual before this last (of the season, maybe?) mowing session. Winds whipping through the maples as Hurricane Hugo dashed north, followed by the cold front which raced south a day later, shook loose hundreds of small twigs and branches.

Only one large limb tumbled, missing the corner of the greenhouse by mere inches. A growing pile of kindling now awaits the season's opening of the woodstove, maple droppings with a final purpose in life.

Still, our littered lawn was insignificant, compared to losses suffered by farm friends in the storm's path of devastation. Virginia friends woke to find every acre of their corn uprooted and flattened on the ground, before a single load had been cut for silo filling. Another, from North Carolina, had roofs torn from most of the farm buildings, a chimney ripped from the house, and fences shredded from falling trees and limbs.

Makes a scuffed, scarred and ragged lawn seem pretty unimportant, huh?

Celebrate October With Pork

Pork boasts a lot of lean facts you should know about. Today's pork has less than half the fat it used to have. Less than 40 percent of fat in today's pork is saturated. The rest is mono-or polyunsatu rated

Pork is what nutritionists call a nutrient-dense food because it has a high ration of nutrients to calories. A 3-ounce serving of cooked lean pork has 198 calories. It is a complete protein containing all the essential amino acids and is a good source of zinc, iron and B-vitamins, especially thiamin.

Pork provides many different tastes. Try these recipes for menu variety.

PORK SAUSAGE

2½ pounds pork about 80% lean
2½ teaspoons powdered sage
1½ teaspoons marjoran
½ teaspoon savory
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
¼ cup warm water

Cut pork and fat into ¼ -inch cubes, using coarse blade of meat grinder. Grind the meat. Place in a large bowl.

Mix spices in the ¼ cup warm water and knead the mixture into the meat thoroughly. To make breakfast sausage, add sage with a heavy hand for that country kitchen taste. For a spicy sausage, add ¼ teaspoon cayenne. Form into patties or rolls shaping the meat stuff into natural casings to make links.

If freezing the sausage, do not add salt or sage or it will cause an off flavor. Can freeze six months in freezer.

Contributor writes that she has been making this recipe for many years. Her farmer husband wanted a recipe that tasted like the sausage his grandmother made.

SWEET AND SOUR PORK

Combine in bowl for marinade:

1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon soy sauce

Add to marinade and let stand 20 to 30 minutes:

1 pound lean pork, cubed

Prepare and set aside:

1 clove garlic, minced
4 slices ginger root, finely chopped (optional)
1 green pepper, cut in chunks
1 onion, cut in wedges
¾ cup pineapple chunks, drained (reserve juice)

Combine and set aside:

3 tablespoons vinegar
3 tablespoons brown sugar
2 tablespoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon cornstarch
¾ cup pineapple juice

Heat in a wok or skillet:

4 tablespoons oil

Dredge pork cubes in cornstarch. Fry on all sides until brown. Remove from skillet and keep warm. Pour off excess fat if necessary, leaving about 2 tablespoons. Stir-fry garlic, ginger, peppers, and onions 2 to 3 minutes. Add tomato chunks, pineapple chunkds, and sauce ingredients. Cook just until sauce thickens and clears. Return pork to skillet, heat to bubbling, and serve immediately with hot rice. Onions and peppers should be partially crisp. Serves 5.

PORK CHOP CASSEROLE

4 to 5 pork chops, ½ -inch thick
Salt and pepper to taste
1 can cream of mushroom soup

Brown chops on both sides. Season while frying. Place chops in 2-quart casserole and add soup. Bake at 375 degrees for 45 minutes or until done.

HAM PUFFS

2 cups ground ham, cooked
1 cup ground cooked carrots
3 tablespoons melted butter
2 eggs, beaten
2 cups milk
2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Sift together the dry ingredients. Beat eggs and add milk; then add the flour mixture. Add ground carrots and ham and the melted butter. Bake in greased casserole or muffin tins at 400 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes. Serves 6 to 8.

Today's leaner, meatier and more tender pork calls for changes in cooking methods, but the good taste of pork remains and it continues to be one of the richest known food source of thiamin (B1.

PORK & VEGETABLE STEW WITH DUMPLINGS

½ pound pork, cubed
1 medium-sized onion
2 pints boiling water
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
3 medium-sized potatoes
3 carrots
3 turnips
½ head cabbage

Fry pork cubes and minced onion together until slightly browned. Add boiling water and season with salt and pepper. Dice potatoes, carrots, and turnips and add to meat. Shred cabbage and add 15 minutes before serving; add dumplings to hot stew. Use following recipe for dumplings. Cover tightly and cook for 10 to 12 minutes. Serves 6.

For dumplings:

1½ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 egg
2 to 3 tablespoons milk

Sift dry ingredients together. Add beaten egg and milk. Stir until well blended. The dough should be stiff enough to drop from a spoon. Drop dough from a teaspoon into boiling stew.

PORK HASH ON TOAST

2 tablespoons minced onion
3 tablespoons margarine
2 to 3 cups finely diced roast pork
1 to 2 cups finely diced, cooked potatoes
1 pimiento, chopped
1 hard cooked egg, chopped
1 cup meat stock or bouillon (leftover gravy may also be used, but then omit 2 egg yolks)
1 can undiluted evaporated milk
2 egg yolks
Salt and pepper
Toast points

Cook onion in the margarine 2 to 3 minutes. Add meat and potato and heat, stirring. Add next four ingredients and heat. Just before serving, beat egg yolks slightly and stir into hot mixture. Cook, stirring, until slightly thickened. Season to taste and serve on toast. Serves 4 to 6.

Grand prize winner of the 1989 National Beef Cook Off contest was Linda Wright of Medford Lakes, New Jersey. She took home $15,000 for her "Best of Beef" winner. Sixty-four contestants competed for $32,000 in cash and prizes.

The publicity generated by the Cook-Off will reach millions of consumers with information about the taste, versatility and nutrition of beef.

MEXICAN FLANK STEAK WITH MOCK TAMALES

1½ -pound beef flank steak
⅓ cup fresh lemon juice
⅓ cup olive oil
6 tablespoons minced jalapeno peppers
1 tablespoon minced fresh cilantro
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ground pepper
Linda's Sassy Salsa*
Mock Tamales
Fresh lemon slices
Jalapeno peppers
Cilatnro sprigs

Place beef flank steak in utility dish. Combine lemon juice, olive oil, jalapeno peppers, cilantro, salt and pepper; pour over steak, turning to coat. Cover and refrigerate 6 to 8 hours or overnight.

Prepare the following:

Linda's Sassy Salsa

2 tomatillos, hull and tough skin removed
3 large cloves garlic, peeled
2 plum tomatoes, finely chopped
3 plum tomatoes, coarsely chopped
3 jalapeno peppers, thinly sliced
¼ cup coarsely chopped fresh cilantro
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper

Process tomatillos and garlic in food processor or blender until pulverized. Combine tomatillo mixture, tomatoes, jalapeno peppers, cilantro, lemon juice and pepper. Refrigerate, covered 1 hour or overnight to blend flavors.

Mock Tamales

1 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese and Muenster cheese
2 tablespoons minced green onions and tops
6 flour tortillas (7-inch diameter)

Combine cheeses and onions. Divide mixture evenly and put in center of each tortillo. Fold bottom side of tortilla over filling. Fold two sides over filling; then fold top side over filling, envelope fashion. Wrap each tortilla in 8x12-inch piece of foil, twisting each end. Serves 6.

Remove steak from marinade and place on grid over medium coals; reserve marinade. Place Mock Tamales around outer edge of grill. Grill steak 12 to 15 minutes to desired doneness, turning once and basting occasionaly with marinade. Turn tamales halfway through cooking time. Place steak and tamales on serving platter. Spoon ¼ cup Linda's Sassy Salsa over tamales. Garnish platter with lemon slices, jalapeno peppers and cilantro sprigs. Carve steak across the grain into thin slices, and serve with remaining salsa. Serves 6.

QUESTION — Joan Texter of Sinking Spring, requests a recipe for shoo fly pies that taste like those served at Good 'N Plenty Restaurant. Is there a secret to keep them from cooking over while baking?

ANSWER — Catherine Shearer, Greencastle, requested recipes using sausage. Thanks to an unidentified reader who writes that the following makes a good breakfast brunch.

Spicy Sausage & Potato Casserole

1½ cups thinly sliced potatoes
½ to ¾ pound Italian sausage, cut in pieces
½ cup green pepper
½ cup chopped onion
6 eggs
½ cup milk
¾ teaspoon baking powder
¼ cup grated cheese
½ cup tomato sauce
4 ounces mozzarella cheese

Butter a 2-quart casserole, arrange first four ingredients in casserole. Bake at 375 degrees for 35 minutes. (If you use bulk sausage, brown lightly, pour off excess grease, and spread over potatoes). Beat together next 4 ingredients; add salt and pepper. Pour over first mixture, reduce heat to 325 degrees. Bake for 25 to 30 minutes. Drizzle with tomato sauce, sprinkle with mozzarella cheese. Bake an additional 10 minutes. Serves 6.

ANSWER — Rose Ann Martin, Ephrata, wanted screw-on jar lids for Welch's 40-fluid-ounce grape juice jars. Thanks M.L. of Pine Grove, who mailed in a box top from Ball Mason Jar Company, from which she purchased that size several years ago. If you can't find them at your grocery store, write to the company.

ANSWER — A Millmont reader requests recipes for Oreo® cookies and for candy apples. Thanks to Ruth Ann Zimmerman, Ephrata; Mrs. R. Boyd, Alburtis; and to an anonymous feader for answering these requests.

Candy Apples

8 apples
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
3 cups granulated sugar
1¼ cups water
Red food coloring

Wash and dry apples well. Insert skewers. Place sugar, cream of tartar and water in heavy saucepan. Heat slowly until sugar is dissolved. When mixture starts boiling, add food coloring until a bright red. Do not stir. Wipe sides of pan carefully with a damp cloth. Boil without stirring until brittle when tested in cold water. Candy thermometer should read 290 to 295 degrees. Dip apples into syrup. Set on buttered cookie sheet.

Carmel Apples

1 14-ounce can sweetened condensed milk
1 cup white sugar
1½ cups white corn syrup

Cook mixture to firm soft boil stage, stirring constantly. Add:

1 teaspoon vanilla

Cool slightly and dip the apples.

Oreo® Cookies

1 package devil's food cake mix
2 eggs
2 tablespoons vegetable oil
2 tablespoons water
½ cup chocolate flavored beverage mix
1 envelop unflavored gelatin
1 cup solid white vegetable shortening
4½ cups confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons water

Blend cake mix, eggs, water, vegetable oil and beverage mix and shape into a ball. Let stand 20 minutes. Form dough into ½ -inch balls and place on greased cookie sheet. Flatten each with a smooth bottom of a drinking glass, greased once and dipped into the beverage mix powder each time.

Bake at 400 degrees for eight minutes. Remove cookies at once and immediately flatten with the back of a spatula. Let cool 20 minutes. Makes about 100 cookies.

For filling, place gelatin in a heatproof cup. Add ¼ cup cold water, stir well and place in pan of hot water until mixture clears and gelatin is softened. Beat vegetable shortening until fluffy. Add sugar gradually and beat for 10 minutes. Mix in vanilla. Beat in cooled gelatin mixture. The gelatin keeps the filling in place inside the cookies. Spread about one teaspoon filling between two cookies. Press gently together so that filling comes to edges of cookies. Chill until set. Makes 50 cookies.

ANSWER — Rose Ann Martin, Ephrata, requested a recipe for a chunky granola. Thanks Elaine Oberholtzer, Myerstown, for sharing two that her family enjoys.

Breakfast Cereal

5 cups quick oatmeal
¼ to½ cup brown sugar
1 cup light or dark corn syrup
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup wheat germ
1 cup coconut, optional
1 cup sunflower seeds, optional
1 cup raisins, optional
2 teaspoons vanilla

Mix all dry ingredients in large bowl. Sprinkle vanilla and corn syrup over mixture, then mix well. Bake in roast pan or large dishpan at 250 degrees for 45 minutes. Stir occasionally.

Natural Cereal

Mix together:

6 tablespoons margarine, melted
½ cup honey
½ cup brown sugar

In a large roast pan or other baking dish, crush 2-quarts cornflakes or wheaties until reduced to 1 quart. Add:

½ cup coconut
¾ cup raisins
1 heaping quart quick oats
1 teaspoon salt

Mix well; add honey mixture and mix well.

Bake at 225 to 250 degrees for 45 minutes. Stir occasionally. After mixture is baked, add 2 tablespoons peanut butter.

ROAST PORK WITH POTATOES

1 5-pound pork roast
Garlic powder to taste

Season meat and roast in uncovered roaster at 425 degrees for one hour.

Remove meat from pan and drain off grease. Add:

½ cup boiling water
10 cups sliced raw potatoes
1 cup sliced raw onions
Chopped parsley
2 teaspoons butter

Place meat on top of potato mixture. Bake for one hour or until desired doneness. Serves 6.

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH STUFFED PORK SHOULDER

1 boned pork shoulder
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
4 cups fresh or 2 (16-ounce) cans sauerkraut, rinsed and drained
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon packed brown sugar

Heat oven to 450 degrees. Line a shallow raisting pan with foil. Sprinkle meat with salt and pepper. Open roast and fill cavity with 1¼ cups sauerkraut. Fold meat over sauerkraut and fasten shut with skewers.

Score fat on top with sharp knife. Mix flour and sugar and coat meat with mixture. Place meat, fat side up, in pan. Roast 10 minutes; reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees and roast for 1½ hours. Carefully pour off all but 2 tablespoons drippings. Put remaining sauerkraut around roast in pan, stirring to scrape up browned bits on bottom. Roast for another 35 to 45 minutes until meat thermometer inserted in thickest portion of meat registers 160 degrees. Remove roast to cutting board. Let stand 5 to 10 minutes.

Meanwhile spoon sauerkraut from pan onto serving platter. Slice meat and arrange on top. Garnish platter with cinnamon apples and mashed potato rosettes if desired.

NOTE: This was a favorite meal of former president James Buchanan.

CASHEW PORK STIR-FRY

1 pound pork tenderloin
1 tablespoon grated orange peel
¾ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon cornstarch
3 tablespoons soy sauce
⅓ cup corn syrup
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
2 tablespoons cooking oil
2 large carrots, sliced diagonally
2 stalks celery, sliced diagonally
½ cup cashews

Cut pork tenderloin into thin strips. Set aside. Combine next six ingredients, stirring well. Heat one tablespoon oil in large skillet over medium heat. Add carrots and celery, stir frying about three minutes. Remove vegetables and set aside. Pour remaining oil into skillet. Add pork and stir fry for about three minutes. Return vegetables to pan, add orange juice mixture and cashews. Cook, stirring constantly, over medium high heat, until thickened. Serve over rice.

Question Corner

ANSWER — Inez Ware, Waynesboro, VA, requested a recipe for making A-1 steak sauce. Thanks to Chris Hoover, Stevens, who sent in a recipe.

Steak Sauce

1 cup catsup
⅓ cup coarsely chopped onion
1 large garlic clove, peeled and smashed
¼ cup dry white wine or water
¼ cup Worcestershire sauce
¼ cup fresh lemon juice
¼ cup white distilled vinegar
2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon prepared mustard

Mix and simmer 30 minutes, uncovered. Stir occasionally. Strain to remove onion and garlic or leave in for chunky sauce. Pour in clean bottles. Can or store in refrigerator.

ANSWER — For those who have an abundance of zucchini, Mary Jane Reinecker, York Springs, sent a recipe to help.

Zucchini Bars With Carmel Frosting

Sift together:
3 cups flour
1½ teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon cloves

Cream together:
¾ cup margarine
1 cup brown sugar
½ cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs

Combine both mixtures; gradually add:
2 cups peeled and grated zucchini
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup butterscotch chips OR raisins

Pour into greased and floured 10x15-inch jelly roll pan. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes. Frost with carmel frosting:
½ cup margarine
1 cup brown sugar
¼ cup milk
1 to 1½ cups confectioners' sugar

Melt margarine. Add brown sugar and bring to a boil for 2 minutes. Add milk and bring to a second boil. Remove from heat. Add enough powdered sugar to spread when cool. Cut in squares.

ANSWER — Lisa Barnes of Christiana requested a recipe for peanut butter fudge. Thanks to a reader who wrote that this one is "good, easy and different" from those previously printed.

Peanut Butter Fudge

2 cups sugar
⅔ cup milk

Cook milk and sugar until the mixture reaches 234 degrees or it forms a soft ball in cold water. Remove from heat. Stir in one small jar marshmallow cream and 1 cup peanut butter; mix until well blended. Pour into buttered 9x9-inch pan.

PDPP To Co-Sponsor Museum Exhibit

At the request of the Academy of Natural Sciences in Philadelphia, the Pennsylvania Dairy Promotion Program has agreed to co-sponsor the Academy's three-month special exhibit, "COWS! Fact & Fancy," which opens to the public October 15.

For the October 14 preview, the PDPP has arranged for appearances by Dairy Princesses and the popular animated pink cow costumed character, dairy food preparation demonstrations, and dairy promotional item giveaways. The PDPP will coordinate similar activities during the exhibition's November 18-19 "Cow Round-Up" weekend.

"COWS! Fact & Fancy," which runs through January 15, 1990, will feature four main areas, each addressing a different aspect of cows: "Evolution and Domestication," highlighting specimens from the Academy's vetebrate paleontology collection; "Cows as Symbol," a traveling photography exhibit curated by the International Museum of Photography at George Eastman House; "Cow Biology," that will include a walk-through model of a cow's stomach; and "Cow Facts," that combines fun with information on bovine daily habits, needs and behavior.

The exhibit will be at the Academy of Natural Sciences Museum, 19th and Parkway in Philadelphia, and will be open from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday; and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Admission is $5.00 for adults, $4.00 for children, and $4.50 for seniors and military personnel. For further information on the exhibit, phone: (215) 299-1020.

SIMPLE ECONOMY.

The Kubota L2050 compact diesel tractor was designed to combine versatility with operating economy, pure and simple.

With eight forward speeds, the Kubota L2050's powerful, four-cycle 20PTO HP diesel engine delivers ample power for most farming tasks. Direct fuel injection increases fuel economy.

High torque rise allows the Kubota L2050 to recover from sudden load increases that will stall most conventional engines.

Versatility is guaranteed by optional quick attach implements like a front loader, box scraper, mid-mount mower and tiller.

KUBOTA
Nothing like it on earth.

THE QUICK REVERSE.

You might say the L3750 is quick on its tires With eight forward and eight reverse speeds plus your choice of a mechanical or hydraulic shuttle-shift, all kinds of front loader jobs go quick

The L3750 is even a smooth mover under the hood A new 5-cylinder diesel engine improves performance over a smaller engine, without the fuel consumption of a bigger engine

Other features that help make the work go quickly include a cleanly designed operator platform with the gearshift controls within easy reach at your fingertips Not underfoot

So see the 36 PTO horsepower Kubota L3750 soon Or make that quick

KUBOTA
Nothing like it on earth.

DIRECT INJECTION DIESEL.

Kubota has a compact tractor with direct fuel injection. The L2250 has a 3-cylinder engine with 21 PTO horsepower. Plus it has direct injection for improved starts in cold weather and better fuel economy, too.

Other standard features, not so standard on most tractors of this size, include rear- and mid-mount PTO for maximum versatility when it comes to attaching implements. Surprising, wet disc brakes are standard, too. Power steering is standard on the deluxe model.

Our operator platform is designed for increased comfort, with all the important controls at your fingertips Not underfoot.

To find out more about the Kubota L2250, please direct your questions to us.

KUBOTA

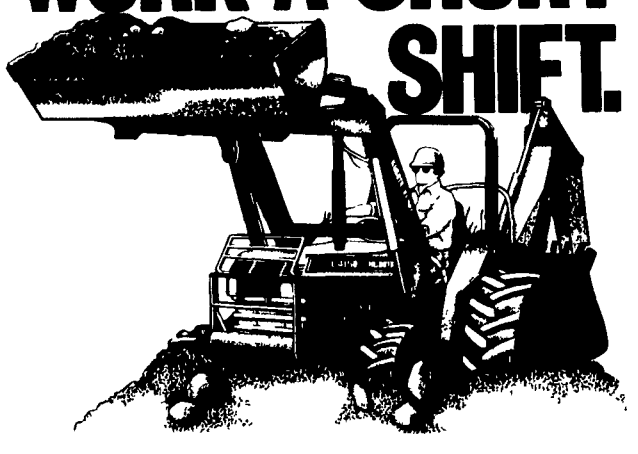
WORK A SHORT SHIFT.



The Kubota L4150 makes short work out of shifting from forward to reverse And that makes loading, leveling, grading or any other kind of work on a construction site go faster, too

It comes with an 8 × 8 partially synchronized manual transmission. Or choose an optional hydraulic shuttle shift for quick reverse capability You never have to touch the clutch

There are also eight forward and eight reverse speeds So it's easy to select the best speed for any job.

So come see the Kubota L4150 It could help shorten your workday

Animals And Kids Become Friends At Bloomsburg Fair

Imagine growing as tall as this clown!

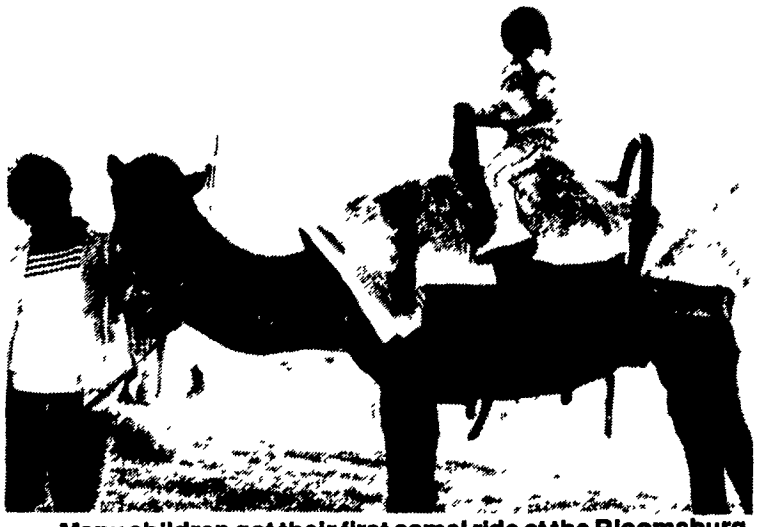
Under the petting zoo tent, visitors to the fair enjoyed feeding the many different kinds of animals.

The camels and elephants seemed accustomed to walking slowly and appeared docile so children were not afraid to ride them.

This elephant didn't allow his three passengers to interfer with his morning snack. As he lumbered around the field, his trunk scooped up numerous mouthfuls of hay.



Many children got their first camel ride at the Bloomsburg Fair during its week long activities.

Bran Muffins For Breakfast

When you pass through your favorite supermarket bakery do you gravitate to the bran muffins in an attempt to satisfy your urge for sweets as a healthy alternative to doughnuts? Is this really a good shopping strategy? The answer is maybe yes, maybe no. This past spring the Washington Post tested the image of bran muffins against nutritional reality by sending samples of local bran muffins to an independent food laboratory for analyses. The analyses showed that bran muffins are better for you than doughnuts, croissants or pastries, but their size is a nutritional drawback.

Compare the calories from fat for these breakfast treats. The cheesecake is thrown in for the sake of comparison.

Food	Calories	% Calories From Fat
English Muffin	140	6
Two slices whole-wheat toast, unbuttered	140	13
Bagel, plain	200	9
Danish pastry (plain)	235	49
Glazed doughnut	235	50
Croissant	235	46
Cheesecake	280	58
Bran muffin, average size	294	21

Although the bran muffin is highest in total calories of the foods shown, it actually has the fewest calories per ounce of any food listed. In terms of calories per ounce it is closest to breads such as bagels, whole-wheat toast and English muffins. So bran muffin batter is not high in calories - its calorie wallop is a function of the cup size of the muffin tin.

Bran muffins are not a high-fat food. A modest 21 percent of their calories comes from fat, less than the 30 percent recommended by the American Heart Association. They are definitely a superior choice over croissants, Danish pastry, glazed doughnuts and cheesecake if you want to lower your fat intake. However, they are not as low as English muffins, plain bagels or two slices of toast that are unbuttererd. If you slather cream cheese or butter on these foods, then a plain bran muffin begins to look like a low-fat alternative.

Bran muffins do contain a substantial amount of fiber - about 6 grams per muffin. The National Cancer Institute considers a food with 4 or more grams of fiber per serving a "rich" source. The muffin provides this amount of fiber because it is so big. You can get the same amount of fiber from foods that are lower in calories and that cost less. For example: four slices of unbuttered whole-wheat toast provide 8 grams of fiber for 280 calories and costs about 18 cents; a bowl of Fiber-One* contains 13 grams of fiber, 100 calories (with one-half cup of skim milk) and costs about 21 cents.

When selecting bran muffins read the label carefully to see that the muffin is made with an unsaturated vegetable oil and not palm or coconut oil. Comparison shop for muffin size. If you have will power, eat only one-half the muffin to reduce the calories and still enjoy the taste. Sliced fruit, half a bran muffin and a glass of milk still make a good breakfast.

What's New In The Supermarket?

In an effort to satisfy our never-ending search for novelty and change, food manufacturers introduced 3,581 new food products onto grocery store shelves last year. Although the development of new products is costly, and the competition from other manufacturers is keen, new products were introduced in record numbers last year to meet the perceived consumer wants.

What does the American consumer want? In 1987, the overriding quality desired by consumers was convenience. This was reflected in the tremendous growth in microwaveable foods In the last year, Americans increased their spending on microwaveable foods by 64 percent Given that 75 percent of Americans have a microwave at home and 70 percent have access to one at work, the continued growth of this category looks promising.

In addition to convenience, American consumers also consider health concerns when selectig food products. This is most clearly evidenced by the large growth in fiber- and calcium-added products. Also reflective of the growing concern about healthful eating has been the growth in the yogurt and bottled water categories.

Despite the growing concern about health issues, Americans are not willing to sacrifice taste for healthful foods and manufacturers are faced with the challenge of developing convenience foods that are both healthful and tasty.

The driving forces that influenced the introduction of new products in 1987 are likely to remain strong influences in the future. Given the prediction that 76 percent of adults aged 25-44 will be working outside the home by 1990, it is very likely that consumers will continue to desire convenience. Also, as the population becomes older, health concerns will probably continue to be an important issue. It seems highly unlikely that Americans will ever forego enjoying the taste of food.

Exhibit Homespun

GREEN LANE (Montgomery Co.) — For two weekends in October the Goschenhoppen Historials will sponsor a special exhibit at Red Men's Hall in Green Lane. The show is simply titled, "Homespun" and everyone is invited to attend. The dates are Friday evenings October 20, 27 (7:30 p.m. - 9:30 p.m.; Saturday, October 21 and 28 (10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.) and Sunday afternoon October 22, 29 (1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.)

The large show on two levels of the Hall will feature homespun linen, wool, cotton and silk household articles, agricultural textiles, decorative needlework, bedding, and clothing. In addition there will be the weaver's loom and geers, flax wheels and reels, large wheels, manuscript dye receipts, sewing tools and flax processing equipment on display.

The highlight will be a traditional Pennsylvania German house erected in the large meeting room of Red Men's Hall. This house with appropriate furnishings will enable some of the textiles to be exhibited in a proper folk cultural setting.

On Saturday, October 21, Mr. William Leinbach, master weaver, will be weaving patterns and linen tablecloth yardage on one of the Historians 18th century looms. Other demonstrations of homespun production will also take place during the exhibit.

MICROWAVE MINUTES

By JOYCE BATTCHER

No-fuss microwave breakfasts have always been fast and easy to make. Here are three good examples.

Glorified Oatmeal (below) is a superhealthy variation of traditional oatmeal. Cook oatmeal in a large enough measure or deep bowl. It bubbles up and over edges of all but the largest cereal bowl. I fina a one-quart measure is a good size for cooking two servings. I like oatmeal with texture, but if you like yours softer, I've added a variation below the recipe.

Microwave Breakfast Pizza is a quick no-fuss breakfast to make and eat on hectic mornings. Make the topping ahead and keep it on hand for a few days worth of quick breakfasts.

If you're in a rush, pop the top on the heated cheese-topped bagel, wrap in waxed paper and run. Eat it as soon as possible or before it cools. Or, take an unheated Microwave Breakfast Pizze (well wrapped in plastic wrap) along to work with you. Remove from plastic wrap and heat on a paper napkin in the cafeteria microwave. Be careful not to overheat. Commercial microwave ovens often operate at a higher setting than home microwaves. If you can set the cooking time, use less than at home. Or, watch and remove your breakfast before the cheese starts to bubble.

One-Dish Bacon, Egg and Toast Breakfast is another make-ahead breakfast. It calls for the traditional bacon (or ham) and eggs, but cooks them in a new, no-fuss style. Medium power works best in this breakfast strata for even cooking. Standing time is necessary so the center gets completely done.

Again, if you're in a big rush, take this breakfast along to eat on the way to work. After the mixture has firmed up, cut it and put the pieces in a sandwich bag to eat on the run.

GLORIFIED OATMEAL

1½ cups warm water
1 sweet apple, unpeeled and diced
½ cup quick or old-fashioned oatmeal (not instant)
¼ cup oat bran
¼ cup raisins
½ teaspoon salt (optional)
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash nutmeg (optional)

Measure water into microwave-safe 4- to 6-cup measure. Add diced apple and cover with waxed paper. Microwave (High) 4 to 5 minutes or until water boils. Stir in remaining ingredients. Microwave (High), uncovered, 2 to 3 minutes or until slightly less than desired consistency. Stir; then let stand, covered, 1 to 4 minutes or until desired thickness. Spoon into individual bowls. Top with milk and serve. Makes two large servings.

Variation: For softer oatmeal, stir together all ingredients; microwave (High), uncovered, 6 to 7 minutes or until close to desired doneness.

Hine: Recipe may be doubled. Double ingredient amounts. Microwave 8 to 9 minutes, then 4 to 5 minutes in a microwave-safe 2-quart measure. Leftovers may be refrigerated and reheated in a microwave-safe cereal bowl. Microwave (High), covered, about 2 minutes per serving.

Each serving: 213 calories, 4g protein, 1g fat, 48g carbohydrate, 6mg sodium,) cholesterol.

MICROWAVE BREAKFAST PIZZA

2 cups shredded Muenster cheese at room temperature
4 teaspoons soft butter or margarine
1 can (8 ounces) curshed pineapple, well drained
Toasted bagel halves
Ground cinnamon or nutmeg

Stir together cheese and butter until well combined. Stir in pineapple. Spread on a toasted bagel half; set on a plate or sheet of waxed paper. Sprinkle lightly with cinnamon or nutmeg. Microwave (High) 30 to 45 seconds or until cheese starts to melt. Makes enought topping for 8 large bagel halves (8 servings).

Hint: Topping may be made ahead and stored, covered, in refrigerator for 3 to 5 days.

Each serving: 228 calories, 10g protein, 11g fat, 21g carbohydrate, 176mg sodium, 33mg cholesterol.

ONE-DISH BACON, EGG AND TOAST BREAKFAST FOR TWO

2 eggs
½ cup skim or low-fat milk
¼ teaspoon salt (optional)
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
Dash pepper
¼ cup shredded Cheddar cheese
2 slices cooked and crumbled bacon or ½ cup diced cooked ham
2 slices firm whole-wheat bread, well toasted
Butter or margarine
Paprika

Beat together eggs, milk and seasonings in a microwave-safe individual casserole (about 2-cup size). Stir in cheese and bacon or ham. Spread toasted bread lightly with butter. Cut bread into cubes and add to egg mixture, pushing cubes into egg mixture. Sprinkle lightly with paprika. Cover tightly and refrigerate for several hours or overnight.

To cook: Cover casserole with waxed paper. Microwave on Medium (50 percent power, 325-350 watts) 7 to 8 minutes, rotating dish once, or until cooked toward center. Let stand, covered, 5 to 10 minutes or until set in center. Cut in wedges or quarters to serve. Makes 2 servings.

Each serving: 288 calories, 24g protein, 17g fat, 16g carbohydrate, 985 sodium, 281mg cholesterol.

Update On Use Of The Micro-Dome Canner —

Since writing about the Micro-Dome canner in an August Microwave Minutes, I've acquired some new information that you should have. Even though there seems to be (since March 1988) no new non-company published research about the safety of Micro-Dome canned foods, especially low-acid ones, there's some new information that will clearly tell you not to buy or use a Micro-Dome at this time. I'll keep you updated as I learn more.

The following was provided by Dr. William Schafer, University of Minnesota Extension food technologist, who passed on information from the University of California, Davis. It's in the form of a letter from Micro-Dome Consumer Service Department to its customers. It warns customers not to use their Micro-Dome because "it appears that the plastic resin used to manufacture the product may have physical property variations that could cause the Micro-Dome to malfunction and result in harm to you or your property."

Questions For Joyce?

Do you have a question about microwave cooking? Send it to Microwave Minutes, c/o Extra Newspaper Features, P.O. Box 6118, Rochester, MN 55903. Please include a self-addressed, stamped, business-size envelope.

Recipes in this column are tested in 600- and 650-watt microwave ovens. With an oven of different wattage output, timings may need slight adjustment.

Joyce Battcher is an independent home economist microwave specialist. She is author of "Microwave Family Favorites" and editor of "A Batch of Ideas" newsletter.

Hay Creek Apple Festival

MORGANTOWN (Chester Co.) — If the 20th century is moving too fast for you, take a day to slow down, to spend a day with your family in a tranquil rural setting, and to eat some of the finest homemade traditional American foods. Come visit the Hay Creek Apple Festival at Historic Joanna Furnace on October 14 from 7 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Visitors' mouths will water as they walk through the festival grounds. The main theme of this festival is dedicated to apples and apple foods. Mixed with the aroma of all the wonderful foods are the scents of open wood fires used to cook the soups and the hundreds of gallons of famous Hay Creek apple butter. The Festival cooks urge visitors to come early to get a taste of Millie Shirey's all-you-can-eat apple pancake and sausage breakfast. After breakfast, they can visit the annual flea market and antique dealers' stands, talk to the early American craftsmen and take the self-guided walking tour of the historic furnace complex. By this time Dot and Harry Trate will be taking the first batches of Hay Creek apple butter off the fires and getting it ready for sale.

After sampling the apple butter on some of Sarah Bannon's still-warm homemade bread, it's off to Janis Shirey's Pageant of Threshing where visitors can see how the process of threshing grains has changed since biblical times. Nearby, steam powered sawmills, shingle mills and a bucksaw will be operating.

By noon, visitors can follow their noses to the food stands and enjoy almost any type of apple meal, dessert or treat imaginable. After lunch, everyone young and old, can enjoy numerous early American games from horseshoes to mill game to parchesi. Between the games folks are invited to join the small groups of bluegrass and traditional musicians and even sing along. And after a mid afternoon snack, anyone can talk to the resident archaeologists who are working on the Historic Joanna Furnace site or simply join in the fun of building a scarecrow and taking it home.

If knowing about early American history is important, the Hay Creek Apple Festival makes it easy. If eating is a priority, the Hay Creek Apple Festival is a must.

The Hay Creek Apple Festival will be held at Historic Joanna Furnace three miles north of Morgantown on PA Rte. 10. Visitor parking will be AT THE FESTIVAL SITE. Visitors are advised to follow the signs to the entrance roadway. Admission and parking are FREE.

Raindate is Sunday, October 15. For further information call 717/293-9325.

Cooking over an open fire, making beams for building, and many other housewright crafts will be demonstrated during the Hay Creek Apple Festival.

Financial Counselors To Be Trained

HONESDALE (Carroll Co.) — A new program designed to train volunteers to assist families in managing their money is being instituted by Wayne County Cooperative Extension.

Volunteers will receive three days of training in January. Training topics enable counselors to assist families in managing credit, analyzing insurance coverage, budgeting and recordkeeping. The volunteer counselors will be taught counseling techniques and made aware of available community resources. Counselors are given case studies to solve throughout the training. In addition, they study the required handbook and become familiar with various worksheets that they will be using with client families.

Local county extension personnel will act as a consultant to the counselor, and requests for counseling are made through the county extension office. Counselors will be encouraged to work with one or two families per year. Most counselors will devote one or two hours a week meeting with one or two families, plus the time necessary to prepare for counseling sessions.

To secure information about becoming a volunteer financial counselor, contact Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, Court House, Honesdale, at 253-5970 ext. 239.

The competition hasn't kept up with Massey-Ferguson. Have you?

Still the real leader.

Massey-Ferguson caught the competition by surprise when they introduced the revolutionary M-F Autotronic tractors 3 years ago.

Today the competition's newest models still can't match the productivity of the M-F Autotronic tractors. Here's why:

Tighter turning.

When making tight turns on the headlands, you need to quickly disengage the differential lock, but keep the 4WD to pull you sharply through the turn.

- Raise your 3-point hitch or touch a brake and M-F Autotronic tractors automatically disengage the differential lock, but continues the 4WD so you can turn faster and sharper. The competition shuts off their front-wheel assist, or does nothing.

Reduced slippage.

How often have you wasted fuel and time from unnecessary wheel spin, or even been stopped when one wheel dug in, just because you forgot to re-engage the differential lock or 4WD?

- Drop the three-point hitch and M-F Autotronic tractors automatically re-engage the differential lock to prevent spinning and lost time.
- On 4WD models, touch the differential lock and it automatically engages the 4WD.

Improved control.

Stopping a heavy load can be hard on your tractor and your nerves. But it doesn't have to be.

- As soon as you apply the brakes on 4WD models, the tractor instantly engages the 4WD to give you effective 4-wheel braking and maximum control.

Gentler PTO.

Independent PTO systems can be pretty hard on shear pins, clutches and implements.

- M-F Autotronic tractors automatically measure the PTO load and engage the clutch smoothly and progressively to prevent damage.

Save fuel and tires.

4WD is great in the field, but not on the road.

- M-F Autotronic tractors automatically disengage the 4WD at speeds over 9 mph (14 KPH) for better fuel economy and less tire wear.
- Slow down, and 4WD is re-engaged for maximum control and traction.

Compare all the benefits. See and drive the competition's copies of the M-F Autotronic tractors. Then stop by your M-F Dealer and see the real value and performance that has made Massey-Ferguson the Western World's largest tractor manufacturer.

Then, if you still think their tractor is better, buy it.

The Mase family has a wall full of trophies for their Brown Swiss. They are especially happy with their recent sell of a two-week-old calf for $1,900.

Meet The Family Of Li'l Miss Lebanon County

BY LOU ANN GOOD

LEBANON (Lebanon Co.) — "A beautiful cow is a beautiful cow regardless of color," remarks Gary Mase, then he flashes a mischievous grin and adds, "But it is always nice to beat the Holstein's records."

Not that Mase doesn't like Holsteins. He has about 20 of them sprinkled throughout his 60-head herd, but he is quick to admit that his true love is for the docile Brown Swiss.

Recently, one of his two-week-old calves topped the state sale with a price tag of $1,900. The calf's dam was Mase's Meadow Hill King Beatrice, which is an Excellent and boasts a 30,000 pound record.

Gary and his wife Patty have more records of which they can brag. The Mase's have several generations of 30,000 pound milking Swiss. One was nominated as an All American senior calf. Three times they topped the Maryland Mid Atlantic calf sale. They have five homebred Excellent cows.

"When our first cow hit 30,000 pounds, Mase said, "we thought we had achieved something, and then our second cow hit 30,000 pounds before the first finished lactation—now that was exciting."

Last year, Jessie Improver Lena was high cow in the county for protein in overall breeds. "It wasn't a fluke," he said. "She's going to repeat it because she's doing even better now."

Cows are like family to the Mases. "I've cried more than a couple of times when I had to sell them or they died," Gary admits. "I don't think of each one alone, but as a cow family and the generation that follows it. I get attached. Sometimes I have a cow that does good for a couple of years and then she slacks off. I'm prone to give her another chance. Maybe she has calving or feeding problems."

What is the secret of the Mase's success? Gary credits feeding calves on nursed cows. "I put several calves in a pen with one cow, that might have a poor udder but still gives lots of milk, for two months, he explained."

He recently ran an experiment when he had many calves born at the same time. Some he put in hutches; others with a nursing cow. Within two months the nursing calves were four to five inches taller and much heavier than those raised in hutches.

"Sure," Gary admits, "I worry a bit about Johnes, but there's many ways diseases can be carried and it isn't really proven that nursing calves get it easier. The calves are bigger and healthier—and that's what counts in the show ring."

So far, the Mases have not had any trouble with Johnes or with other diseases prone to nursing calves.

But the threat of disease does influence Mase's decision in some areas. This year, the Mase's did not attend the All American Show.

"My calves are too valuable to run to shows with the T.B. scare and everything," Mase said.

The decision was difficult for Gary who definitely delights in showing. He said, "Shows are cheap advertisement that gives you contacts, puts your name in the paper and in the breed magazines. I consider it routine work that is part of my job so it was really difficult not going this year."

"He has withdrawal symptoms every year he doesn't show," Patty said. "It's especially hard on him when he knows he has a better one than the one that won."

Gary nods his head and said, 'I'm a competitor. I like to win."

Gary farms with his dad, Clarence. For the past seven years, Gary is in charge of the dairy end and his dad takes care of the field work on their 70 acres.

"You can say I started farming with my dad looking over my shoulder, but you don't learn anything until you make your own mistakes."

Brown Swiss, a rare breed for Lebanon County, captured the Gary believes that the combination of family, dairy, and sports allows plenty of time to do a good job at all three when following a milking schedule of 12 a.m. and 12 p.m. From left: Patty; Alicia, 5; Agatha the cow; Gary, and Tony, 2. Because he was in school, Garrett, 9; missed the family picture.

Meet The Family

Mase family's interest when Gary's sister Grace began showing for 4-H.

When Gary started showing for 4-H in 1969, he followed his sister's footsteps.

"My friends used to kid me and accuse me of showing Swiss because I had no competition in the county so I could always win. But I really liked the Swiss breed better. They're more docile and queenly and have longevity. A three- or four-year-old Swiss can milk as good as any Holstein and you get increased butterfat."

The export market is big for Swiss. "If you have something decent and they want it, they'll pay good prices," Gary said.

In reflection Gary admits, "maybe I liked Swiss just because I wanted to be different from my friends. I like being different in a lot of things."

One of the things for which he gets the most razing for being different is his unusual milking schedule. He milks at 12 p.m. and at 12 a.m.

"Hey, he said. "I tried for years to conform to the regular schedule. But all the evening activities come over milking time so we changed it.

"Now we can go to games (Gary plays baseball and his seven-year-old son plays baseball and softball) and to family gatherings and we don't need to worry about milking cows. We stay out late and when we come home, we milk the cows. The next morning we can sleep in."

The milking schedule worked better for the Mases before they had school age children. Now Patty needs to get their seven-year-old ready for school. But, she said, "Since school started this year, I've been lucky. My husband only asked me to help with milking two times."

The hours work out well for Gary who claims to be a night person. "It might not work for everyone, but it works best for us," Gary said. "Now I can play baseball and not worry about getting there late."

The Mase family loves the togetherness that farm life brings. The parents enthusiasm for farming has been spreading to their children.

Five-year-old Alicia was crowned the Li'l Miss Lebanon County Dairy Princess and helps promote dairy products at public functions.

Garrett, 9; placed first in 4-H district competition. Then his calf got sick and although it recovered they decided not to expose it to other illnesses at state competition.

Two-year-old Tony follows Gary everywhere on the farm. He even tags along for the midnight milking. About 30 minutes later, Patti goes to the barn and finds him curled up in a wheelbarrow.

Last month's herd average for the Mase's Brown Swiss was 18,597 pounds with 731 of butterfat and 659 of protein.

Their Holstein average is 21,000 pounds with 750 butterfat and 673 protein.

Gary said he breeds his cows for improved cow type, not numbers. "If you improve the type, you increase your production as well. I had a cow with high numbers that an association wanted to contract, but I refused. I'd like to sell a bull for money, but if I can't guarantee it, I don't want to sell it."

"I'd like to get a 20,000 pound herd average, a few more big milk records. I dream of one of my cows being named All American or of being bred to an All American," Gary said.

Although setting records with his Brown Swiss has brought Gary much satisfaction, he said, "I'd like to see the Holsteins open their registration books. I got some awfully good Holsteins, too."

Farm Women Thrilled By Largest Fair On The East Coast

BY LOU ANN GOOD

BLOOMSBURG (Columbia Co.) — When the Lebanon tour bus edged into the parking lot of the Bloomsburg Fair, the riders gasped at the sprawling fairgrounds framed by six admission gates.

Bloomsburg Fair hailed as the biggest fair on the east coast, attracts approximately 650,000 visitors during its week long activities.

As the Lancaster County Society 3 of Farm Women and their guests scramble off the bus, one remarks, "I can hardly wait to see if it's still the same. It's been 15 years since I've been here."

A novice to the fair questions, "What's so special about Bloomsburg?"

A chorus of voices exclaims, "Oh, it's wonderful. It has harnessed pony races, bingo, arts and crafts, and shows and ...."

They were right. The immense fair, which ran from September 23 through the 30th, has all that and much more. It offers everything that both modern and old-fashioned fairs ever had. It's the only fair in the state that still sponsors its own stake races in the Harness Racing events.

For 135 years, Bloomsburg Fair has been attracting thousands with their bonanza displays of farm and garden products, food, hobbies, needlework, livestock, poultry, rabbits, horticulture, FFA and FHA projects.

Then there are animals. All kinds. Even elephants and camels for riding. For those who prefer to observe rather than participate, there is horse pulling and pony pulling in addition to the usual livestock shows with swine, goat, and cattle.

One of main objectives of the fair is to foster and improve agriculture. To show the extent of their agriculture exhibits, 13 classifications are listed under bantams.

It's definitely a fair where visitors should take a stuffed wallet. Clothes, housewares, food, equipment and buildings are for sale.

Vendors hawking their wares entice the crowd with promises, "Take a look at this, folks. Take a step closer and I'm going to tell you what I can do for you. You've seen this same item advertised on T.V. for $49. But I'm going to offer it to you at the special price of...."

Although country western music floats across the fairgrounds and at noontime clanging cymbals announce the band and drum majorettes of a local high school, some people believe the best thing at the fair is nature's quietness. Lucy Spangenburg of Manheim said, "Better than anything at the fair, I love the sultry breezes that blow across the fair grounds."

Cheers and screams from Reithoffer's Carnival, billed "The Aristocrat of Show Business," punctuate the air with excitement.

Many like Beryl Michael of Sporting Hill said, "I like to come to be with the crowd." But the majority admit that the biggest attraction at the fair is food. More than 1,000 concession stands cause Frederick Trump, fair president to claim, "We have the greatest cooks from all corners of the globe to tantalize your taste buds."

The wide of assortment of arts and crafts display the talents and imagination of Pennsylvania. "The heart of each artist is concealed within each creation," said Wilmer Kitchen, arts and crafts superintendent.

The horticulture show intrigued Miriam Hershey of Lititz. Exhibits of flowering plants, foliage plants, hanging baskets, cut flowers, and arrangements are artfully displayed.

"I love everything about the fair," said Elsie Hollinger of Lititz. 'It's a nice class of people, it has orderly exhibits and lots of benches."

Senior citizens especially enjoy the thousands of chairs for resting, tables for craft demonstrations and displays, free ice water, and free blood pressure tests.

Visitors can choose seats to watch shows such as animals of distinction, middle-earth marionettes, Cowboy Pickle and Rinky-Dinks Show, or racing pigs. But according to Ira Herr of Strasburg, the very best show is the dog show, which is billed as the oldest dog show in the USA.

Those interested in history and housing will enjoy a tour of the restored Caleb Barton farm house built in 1855. The restoration was kept close to the original and is furnished with period pieces loaned by area residents. Old looms were used to weave wool carpets in patterns typical on that period. Wallpaper was designed by a company that specializes in old patterns, and stencilling shows the artistic interest of the period. A four-seat outhouse sets at the rear of the house.

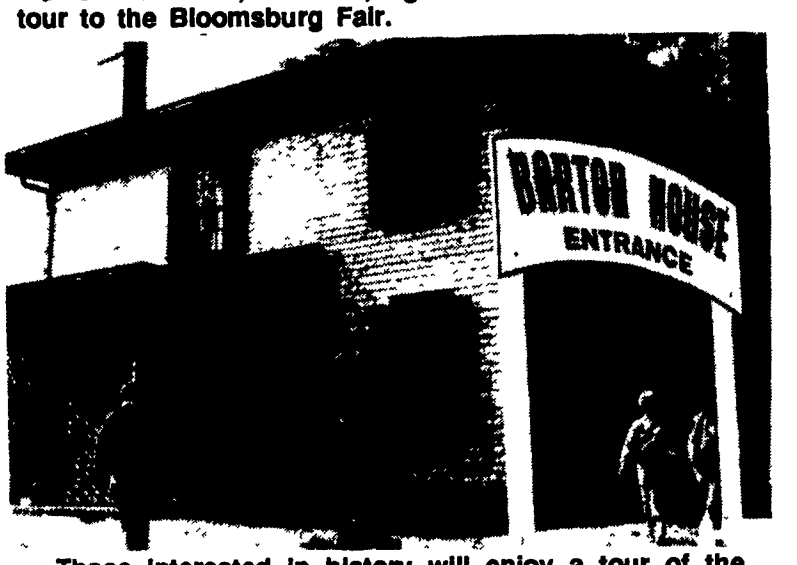
Many of the farm women enjoyed memories evoked by touring the historical restored schoolhouse with its double-seated wooden desks, ink wells, pot belly stove and authetic bell. The school was donated to the Fair by Montour Fire company and moved to the fairgrounds in 1974.

For those who have visions of building their own homes, both a contemporary house and a log cabin have been assembled on the fair grounds by advertisers. Various styles of decks, gazebos and utility barns are set up.

Janet Smith of Lancaster summed up the sentiments of the farm women group's day at the Fair when she said, "Everything is nice and wonderful. It's so clean."

Mark your calendar to attend Bloomsburg Fair next year. Remember it's renowned as the biggest fair on the east coast.

Mrs. Paul Farrel, Manheim, organized the Farm Women's tour to the Bloomsburg Fair.



Those interested in history will enjoy a tour of the restored Caleb Barton farm house built in 1855. The house sets on the fringes of the Bloomsburg Fairgrounds and is furnished with period pieces loaned by area residents during the week long fair.

Miriam Hershey of Brickerville and Ira Herr of Strasburg were intrigued by the shows and the horticulture exhibits at the Bloomsburg Fair.

You did not need to be a farm women member to travel on the bus to the Bloomsburg Fair, but all passengers shared a common interest in visiting an old-fashioned fair.

Thousands fill the stands to watch harnessed pony racing.

Ask these farm women what they like best about the Bloomsburg Fair and they answer in unison, "everything." From left: Lucy Spangenburg of Manheim; Beryl Michael of Sporting Hill and Elsie Hollinger of Lititz.

Berks Society 3

Group 3 of the Berks County Society of Farm Women held its September meeting at the home of Dora Pollock, Boyertown. A donation of $200 was given to the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

Eight members plan to attend the County Convention at the Agricultural Center on Saturday, October 7. Group 3 will serve refreshments at the Gruber auction in New Berlinville on Saturday, October 14.

Lillian Bucks presented a program on color coding following the business meeting. The next meeting will be a trip to Sight and Sound near Lancaster to see "The Joys of Christmas" on October 24.

Berks Society 6

The Society of Farm Women Group #6 held its September meeting at the home of Janet Schlegel. The program for the evening was a video on garden tractor safety.

Sally Hauseman and Nora Schweitzer were appointed to the nominating committee.

Dorothy Wagner and Naomi Mest are on the committee for the 250th celebration of Oley Township from Group #6. All organizations in the township are asked to participate.

The October meeting will be held at the Yellow House Hotel at 7:30 in celebration of Farm Women Day.

INVITATION FOR BIDS

The Lancaster Conservation District is requesting bids for the construction of a manure storage system to be funded in part by the Chesapeake Bay Program. Construction is expected to begin during the fall of 1989 or the spring of 1990. The site is located in East Donegal Township, Lancaster County.

Prospective contractors will receive a bid package which contains Instructions to Bidders, a sample contract form, the plans and specifications for the project, and a bid sheet.

Small and minority businesses and women's business enterprises are encouraged to respond to this invitation for bids.

Scaled bids will be accepted until the public bid opening at 10:00 A.M. on October 30, 1989.

To obtain a bid package, contact the Lancaster Conservation District at:

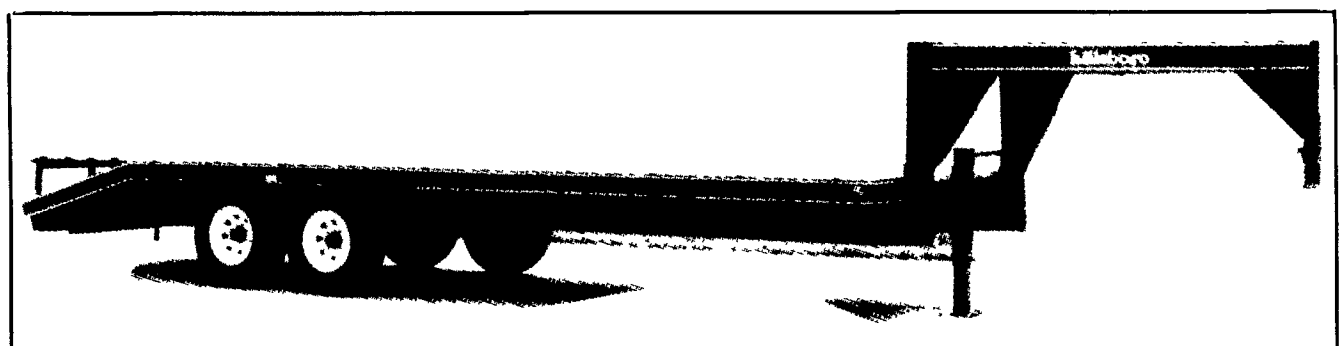
hillsboro
flatbed trailer
with flip-up beaver tail



24 Foot Length Shown

28 Foot Length Shown

Optional deck over the neck is 7½ 'x8'

The FLIP-UP BEAVERTAIL raises and lowers in seconds -- slide out ramps are stored under the beavertail The Hillsboro Flatbed features a full 96" deck width which is more value than the competition

The Hillsboro Flatbed is available in two styles, the 20' and 24' trailer with standard neck, and the 28', 30' and 32' trailer with heavy duty neck

VERSATILE — RUGGED — RELIABLE and REASONABLY PRICED!

The Hillsboro Flatbed Trailer with flip-up beavertail can be the one trailer that means lower cost for you. Here's why!!

VERSATILITY! That's what makes a Hillsboro trailer such a good investment. With the beavertail down it's an excellent trailer for moving wheeled equipment Flip the beavertail up and it adds an extra four feet of deck space for hauling hay and other bulky loads

HERE'S WHAT HILLSBORO QUALITY MEANS - All Hillsboro trailers are manufactured in precise jigs and fixtures which assures excellent alignment of axles, a better pulling trailer, a level and square trailer

HILLSBORO WORKMANSHIP INCLUDES-Exceptional weld quality, material that is chemically cleaned, two coats of high quality paint, material strength engineered into the best flat-bed value.

20' Gooseneck Trailer

A versatile, lightweight, Eby aluminum stock trailer is built to provide years of maintenance free service. An Eby trailer is custom built to fit your individual hauling needs - No mass production! We use only quality components and strong alloy aluminum to manufacture what may be the last trailer you'll ever buy.

- LIGHTWEIGHT - Eby stock trailers are 25-35% lighter than comparable steel trailers. Less weight means better fuel mileage or increased payload.
- MAINTENANCE - Eby aluminum trailers won't rust. Welding and painting can cost you dollars in down time and repairs.
- DURABILITY - Eby trailers are built tough. Quality components and 6061 alloy aluminum provide the ruggedness required in a livestock trailer.

Nutrena Researchers Complete 1,000+ Hog Experiments

ELK RIVER, MN — More than 1,000 swine-research experiments involving more than 6,400 farrowings and 54,000 hogs have been completed since the opening of Cargill's Research Farm here in 1958.

"It's fitting that experiment number 1,000 was a feed-preference study," said Dr. David Cieslak, a swine research nutritionist at Elk River. "Regardless of how economically and nutritionally complete we make any given ration, feed palatability — or the level of acceptance of different rations by young pigs — is just as critical today as it was in 1958."

Cieslak and other Nutrena swine specialists outlined highlights of 31 years of swine-management and nutritional research at the Cargill Research Farm:

Cargill Pork System.

This housing system, developed in the early 1960s, incorporates the energy and construction efficiency of open-front, confined facilities.

We've never claimed that the Cargill Pork System is the absolute best kind of housing system," said Dick Gosen, now swine products manager who helped develop the system. "It was intended to provide producers with an alternative method of expanding their operations with minimal investment. However, if properly managed, results with the Cargill Pork System are comparable or superior to other more expensive facilities."

Gosen said a recent refinement that allows producers using the Cargill Pork System to improve hog performance is the addition of a 16-foot extension to the open-front finishing units or hutches. The extension makes it possible for hogs to eat from feeders that are protected by a roof instead of eating in open areas.

"This change has allowed us to improve rate of gain by up to ten percent on seven percent less feed," said Gosen.

Housing-space Requirements

Housing research showed that overcrowding can severely reduce hog performance. Work with hogs weighing 145 to 200 pounds showed that more room stimulates faster daily gains and improves feed conversion. Performance of market hogs did not improve enough to warrant the added building costs when hogs were housed in areas larger than 20 square feet per animal.

Amino-acid Research

Feeding trials showed that producers should not reduce amino-acid levels in feeds below recommendations. Trials and economic evaluations based on pig-performance differences comparing pigs fed rations with adequate and inadequate amino-acid levels showed dramatically that reducing amino-acid levels actually increased costs.

Sow-feeding Programs

Nutrena's early work with sow-feeding programs resulted in development of the three-stage sow program, a system that meets the sow's nutrient needs according to her reproductive stage. The program continues to be routine practice in swine herds across the country, said Gosen.

Recent work to develop the Blueprint sow-feeding program continued to refine this stage-feeding approach. The feeds include energy and amino acid levels of feeds that are balanced with each other and with other nutrients.

"These were very important refinements to maintain sow productivity in the breeding herd," said Gosen.

Feeds Geared To Early Weaning

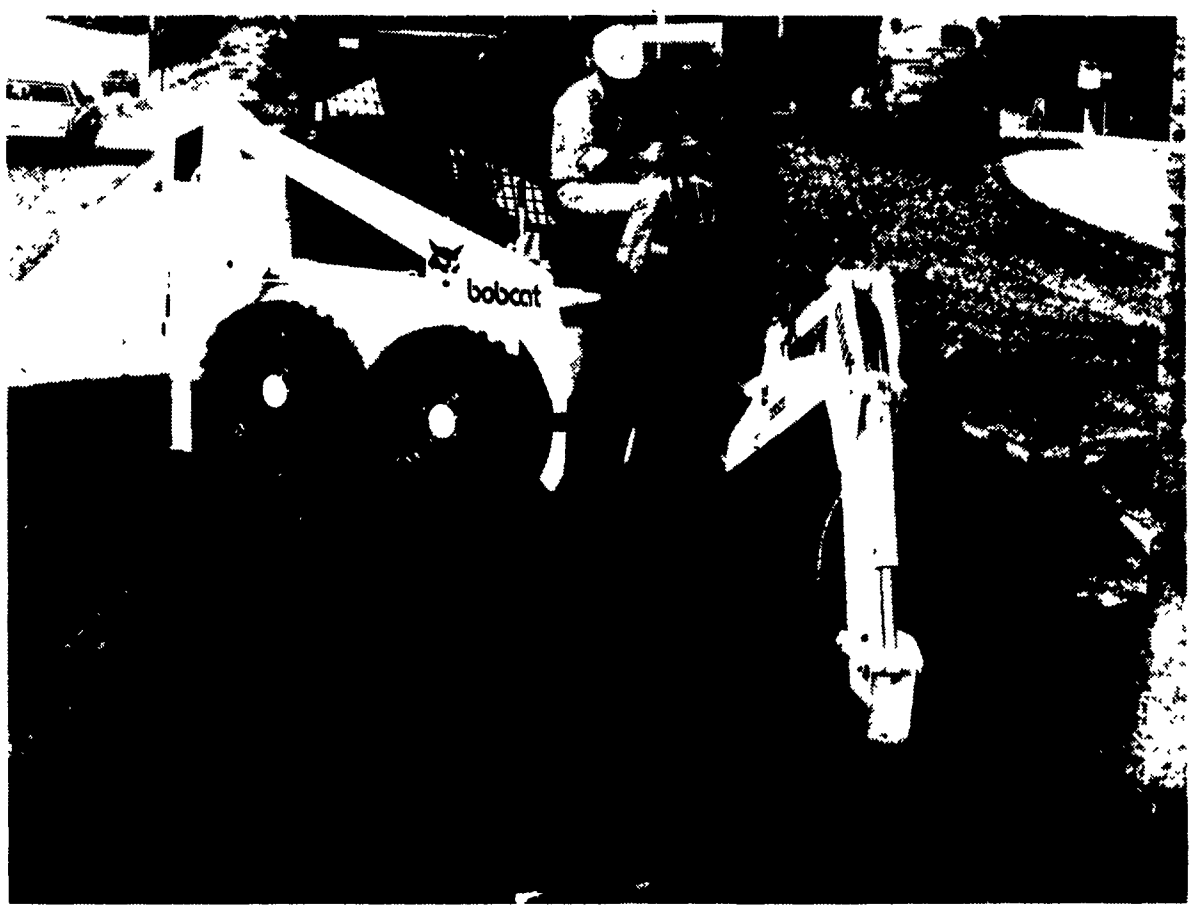
Products have been developed for the increasing number of producers who wean pigs at early ages.

"It's critical that early weaned pigs get off to a good start," said Cieslak. "That's why we developed products like the Transition pig feeds, which allow a smooth transition from sow's milk to dry feeds. The proper balance of amino acids, vitamins, minerals and energy and the use of high-quality ingredients are essential to allow fast growth with a minimum of scours," he said.

High-nutrient Density Feeds

These products for baby pigs and finishing hogs provide a fine-tuned mix of nutrients that can help improve metabolism to meet the stress of fast growth. Other feeds that incorporate high fat levels offer producers mixing flexibility plus proper nutrition for fast, efficient gains.

QUALITY WORK AT OUR END MEANS QUALITY WORK AT YOURS.



The Melroe Company insists on maintaining the highest standards of quality in design and manufacturing in their versatile Bobcat loader line. Like municipalities, we demand high quality materials and workmanship, and that goes into every machine we build. Even with those stringent requirements, we supply you with a top quality loader at a competitive price.

That quality is reflected in ever-increasing demands for Bobcat loaders and attachments in every segment of the municipal industry. Bobcat durability, ease of operation and maintenance, comfort and safety, parts and service reliability, and a strong dealer support network, give you job performance that can't be equalled by any other loader.

The Melroe Company's dedication to building quality machines is your assurance of value and performance. Municipalities have learned to rely on Bobcat quality to help build their own business on that same reputation.

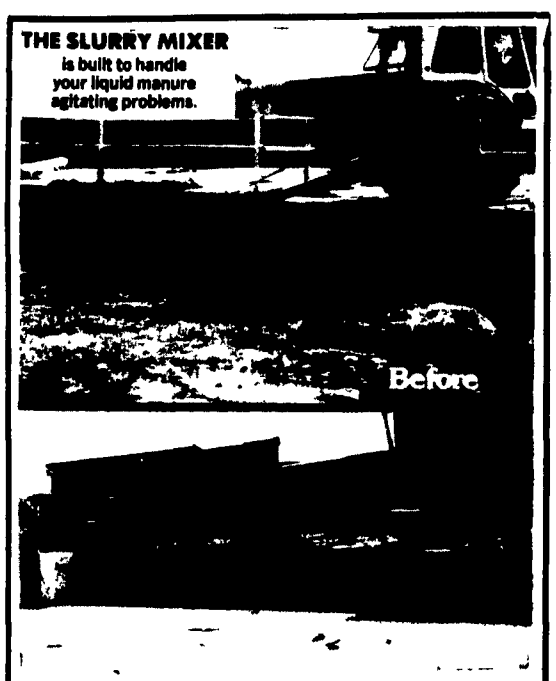
THE SLURRY MIXER is built to handle your liquid manure agitating problems.



This 3 point hitch Slurry Mixer's large 22" propellor produces a strong undercurrent that moves liquids, floating chunks of crust, weeds, bedding and dried manure into the propellor that chops, mixes and blends your manure into an even liquid slurry.

Priced at $2,285

TRUNNION BEARING

OUR NEW GANG BEARINGS HAVE A 2-YEAR GUARANTEE!

If you have rocks... you need a Sunflower with special spring hangers.

Sizes Built From 10' To 32' - Most Sizes In Stock... Don't Wait, They Are Going So Why Not Choose Yours Now!

Our Trunnion Bearing is designed to mount on our C-Flex™ spring cushioned bearing standard and is allowed to self-align as the gang flexes. Part of the secret to the Trunnion Bearings' longevity is 2-triple lip seals and meatl seal washers that prevent dirt from contaminating the inner workings of the regreasable bearing. Excellent seal protection, of course, reduces wear and helps eliminate premature bearing failure.

COMPARE THESE FEATURES AND OPTIONS

Simple hydraulics allows one valve to operate the lift and stabilize cylinders. Center plumbing means less hose length and easier coupling

The basic box is heavy-duty steel, welded seams and reinforced for even more strength

Stabilizer cylinders hydraulically lock on to axle to hold wagon rigid during dump cycle

RICHARDTON

Make Your Operation Safer • Use Year Round • Variety Of Crops • All Field Conditions • Operate In Wet And Muddy Conditions

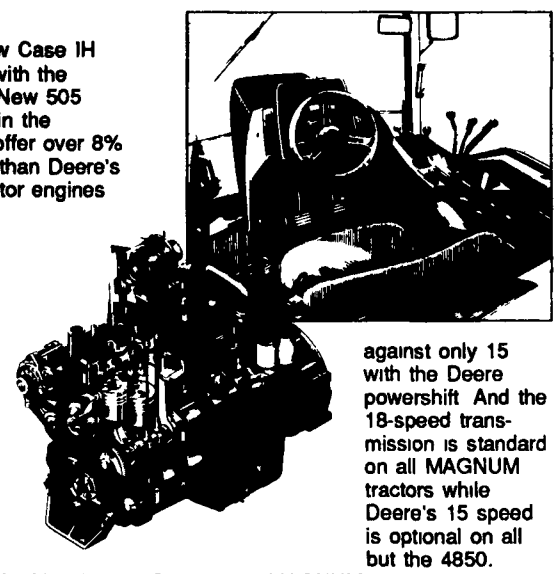
BINKLEY & HURST BROS. INC. Is Your Case IH Tractor Dealer With Service To Back Every Sale!!!

MAGNUM MEANS MORE.



Compare the all-new Case IH MAGNUM tractors with the current Deere line. New 505 cubic inch engines in the MAGNUM tractors offer over 8% more displacement than Deere's 466. MAGNUM tractor engines are all-new and give you the cost-efficient power modern farming demands against only 15 with the Deere powershift And the 18-speed transmission is standard on all MAGNUM tractors while Deere's 15 speed is optional on all but the 4850.
You get 20% more working speeds - 18 in-line, no-clutch, full powershift speeds with the new MAGNUM tractors...

See 17% more. Feel 100% better. Compare a MAGNUM tractor's 48 square feet of tinted glass to Deere's 41. Compare the Case IH floor-to-ceiling front glass, one-piece side picture window, wide rear window, and the unique sloping (and uncluttered) hood for optimum visibility
Ask us about these four new Case IH tractors, 130 to 195 PTO hp MAGNUM tractors . tractors that will do more for you

The MAGNUM 5-Year/5,000-Hour Warranty

MAGNUM means more! But there's much more to a MAGNUM tractor than meets your eye. Because behind the more powerful engines, the more efficient transmissions and the high-visibility cabs

Stands the best warranty in the business* The MAGNUM tractor 5-year/5,000-hour warranty, whichever occurs first * A warranty that gives you coverage, from top to bottom, front to back It's the best warranty in the business. By far. The way MAGNUM tractors are built there's a good chance you'll never need to take advantage of this advantage.

Come on in and look over the all-new MAGNUM tractors. And ask us for details on the best warranty and the best tractors in the business

* Excluding tires, which are covered by their own manufacturers warranties A $200 deductible applies to each repair after the first year

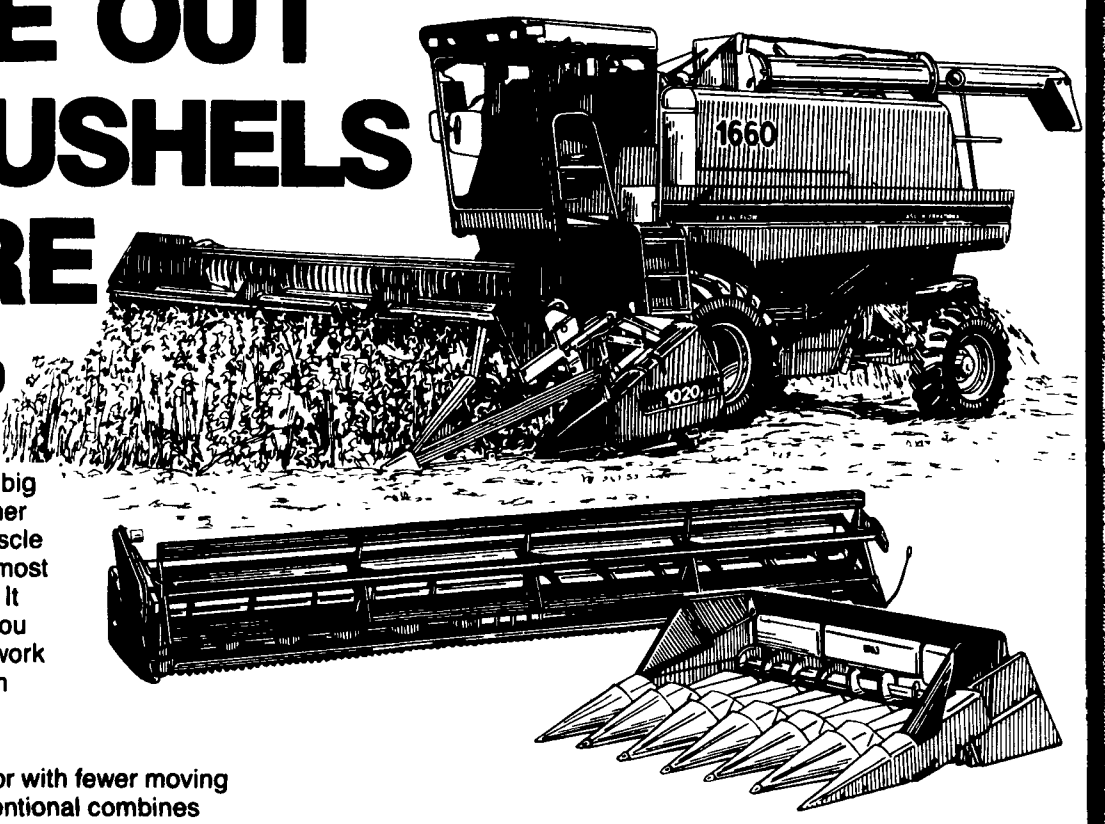
SQUEEZE OUT MORE BUSHELS PER ACRE



Case International 1660 Axial-Flow Combine

When it comes to harvesting crops, this big crop-saver can save more grain than other combines in its size class. It has the muscle to "get in and get out" fast to make the most of each day of good harvesting weather. It consistently turns out cleaner grain so you can get top market price. Put a 1660 to work and take advantage of these field-proven features.

- Axial-Flow Design. Uses a single rotor with fewer moving parts and fewer problems than conventional combines using the cylinder-and-concave design. Its more gentle threshing action means less cracked grain and top price for every bushel.
- Human-Engineered Cab. Provides day-long comfort for increased operator productivity.
- 180 hp Turbocharged Diesel and 3-Speed Hydrostatic Transmission. Plenty of power to handle soft soils and hilly terrain.
- 1015 Pickup Header. Available in 11- and 13-foot widths. Hydraulic variable speed drive lets you match crop pickup to ground speed for smooth delivery with minimum shattering.
- 1010 Rigid and 1020 Flexible Cutterbar Direct Cut Headers also available in several widths from 15 to 30 feet depending on model.
- 1000 Series Corn Heads in four to eight row sizes

CASE IH BALE PROCESSOR ON SALE AT BINKLEY & HURST BROS. NOW!

IDEAL WORKMATE FOR TRACTORS WITH 50 TO 150 HP

Low horsepower requirements make this bale processor well suited to nearly any size of operation. It's recommended for 50 to 150 hp tractors with 1,000 rpm PTO. The tractor must also be equipped with dual remote cylinder outlets, and a third remote if the processor is equipped with a moveable conveyor.

The 8610 Bale Processor handles and processes big round bales with amazing ease and simplicity. It's strictly a one-man operation

The 8610 efficiently handles all types of crops, in bales up to six-and-one-half feet in diameter. It shreds the material into edible and palatable lengths, depending on the crop and conditions, to fit most every type of livestock feeding operation

TUB TILTS 90 DEGREES FOR FAST, EASY BALE PICKUP

From the tractor seat, the operator tilts the tub hydraulically to 90 degrees for picking up a bale. Visibility is good when loading since there's an opening in the tub floor. Once the bale is engaged, the operator simply raises the tub again hydraulically to upright position

BUNK FEEDS, RANGE FEEDS AND BLOWS BEDDING

The 8610 is regularly equipped with a discharge chute for feeding on the open range or into bunks up to 36 inches high. Attachments include a fixed conveyor for feeding into bunks up to 32 inches or a moveable conveyor for bunks up to 60 inches high This processor is also ideal for range feeding and will blow straw as far as 15 feet for livestock bedding

TORQUE AMPLIFIERS & CLUTCHES

Over the past 8 years, we have sold thousands of T.A.'s to satisfied customers across the U.S. Some of our best customers are I.H. Dealers.

We do complete job or center housing while you wait or will sell you the parts.

Our prices on T.A.'s with the Dana Sprag, are now $645.00 with a 2 year warranty.
We also have units and parts available to rebuild old style T.A.'s, including Ramp & carrier sets for $300.00

Clutches, Pressure Plates PTO Drives & Water Pumps

We have clutches available for most all IH tractors; including many heavier than original. We also have clutches for many other brands.

- Compare Our Prices -
All clutches & T.A.'s will ship U.P.S. and are sold on an exchange basis. Core charges Apply.

QUALITY USED PARTS

We specialize in IH tractors but we also have Case, Oliver, White and Massey tractors in our inventory.

SALES & SERVICE ENGINE DISTRIBUTOR

Is Your Corn Picker Engine In Shape To Handle This Year's Heavy Crop?

This twin 20 hp is becoming very popular for hay balers and other applications traditionally equipped with 2 cylinder Wisc. engines and can also replace the older 4 cylinder engines on some applications.

Works very well to run corn pickers, crimpers and mower crimper units. We can mount your Wisc. clutch reduction for $1495 or sell the engine with used Wisc. reduction for $1995. Price includes picking up your clutch and delivery of completed unit to you. (Lancaster County Only)

We Also Stock 25 HP Lombardini Diesels With Adaptor To Take Wisc. Reduction

AXIAL FLOW
COMBINE HEADQUARTERS

LESS FUEL PER ACRE. . .

WITH A CASE IH xpe AXIAL FLOW COMBINE

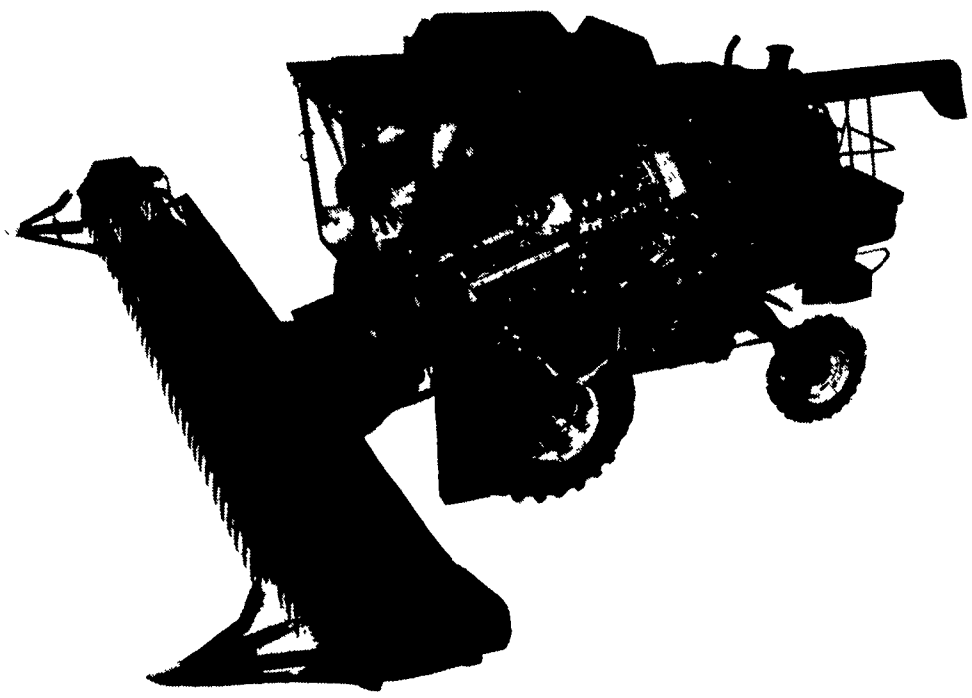
For Over 10 Years the Words AXIAL FLOW have meant two things: BETTER GRAIN & MORE OF IT. But now, you can add something else to that list: EXTRA POWER and ECONOMY



AXIAL FLOW combines are now powered by the CASE IH NCE engines. These all new "state of the art" engines are designed with more torque reserve and even better fuel efficiency. And that spells more acres and more bushels of grain from every gallon of fuel.

There is a model to match your needs...	MODEL	ENGINE
	1640	160 HP, 359 cu. in.
	1660	190 HP, 505 cu. in.
	1680	235 HP, 505 cu. in.

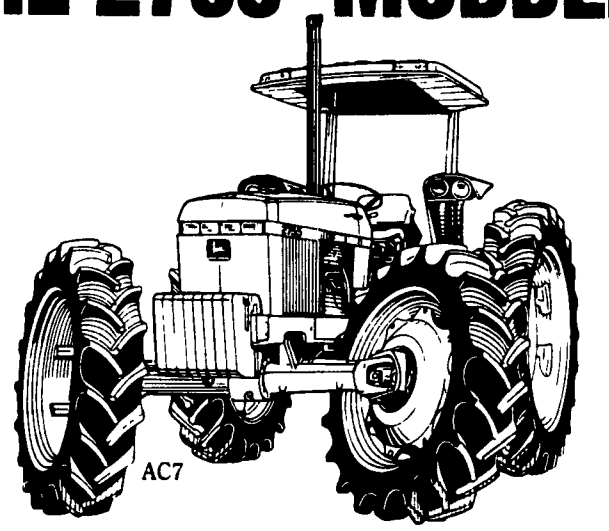
THE 2755 'MUDDER'



- John Deere's hi-clearance tractor was born to live in mud. And get work done for you where most other tractors can't move.
- It comes with MFWD and big front wheels plus deep-cleated tires for traction. There's plenty of clearance for tall crops. New walk-through deck. Up to 10 percent more fuel efficient.

Brillion DEEP TILLS

penetrate the soil as deep as 18 inches to break up plow sole and hardpan.

Moisture from snow and rain is absorbed deep into the soil. Top-soil is left rough and a certain amount of residue remains to combat wind and erosion. Deep Tills are available in widths of 7'6" to 27'6" with optional coulters for cutting residue.

VAN DALE

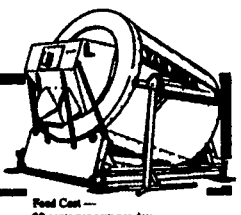
RISING FEED COSTS?

VAN DALE Has The Answer!

the Orbit Mixer



Typical Savings for 60 Cow Herd.

Feed Cost —
20 cents per cow per day
60 cows x 365 x .20 = $4,380

Milk Production —
4 lbs. milk per cow per day
60 cows x 300 x 4 lbs x .10 = $7,200

Thousands of dairy farmers just like you have changed to a total mixed ration program for their dairy herds—and they're glad they did. By working with a qualified nutritionist to determine the most economical ration for their herds, and by using a VAN DALE Orbit Mixer designed to blend the exact ration every time, these dairy farmers are reporting significant profit improvements through lower feed costs and/or higher milk production.

WAIT!

Having roofing problems? Considering a new roof in the next 3-4 years? Need to stop those pesty leaks on your poultry, hog or dairy buildings?

Before you invest big dollars for an expensive roof, consider Poxy Coat II.

Poxy Coat II is good for all roofs.

- is extremely flexible for long life.
- is heat resistant up to 1000°. (cooler summers, warmer winters)
- has a written 10 year guarantee.
- resists acid rain.
- comes in six colors, black, white and clear.
- an industrial coating at a fraction of the cost of a new roof.

READ WHAT DAIRYMEN HAVE TO SAY ABOUT Master Mix® ProTek™ DAIRY FEED

RICHARD HOOVER - Coatesville, PA

ROUGHAGE PROGRAM:
⅔ Corn Silage, ⅓ Haylage,
3 Lb. Alfalfa Hay

MILKING RATION PROGRAM:
High Moisture Shelled Corn,
Master Mix Protek™ 25% HF

NUMBER OF LACTATING COWS: 110

I switched to Master Mix Protek™ because I couldn't get my cows to peak. I wanted to make 18,000 lbs. of milk and I thought I had the genetics to do it. In December of 1988, I changed to Master Mix Protek™. The majority of my cows freshen during the summer months so that would give them time to get used to the new feed. Believe it or not, I reached my goal in only 4 months with days in milk nearing 200!

The butterfat has remained good and so has the breeding. I had heard about Protek and with some encouragement from my herdsman, Lamar Hurst, I decided to see what would happen with my herd. So far, I am very happy and surprised how my cows have responded.

Date	Daily Ave.	B.F.	RHA	Lbs. Fat	Days In Milk

Two years ago I was averaging 18000 lb. with 3.2 test. I began having breeding problems so I tested my forages and balanced the feed but I still had problems. The water was then tested and came back high in bacteria, nitrates, and sulfates, so we put a water system in. By Feb. 1989 my RHA reached 21,079 & butterfat was up to a 3.5. At the same time, my income over feed cost went from $12.50 to $14.72 which is what I like. In the summer '88, I began feeding grain and hay four to six times a day and corn silage also 4 times. With this feeding schedule, the appetites were great and I was hardly cleaning any feed out of the troughs. Ketosis and off feed problems have disappeared. The breeding has also taken a big change. Last month my calving interval was down to 12.1. This past May, Sensenig's switched me to the new 1890 Testmaker HF and my test increased 2 points in June. That never happened in other summers. The cows really like the new 1890 Testmaker HF. I think to get the genetic potential out of your cows you need good water, good forages, and a well balanced feed fed more than twice a day. I am very happy with my results over the past two years and feel that all three played an important part in my production and herd health.

NUMBER OF LACTATING COWS: 35

Two years ago I changed from a 38% conc. to feeding Master Mix Protek™ 25%, corn & top-dressing w/1890 Testmaker HF. My fresh cows picked up almost right away. There is also no problem with cows eating the Master Mix 1890's Testmaster HF. They would eat more if I would give it to them! In 2 years, my herd went from 15,000 to 19,000 & my test stayed about the same. I also found out I had bad water so I put in a water system. I am very satisfied with my feed and service from Sensenig's

Ephrata Steer Championship Goes To Hometown Exhibitor

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — The bald-faced steer led out by Fred Weaver at the Ephrata Fair topped all others to be named the grand champion. The 1,290-pound middleweight steer's champion title was yet another to add to the Ephrata man's long list of winnings.

Weaver, the son of Carol and Roy Weaver, sold his Angus/Chianina/Simmental crossbred to Ephrata National Bank, represented by Aaron Groff, for $1.50 per pound or $1,935.

The reserve champion rosette went to the 1,320-pound Angus exhibited by Nichole High. High, who showed last year's supreme champion at the Ephrata Fair, is the daughter of Larry and Mae High of Lititz and Shirley Burris of Elizabethtown.

Top bidders for the steer were Reinhold Lumber and Blue Lake Builders, who purchased the animal for $1.30 per pound.

A partial list of the winners follows.

Fish Conference To Explore Local Production

ALLENTOWN (Lehigh Co.) — A familiar animal may be making a new splash on Pennsylvania farms in the '90s. If they flourish as hoped, they'll have a ripple effect throughout the farm and food industry in this region.

Penn State Cooperative Extension announces its first conference for those interested in raising fish commercially, either indoors in tanks or outside in ponds or raceways. The conference is set for Wednesday, November 15, from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Berks Ag Center near Reading. A trade show of suppliers and a fish buffet are included in the day's events.

"We've found the experts and producers who know our area and climate, and who can give interested growers the basics of how to make a profit raising freshwater fish," said Jeff Patton, Extension agent-marketing and a conference organizer. "Our goal is to help producers make sound, informed decisions on whether and how to start up in this business."

Although Pennsylvania's climate doesn't match that of the "catfish belt" of the south, other species and methods show prom-

PLANNING FOR THE NEXT BREEDING SEASON

It may seem a little premature, but the time to begin planning for the 1990 breeding season in the beef herd is right now. There are a couple of very good reasons for this. First, the forage supply for the winter is limited in some cases and of poor quality in most places. Secondly, there is nothing a producer can do to influence profitability more than getting cows bred on time.

The single most important economic factor in the cow-calf enterprise is weaning a live calf. The factors that contribute to successfully selling a calf from every cow are the percentage of cows that cycle during the breeding season, the percentage of those cycles that are fertile, and the percentage of successful matings from a fertile bull. These factors are multiplicative; that is, we would not add the values for each one together and get an average. Rather we would multiply each one by the next to determine reproductive efficiency. For example, if 90 percent of the cows have a fertile cycle during the breeding season and 90 percent of the matings produce a pregnancy, this results in 81 percent of the cows actually getting bred.

While fertility of the bull is something that can be measured and, given the bull remains healthy, is somewhat consistent, the number of cows that cycle during the breeding season is not measured until it is too late. Nutrition is of vital importance with this trait, and that is why now is the time to start planning for this part of a successful breeding season.

A study in 1978 by Bellows and Short showed why nutrition is so important to reproduction, particularly in the young cow. They compared heifers and cows for birth weight, calving difficulty and rebreeding performance by feeding one group about 120 percent of "book" requirements and another group about 90 percent of suggested requirements beginning about 90 days before expected calving dates. All of them got the same feed after calving. They found those receiving more pre-calving feed had calves that were heavier at birth, but experienced no increase in calving difficulty. Further, those that got more feed came back in heat more quickly and were bred earlier in the breeding season. This is important because it shows that pre-calving nutrition is of greater importance than how cows are fed during lactation on breeding efficiency and while there were no differences in weaning weight in the current year, there will be a difference in weights the next year with a calf born two weeks earlier in the season. In addition the pre-calving nutrition study shows that 90 percent of requirements is not too far off and may reflect the kind of forage we may have for this winter.

How to stretch feed

Here are some of the things you can do to stretch and effectively use the forage you have available to get cows cycling on time next year:

•Forage Analysis. There is so much variation in forages this year it is important to know what the feed value really is. Some of the hay was cut very late in the year, some was rained on repeatedly, and some was made on stands of questionable composition. All of these things will contribute to the feed value of the hay. A laboratory analysis will tell you how much will need to be fed and what supplements will be necessary.

•Crop Residues. There is a wealth of feed value in stalk fields that could help save some hay. A good estimate is that a month of grazing a stalk field will save a big bale of hay per cow. Grazing, usually using portable fences, is the desired method of feeding it because the cows will have access to feed that may not get into a baler. The optimum use of a stalk field is made by grazing 1/4 acre per cow and moving the fence as they clean it up. Allowing access to the entire field at once will reduce the grazing time available in half because they will eat the "best first and leave the rest". For most cow herds, no supplemental feeds will be needed because the feed requirements of the cow are at their lowest during this time of the year.

•Pregnancy Palpation. One of the most cost-effective management tips is palpation of the breeding herd. This will locate the open cows and allow the producer to spend his money only on cows that have the potential to return something. In years like this one, nobody wants to throw hay and feed down an empty hole.

Separation of the Herd. It may be helpful to separate the herd into a couple of different groups to winter them. Not everybody has the facilities to do this, but young and thin cows will benefit greatly. The young cow has a particularly different nutritional requirement. She needs about double the daily protein as the older cow, and will often be dominated by the older cow at feeding time. Feeding to the "average" protein needs of the herd is costly for these older cows. The condition of the cow at calving has been shown to be very important in the ability of that cow to cycle on time. Thin cows have some "catching-up" to do, and they can keep calves coming another year by getting a little extra feed during gestation.

•Proper Supplementation. For most cow herds the most deficient nutrient is energy, not protein. In fact there is probably more overfeeding of protein in the beef herd than anywhere else. A full-feed of most grass and grass-legume hays will provide all the protein a beef cow needs until she calves. Even then, unless they are very heavy-milking cows, the protein needs are met with this kind of forage. The most cost-effective source of energy is plain shelled corn. The exceptions are with young cows and those on corn silage-based rations. Again, the only way to really know what is needed is to get an analysis of the forage.

Knight Ryder Daughter Wins West Virginia Fair Polled Hereford Show

LEWISBURG, WV — A large and impressive group of Polled Herefords gathered for the West Virginia State Fair. Their 110-head competition on Aug. 20 was judged by Jim Gillooly, Washington, Ind.

For his junior and grand champion heifer, Gillooly turned to PVF Fifi's Knight 21X. She is an April 1988 daughter of TOP MSU Knight Ryder owned by John Hargreaves III, White House Station, N.J., and Pleasant Valley Farm, Lambertville, N.J.

In the bull show, SF Mountaineer topped the junior division and then advanced to capture the grand champion title. This May '88 Knight Ryder son was shown by Cottle Bros., Summersville, W.Va.; Lucky M Farms, Mt. Lookout, W.Va.; and Sherwood Farm, Charlottesville, Va.

Reserve champion bull honors were awarded to Sovran, an April '87 Knight Ryder son. The senior division winner is owned by Riverdale Farm and Sherwood Farm, both of Charlottesville, Va.

Junior member Kyle Rooker of Uniontown, Pa., stepped up from the calf championship to win the reserve champion heifer title. His champ was SDF Miss Dawn, a September '88 Knight Ryder daughter.

In the group classes, Keith and Linda Rooker, Uniontown, Pa., won the get-of-sire class on Knight Ryder and also placed first in the best-six-head class. The calf get-of-sire award went to Hawks Nest Farm, Charlottesville, Va., on the progeny of Trustmark.

Other winners and their owners included:

Fish Conference

ise in the mid-Atlantic region. That's good news because consumers have increased seafood consumption by nearly 20 percent from 1979 to 1987, to more than 15 pounds per person each year. The trend is expected to continue, especially if farms can make up for nature's shortfall in sustainable fish harvests.

The conference features speakers from USDA, Pennsylvania state agencies, Giant Food Stores Inc. of Carlisle, the University of Maryland, and area fish producers. Two fish operations near Reading will open their doors for tours at the end of the conference. One is Limestone Springs, a trout producing and processing facility near Myerstown, and the other is Fresh-Culture Systems, an indoor recirculating facility with tilapia (African perch) and hybrid bass, at Kutztown.

"Pennsylvania aquaculture is poised for growth," reports Richard Colanntuno, president of the Pennsylvania Aquaculture Association and Manager of Limestone Springs. "But there is no one fish species, production system or market that's right for everyone. I'm excited about the conference because several viewpoints will be presented. People will have a chance to weight their choices with others who have 'been there'."

Since the consumer's choice at the fish counter has a ripple effect to producers and fishermen, the marketing of fish will also receive attention from the podium.

"We're after top-quality fish 12 months a year," says Chuck Anderson, seafood buyer for Giant Food Stores. "We're excited at the thought of buying fish raised on Pennsylvania farms. But no matter whom they sell to, growers need to know what buyers and consumers look for in fresh fish." Mr. Anderson's talk at the conference is entitled "Satisfying the Wholesaler and Consumer."

For a registration brochure, contact your county Cooperative Extension office or Jeff Patton, at the Lehigh Extension Office, Room 604, Courthouse, Allentown, PA 18101, telephone (215) 820-3085. The conference cost is $15 per person and registration is requested by November 6.

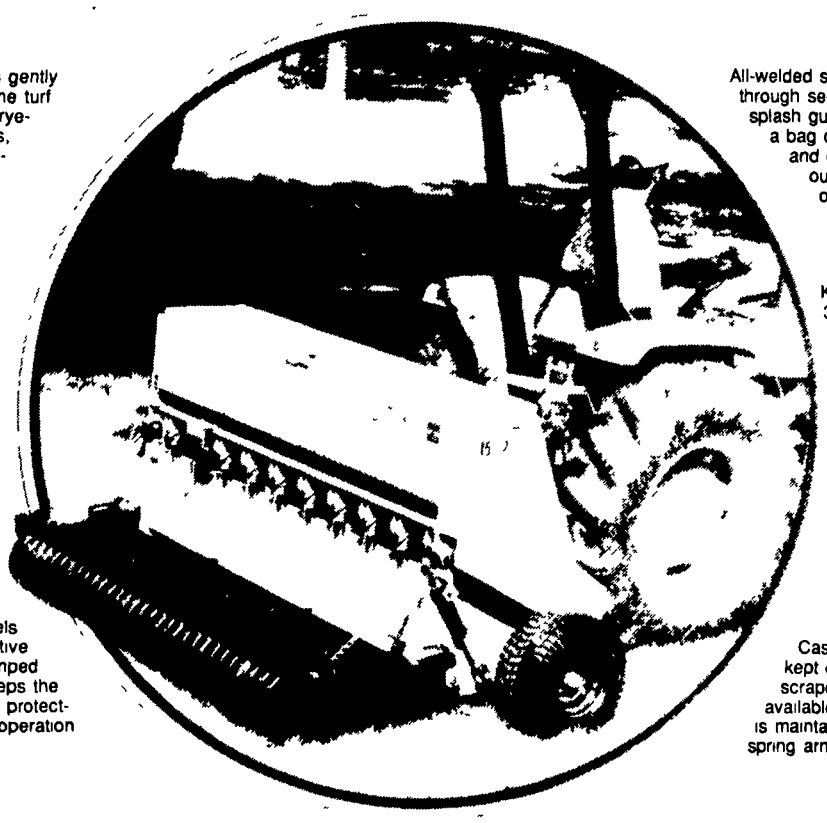
SOLID STAND SEEDER



Proven fluted seed cups gently and accurately meter fine turf seeds, including fescue, ryegrass, clover, bentgrass, buffalo bermuda, wheatgrass, lovegrass, and bluegrass

Seeding pattern extends across the entire 48" or 72" width of the seeder box, for even full width coverage Slit kit available to place seed in soil slits only

Ground drive wheels ensure constant, positive seed metering Stamped chain guard keeps the chain mechanism protected for safer operation

All-welded seed box has flow-through seed agitation, a splash guard to conserve seed, a bag opener for easy filling, and easy cleaning design with our individual seed cup clean-out handles

Knife spacing available on 2" or 3" or 4" centers, with 5 knives per flange

Adjustable double torsion tickler tines agitate the soil surface to promote contact between seed and soil

Cast notched packer wheels are kept clean with a corrugated scraper Optional smooth roller available instead Roller pressure is maintained by your choice of spring arm, rigid arm, or link chain

America's finest turf seeder is built in America by the finest name in grain drills, Great Plains Manufacturing The metering and placement systems are tailor-made for turf grass seeds, while optional knife spacings are available in 2", 3" and 4" centers for seeding productivity Adjustments are easy to make for seeding depth, seeding rates, roller pressure, or tickler tine pressure This low maintenance, highly maneuverable seeder is ruggedly built for long life Whether for interseeding or for new seeding of turf grasses, the Solid Stand Seeder provides precision, durability, accessibility, and productivity.

COMPARING INSULATION? DON'T GET HOT!

Jon M. Carson
Ass't. Professor, Ag Engineering

One of the important tools used in poultry housing is insulation. Radiant foil insulation have been advertised and promoted recently for use in poultry houses. Radiant barriers are but one of several kinds of insulation. Each type of insulation has advantages and disadvantages. The optimum type and level of insulation used for poultry houses will depend on the desired temperature, comfort, and cost.

Fiberglass, cellulose, foam, and other conventional insulations are rated with a "R" value. The greater the R, the better the insulation reduces conductive and convective heat transfer. Conduction is reduced by trapping air in the fibers and particles of the insulation and stopping the air movement. Air that is motionless is a good insulator because it does not conduct heat well. Moving air results in convective heat transfer, which can be very effective in transferring heat. Wind chill is an example of increased convective heat transfer due to air movement. A winter coat reduces convective and conductive heat loss in the same way conventional insulation reduces heat losses in a building.

Reflective foil insulations work by reducing radiant heat exchange. Radiant heat is transferred without using air or a solid to conduct the energy. You feel radiant heat exchange when sitting in front of a open fire. The heat transfer to you can be stopped by shading yourself with a solid object. Foil insulations are used to block the radiant heat and can not be rated with a R value because they do not work in the same manner as conductive insulations.

Reflective foil insulations are most effective when large temperature differences occur or where convective and conductive heat transfer is minimal. They can often be found inside engine compartments where manifold temperatures can reach 1,200F and outer space applications where air is not present for convective heat transfer.

In traditional poultry housing, reflective foils are best used when added to conventional insulations. The addition helps to reduce the overall heat loss or gain. For example, foils have been placed over existing insulation in attics to reduce the heat gain in summer. These applications have been used with success in Southern climates where extreme temperatures can occur.

The use of adequate amounts of conventional insulations will keep the walls and ceilings of a poultry house cooler in summer and warmer in winter than reflective foil insulations alone. The addition of a radiant barrier can help the overall performance of the insulation system. However, conclusive results are not available for their cost effective use in Pennsylvania.

Fiberglass and other conventional insulations have been widely used because their cost per R values has been reasonable. Recommendations for insulation levels in Pennsylvania are R-20 in the walls and R-33 in the ceiling. These values are based on typical costs of conventional insulations and operating temperatures.

Four-H'er Shows POA Supreme Champion

CHAMBERSBURG (Franklin Co.) — For 16-year-old Rodney Garling, training and showing blue ribbon ponies is as natural as playing basketball or a musical instrument. Rodney, a junior at Chambersburg Area Senior High School, has been showing ponies since he was three years old. He started showing in lead line and pony-driving classes until he was old enought to become a 4-H Tiny Trotter three years later. Two years later, Garling became a full-fledged 4-H horse member, competing at county, district, and state shows.

Over the past nine years, Garling trained and showed three ponies to Pennsylvania 4-H state championships. His 19-year-old sister, Rhonda, also has trained and shown three state champion ponies. In addition, in the past 10 years, the 4-H District VI pony-driving class has been won by either brother or sister.

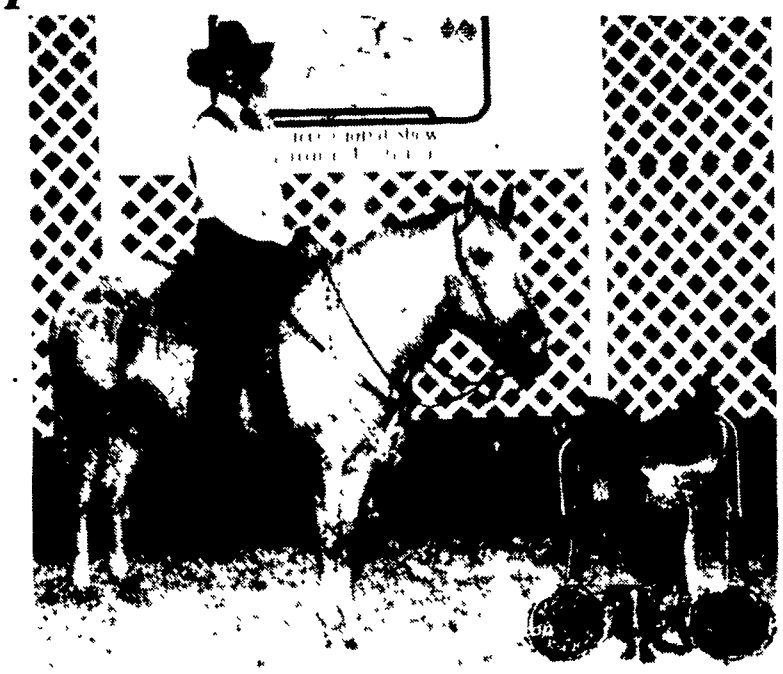
At the 1989 Pony of Americas International Show at Indianapolis, Ind., the siblings competed in the week-long events, bringing home several national awards. More than 2,000 entries competed in the event.

Bonaza's Gold, Garling's six-year-old pony, was named the supreme champion pony, the highest national award to be given to a POA pony. This award is given when the pony earns enough national points to first earn a Registry of Merit award (ROM) in halter, a ROM in pleasure classes, a ROM in speed classes, and a ROM champion award combining halter and pleasure points. Twenty-five percent of the points had to be earned at a regional or international show. Very few ponies achieve the points necessary for the award.

Garling also was recognized for his riding ability. He received silver plates as year-end awards for boys' English equitation and stock seat equitation. A large silver cup was awarded to Rodney for being one of the top 10 pony-rider combinations for the year. In addition to these national awards, Garling also won reserve Hi-point awards at the Mid-East Regional Show in Indiana and at the Northeast Regional Show in Maryland. He also won a game saddle as the year-end award for speed class.

A silver halter was awarded to Garling and Bonanza's Gold, a spotted palomino, for reserve Hi-point pony-rider combination at the POA International Show in Indianapolis. This award is given to the same rider-pony combination that competes in all classes, which demonstrates the POA pony's versatility. The pair competed in English and Western equitation, jumping, pleasure driving, Indian costume, open costume, reining, trailing, and 12 speed classes.

Besides winning honors at the POA breed shows and in 4-H competitions, Garling is active in his high school choir and marching band and is on the honor roll. He is involved in several 4-H clubs and was a host to a LABO Japanese 4-H exchange student this summer. He raises Seeing-Eye puppies as a 4-H project and competes in Puppy Bowl.



Rodney Garling of Franklin County and Bonanza's Gold recently competed at the Pony of Americas International Show in Indianapolis, Ind. The pair received numerous awards including a supreme champion title for the palamino for his achievements in halter, pleasure, and game glasses. The award, infrequently presented, is the highest national award bestowed by POA.

PULVI-MULCHERS

Brillion's Pulvi-Mulchers are one-pass secondary tillage tools that provide clod-free seedbeds.

The front rollers of the Pulvi-Mulcher break up surface clods. "C" shaped ribbon teeth or "S" spring tine teeth break up the soil to six inches in depth and pull clods to the surface. The rear roller wheels then crush those clods and convert the soil into a firmed, mulched seedbed that locks in moisture at the root level.

The result is a uniformly firmed and tilled seedbed from top to bottom, but not compacted. You get the full benefit of the capillary action of the soil for better germination, better moisture condition and faster decomposition of trash.

ROLLER WHEELS

20" DUCTILE IRON ROLLER WHEEL

The fact that Brillion leads the industry in the sale of Pulverizers and Pulvi-Mulchers is because all Brillion Roller Wheels are made in Brillion's own modern foundry. This directly affects the cost and quality of these machines and gives Brillion a considerable advantage over the competition.

Brillion's newest design, a 20", six spoke ductile iron notched wheel, carries a five-year limited warranty against breakage. (Contact Brillion for details.)

Seedway Employee Honored For Long Service

Ray Galer, center, was presented with a clock for his long years of service to the seed industry on his retirement from full-time employment at Seedway Inc. in early August. Galer will continue to work part time. The clock was presented to him at the sixth annual dealer meeting of the York, Pa., Seedway division. Don Wertman, left, chief executive officer, and Gene Hohl, right, director of marketing, are pictured congratulating Galer.

Local Managers Attend Hoffman Seed Meeting

LANDISVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — Robin Kauffman of Petersburg, and John Charles Itle of Lancaster, recently attended Hoffman Seeds district sales manager conference. The conference updates the company's DSMs on latest agronomic trends, sales techniques, product offerings, and seed industry developments.

Kauffman was named district sales manager in July 1988 and is responsible for central Pennsylvania. Itle has been a district sales manager since 1980 and is responsible for southeastern Pennsylvania.

Hoffman Seeds markets a variety of farm seed products for Eastern agriculture, including Funk's G-Hybrid corn.

Check Yields In Field With Weighcart

KALIDA, OH — Brent® WeighCarts from Unverferth Manufacturing Company Inc., allow yields to be checked and varieties to be compared in the field.

Each WeighCart™ is a Brent® grain cart equipped with highly accurate, J-Star® scales which allow varietal yield comparisons, productivity comparisons of tillage systems and much more. The carts' electronic scales are enclosed in an impact-resistant plastic indicator case with a fully sealed front panel.

For free literature or more information contact Unverferth Manufacturing Co., Inc., P.O. Box 357, Kalida, OH 45853, telephone 800/322-6301 (USA) or 419/532-3121.

Deere's new 55-series row-crop tractors set several PTO and drawbar fuel efficiency and power records in tests completed at a test site this summer. The 4955, John Deere's first 200-horsepower row-crop, set several individual records and was one of the nine new Deere tractor models tested.

Deere Sets Tractor Fuel-Efficiency, Power Records

MOLINE, IL — Several PTO and drawbar fuel efficiency and power records were set by John Deere 55-series row-crop tractors in tests completed at the Nebraska/OECD (Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development) test site this summer.

The new tractors, introduced by John Deere within the last year, were tested per Nebraska state law, to obtain sales permits in Nebraska. The Nebraska facility is also approved to conduct OECD tests; OECD is recognized worldwide and is used to compare tractors in foreign countries.

Since 1920, the Nebraska test facility has been used to test tractors for various performance characteristics. The test results are reported and recognized throughout the free world as the standard by which tractors are compared.

The new 55-series row-crop tractors yielded a six percent average fuel-economy improvement over the Deere 50 series. The 60-series four-wheel-drive tractors, also tested this summer, provided fuel efficiency improvements of 10 percent for the 8560, five percent for the 8760, and eight percent for the 8960, compared to the 50-series models.

"The new 200 horsepower row-crop, the 4955, was the big winner," said Trent Wiles, product engineer at Deere's Product Engineering Center. "The new engine provides both improved fuel efficiency and greater low-end torque. Several records were set with this tractor."

The 4955 row-crop had the highest PTO horsepower at maximum power for any two-wheel-drive (2WD) or front-wheel-assist (FWA) tractor at 210 hp, best PTO fuel efficiency at maximum power of any tractor at 0.360 lb/hph (19.18 hphr/gal) — the first tractor ever tested at Nebraska to exceed the 19 hphr/gal mark — and the best PTO fuel efficiency at rated engine speed for tractors above 100 hp at 18.39 hphr/gal.

It also had the highest PTO horsepower at rated engine speed of any 2WD or FWA tractor at 202.73 hp, best drawbar fuel efficiency at maximum power of any 2WD or FWA tractor at 16.82 hphr/gal, the highest drawbar horsepower at maximum power for any 2WD or FWA tractor at 182.9 hp, and the most drawbar pull for any 2WD or FWA tractor at 23,742 lbs.

An additional test was conducted at an engine speed of 1000 rpm to show that all models can develop more torque than developed at full power.

John Deere row-crop tractors are powered by a new Deere designed 7.6L engine. The new engine has improved performance and reduced emissions. A new cylinder head with larger valves and porting and a new camshaft increase air flow. The new piston, with optimized combustion bowl, is matched with the higher pressure injection system for improved combustion efficiency. The result is greater fuel economy and torque response that make the 55-series row-crop tractors more productive while reducing operating costs.

"We are very pleased with the results of these tests," said Wiles. "We think our customers will also be pleased with these new tractors."

Case IH Introduces Updated Hay Rakes

RACINE, WI — Case IH has introduced three new deluxe hay rakes, Models 860, 960 and 970. They replace the current 86, 96 and 97 models.

The new rakes provide various combinations designed for increased efficiency in all hay conditions, including hydraulic - or ground-drive, left- or right-hand delivery, and a dual raking system.

The Model 860 is left-hand delivery and provides a full 8.5-foot raking width. The Models 960 and 970 are left- and right-hand delivery, respectively, with 9.5-foot raking widths. All three models have rubber-mounted teeth.

The Models 860, 960 and 970 ground-drive rakes have a unique drive shaft and gearbox system that increases basket speed and prevents stalling of the basket rotation on turns. The improved drive system also facilitates shifting between working and transport settings.

(Turn to Page D8)

Case IH Introduces

Hydraulic-drive models offer varied basket speed to ground speed for uniform control of windrows. When wet windrows are a problem, the hydraulic-drive system can be reversed for gentle tedding or fluffing and fast drying.

All three models are designed with formed steel channels that distribute weight across the main frame for positive traction and stability during turns. They also feature a staggered wheel position that distributes the basket weight for improved flotation and stability during turns.

Basket height is adjustable with a single crank and all models are also equipped with a handy tilt adjustment to quickly position the basket for a variety of crop conditions. In addition, five raking bars with "tooth bar scrapers" prevent trash from accumulating.

Other options include a choice of clevis hitch and jack or caster wheel. For difficult or short crops, extra teeth can be added to convert from two teeth per position to three per position.

The dual raking system joins the Models 960 and 970, allowing the operator to combine two swaths or windrows into one windrow to save time during haying. It also provides consistent windrows ideal for high-capacity rectangular or round baling.

Headquartered in Racine, Wisconsin, Case IH is a worldwide manufacturer and marketer of Case IH agricultural and Case construction equipment. Case IH is an affiliate of Tenneco Inc., Houston.

Howard Cow Outshines West Lampeter Fair Dairy Competition

BY LISA RISSER

WEST LAMPETER (Lancaster Co.) — The tall and stylish Howcrest Tradition Sunray outshined the competition at the West Lampeter Fair dairy show to be named the supreme champion.

A five-year-old Holstein, Sunray is a Sweet Haven Tradition daughter out of Howcrest Valiant Sky and is owned by John and Susan Howard of Willow Street. As a three-year-old Sunray had a record of approximately 26,000 pounds of milk.

Competing against Sunray was Romela's Skytop Rosy, the Guernsey owned by Ryan Brenaman; Milknhoney Earls Butterscotch, the Jersey owned by Jim Findley; and Locust Valley Chrissy, the Ayrshire owned by Rick Findley.

Judge Dr. Jim McCaffrey selected the four-year-old cow owned by Elvin Hess of Conestoga to be the reserve grand champion Holstein. Princess Sunny Lane Mary, who had a record as a three-year-old of about 21,000 pounds of milk, is a Romandale Proud Apollo daughter out of C Sunny Lane Royalty Amanda.

The junior champion Holstein was Cindy Barley's senior yearling heifer, Bardale Starbuck Stella. This was the first championship title for Barley, who is the 14-year-old daughter of John E. and Jane Barley of Conestoga. The reserve junior champion rosette was awarded to the junior calf shown by Matt Kolb.

The Brenaman family of Strasburg dominated the Guernsey competition, with the only ribbon awarded outside the family going to a cousin. Ryan's intermediate heifer was named junior champion before going on to win the grand champion title. This was the first champion for the 7-year-old. It also was the first champion title for his sister, Laura, 10, whose junior calf, Romela's King Marsha, was reserve junior and reserve grand champion.

Steve Findley of Holtwood had both junior and reserve junior Ayrshire champions. The 16-year-old son of Ken and Kathy Findley, Steve had two champions at last year's West Lampeter Fair as well.

Steve's younger brother, Rick, had both senior champions. The Manor chapter FFA'er showed Locust Valley Chrissy and Locust Valley Pixie, both of whom went on to be named grand and reserve grand champion, respectively of the Ayrshire competition.

Sisters Show Ephrata Fair Champion Lambs

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — In a repeat performance, Jodi Weaver and Kristin Chupp exhibited the grand champions at the Ephrata Fair lamb show. The sisters also had the champions at the 1988 fair.

This year, however, Chupp was not on hand for the win as she was in State College attending classes at Penn State where she is a freshman.

Cheryl Fairbairn, Chester County livestock agent, admired the two middleweight lambs, especially noting the grand champion's hindquarters.

Exhibiting the champion carcasses were Jeff and Keith Bollinger. Jeff's grand champion went for $4 per pound to John Gerlach, who represented Willie the Butcher. Keith sold his reserve grand champion for $3.50 per pound to Lebanon Valley National Bank.

Jersey Is Supreme At Ephrata Fair Dairy Show

EPHRATA (Lancaster Co.) — In a county dominated by Holstein breeders, it is perhaps unusual that the supreme champion dairy cow at the Ephrata Fair was a Jersey. But it was a clear choice for judge David Schuler of Fleetwood who liked the senior two-year-old's udder and style.

The Jersey, Wilderness Viceroy Zest, is owned by David P. Herbert of Elizabethtown and is sired by Wilderness Viceroy out of Wilderness Derringer Zing.

Showing the reserve grand champion Jersey was Steve Unangst of Ephrata. The FFA'er showed a senior two-year-old, Rock-Ridge Top Brass Pebbles, that took the purple rosette. Unangst also showed the junior champion, Rock-Ridge Top Brass Nugget, a March daughter of A-Nine-Top Brass out of Rock Ridge Sequel Apache. The reserve junior champion, Wolfhill Pal Missie, was shown by Robyn Groff.

The Holstein division was won handily by Brian Sauder's dry cow, Mar-Bett Stewart Kip. Kip is a September, 1985, daughter of Crescentmead Chief Stewart out of Mar-Bett Marvex Kim.

The reserve grand champion was the junior champion shown by Marisa L. Weaver of Ephrata. The 4-H'er's champion was an intermediate calf named Tidy-Brook Computer Jewel.

A Sexation daughter, DP-Moran Sexation Louise, was selected as the reserve junior champion Holstein. Owned by 4-H'er Casey E. Weaver, Louise is a March daughter of Huberview Sexation Majuro out of DP-Moran Paddy Louie.

Tom Zartman Jr. of Ephrata took both junior and senior champion ribbons in the Brown Swiss division and his senior two-year-old, Wind Mill Blend Calypso, went on to become the grand champion Brown Swiss. Gerald Boyd, another Ephrata youth, took all three Brown Swiss reserve champion titles. Boyd's dry cow, KEB Clay View M Titan Roxie was the show's reserve grand champion.

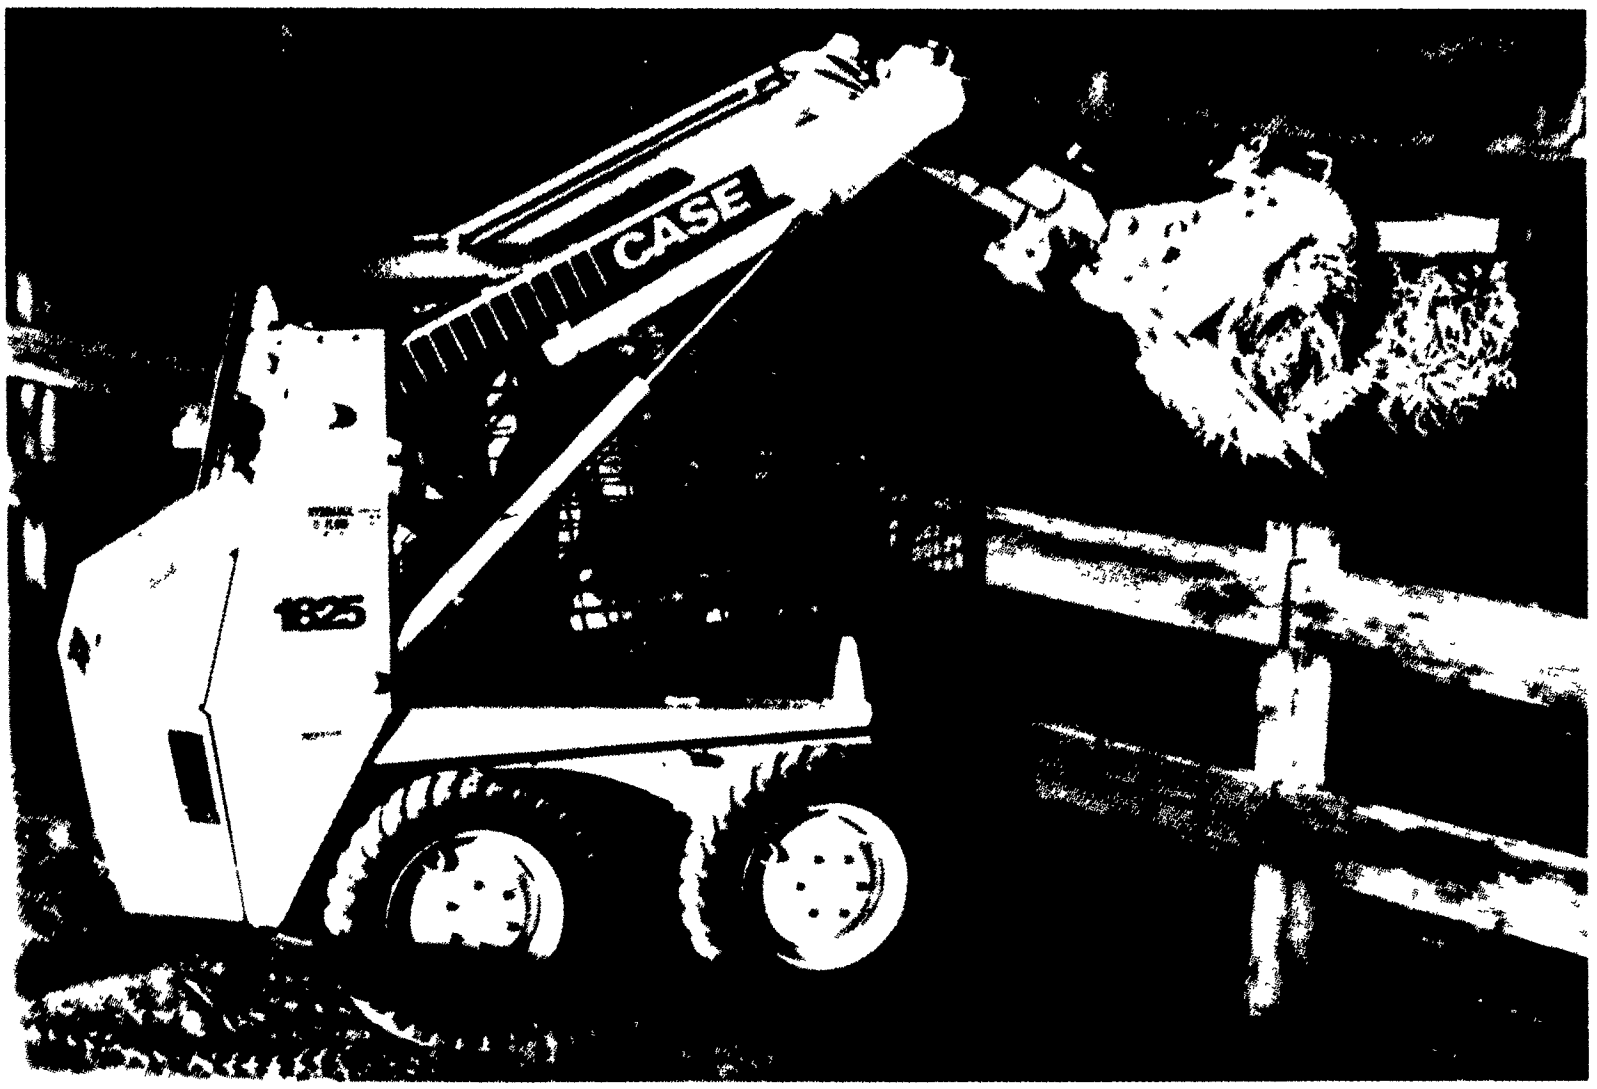
Best Values in New Equipment



Construction-site toughness assures on-farm reliability.

Day after day, year after year, Case Uni-Loader® skid-steers earn their reputation for reliability on construction sites. Their heavy-duty mainframes and rugged industrial-grade engines stand up to the most grueling punishment.

With this outstanding track record, a Uni-Loader is a natural for a long life of hard work on the farm.

It works hard. But you'll work fast and easy, controlling speed, direction and loader functions with just two hand levers. So you can concentrate on the job and forget about your feet.

A hard-working, long-running, tight-turning Uni-Loader is one of the handiest machines you'll ever own. It handles everything from feed hauling to stubborn stump removal. These industrial-strength skid-steer loaders are popular performers on farms and ranches all across the country.

See a Uni-Loader at your nearby Case IH dealer soon.

New Research Projects To Aid Agriculture

HARRISBURG — Two studies aimed at combatting Lyme disease are among 14 new research projects approved for funding by the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture during the current fiscal year, Agriculture Secretary Boyd E. Wolff announced recently.

The projects, approved by the department's Agricultural Research Committee, raise the total number of studies now under way to 77 and the amount authorized for research-related work to $3 million for the 1989-90 fiscal year. In April the committee allocated $2.5 million to start 40 new projects and continue 23 extended from previous years.

"The 14 additional projects will enable the department to increase research efforts on more complex problems and to include several new areas of concern, such as Lyme disease," Wolff said.

Lyme disease, spread primarily by deer ticks, can cause neurological and cardiac disorders in humans and domestic animals. The University of Pennsylvania received a $42,936 grant for the first year of a two-year study of ways to control the disease.

Pennsylvania State University researchers, in a projected three-year study, will look into the ecology and other factors affecting ticks that spread the disease. A grant of $47,945 was allocated for the initial year.

In addition to the grant for Lyme disease research, the University of Pennsylvania will receive $39,600 for the initial half of a two-year study of a respiratory infection in Pennsylvania poultry flocks.

The remaining 11 projects will be conducted at Penn State. Those studies, with their projected duration and the amount of the first-year grant, are:

Integrated pest management (IPM) for sweet-corn borer control, two years, $14,609; survey of IPM practices in the state, two years, $15,950; economic profile of the state's food processing industry, two years, $38,937; profile of Pennsylvania horse industry, three years, $31,715; recycling wastes as feed byproducts, three years, $31,158.

Also, IPM use in greenhouses, three years, $47,739; continued study of Tufted Apple Bud Moth Control, two years, $34,328; turfgrass IPM, three years, $33,526; honeybee mite control, two years, $21,117; recycling newspapers for animal bedding, two years, $68,182; and control of diseases stemming from condemned poultry, two years, $44,577.

Serving with Secretary Wolff on the Agricultural Research Committee are:

Sens. Edward Helfrick and Patrick Stapleton, chairman and minority chairman, respectively, of the Senate Agriculture and Rural Affairs Committee; and Reps. Samuel Morris and Kenneth Brandt, majority and minority chairman, respectively, of the House Agriculture and Rural Affairs Committee.

Also, Deputy Secretaries of Agriculture Neal Buss, Fred King and Steven Crawford; Dr. Max Van Buskirk, director of the department's Bureau of Animal Industry; and Walter Peechatka, director of the Bureau of Plant Industry.

Secretary Wolff said the committee received input from the farm sector, food processors and veterinarians.

Forestry Seminar To Focus On The Basics

COLLEGE PARK, MD — It's not too late for woodlot owners to register for the 11th annual Delmarva Forestry Seminar on October 14.

The theme of this year's seminar is "Forestry — Back to the Basics," and the format, an all-day field tour, is designed to give participants a close-up look at the many facets of forestry management.

"The planning committee felt this approach would be the best way to share information about forestry in the Delmarva area," explains Program Coordinator Bob Tjaden, a natural resources specialist with the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service, one of the organizations sponsoring the seminar. "Participants will be able to see as well

Red And White Holstein Association Headquartered In Crystal Springs

BY LINDA WILLIAMS
Bedford Co. Correspondent

CRYSTAL SPRINGS (Bedford Co.) — An old timer in Bedford County once said, "There just ain't nothing prettier than a whole herd of Red and White Holsteins in a field full of yeller dandelions."

It was this type of enthusiasm for the once unpopular breed of cattle that helped to create the American Red and White Dairy Cattle Society. Located in Crystal Spring, it is the only organization of its kind with headquarters in Pennsylvania.

The Red and White Dairy Cattle Society was started by John George in Kansas. Eventually, "The Red Bloodlines," a monthly publication for Red and White owners, was established and the headquarters moved to this rural Pennsylvania community located near Breezewood.

In September of 1988, an official open house was held for the new home of the publication, which now is headed by John Carpenter. The building, a modern, comfortable facility, was paid for entirely by donations from Red and White owners.

"The Bloodlines" has six full-time employees and a circulation of 3,000 delivered worldwide.

Lauduc Pekane Cannon-ET-Red is now the World Champion Red and White Holstein. She has a record of 5-02 365d, 45830 4.1% 1874 3.6% 1650P.

According to Carpenter, research has shown that the founders of the RWDCA were breeders of Milking Shorthorns. Chief among them was John C. Gage of Duallyn Farm in Eudora, Kans. Most of these early breeders were acquainted with the "Red Holstein" as a genetic color variation of the black and white Holstein breed and viewed these cattle first as a means to infuse needed new blood into the Milking Shorthorn and, later, as a promising venture in themselves.

For a time, the Red Holstein-Milking Shorthorn cattle were entered in an appendix registry of the Milking Shorthorn Society.

Carpenter stated that it is only in the United States that black and white cows are popular. "At least three-fourths of the dairy cattle in the world are in hot countries, and Red and Whites stand the heat better.

"A Red and White Holstein occurs due to a genetic recession," he explained. "At one time, farmers thought it was disgraceful to have a red and white calf in a Holstein herd. Today, they feel quite differently. On today's auction block, a red and white cow will always be worth more than a black and white if all other factors are equal."

The Red and White Holstein Association now sponsors sales each year. The fall show, which is held around the first of October, will be in Wisconsin. The spring show moves around. In the spring of 1990, it will be in Syracuse, N.Y.

The new light and modern headquarters of the Red and White Dairy Cattle Association is located at Crystal Spring.

Forestry Seminar

as hear about various practices, equipment and results."

The seminar will begin with a short introduction at the Econo-Lodge in Cambridge, Md. From there, participants will travel to three forestry sites in Maryland and Delaware aboard a luxury bus. Each stop will emphasize different components of forest management.

The first stop will be at the Nanticoke Boy Scout Reservation near Sharptown, Md., where attendees will learn about forestry services available from consultants and state, federal, industry and Extension foresters. Participants also will learn how to identify various tree species and how to figure volumes of trees by measuring them with forestry equipment.

Woodlot owners interested in attending the Delmarva Forestry Seminar should call Bob Tjaden at 301-827-8056 no later than October 9. The registration fee is $15 and includes lunch.

West Lampeter Fair Livestock Sale Totals $44,000

BY LISA RISSER

WEST LAMPETER (Lancaster Co.) — "Are you done?" asked the auctioneer and the gavel went down on the final bid of the night bringing the sales total at the West Lampeter Fair livestock sale to $44,128.

The Friday night sale marked the end to livestock projects for many FFA'ers. The hogs were the first to go with Brian Eshbach's grand champion selling for $3.50 per pound to Hatfield Packing. Hatfield also entered the top bid on Sue Brown's reserve grand champion. The 245-pound hog went for a total of $539.

The average price for the 72 hogs was $1.11 per pound with Hatfield Packing and Willie the Butcher tying for volume hog buyer.

Nine lambs were sold for an average of $1.34 with Heidi Quanbeck's grand champion being sold to Willie the Butcher for $2.60 per pound or $327. The 127-pound reserve grand champion lamb, owned by Ted Herr, a Manor FFA chapter member, was purchased by Walter M. Dunlap, represented by Ken Smoker, for $1.50 per pound.

The grand champion steer, Marshall, owned by Anita Meck brought $2.80 per pound for a grand total of $3,598. The lucky buyer was Gerald Darrenkamp of Darrenkamp Food Market.

Marshall, Anita Meck's 1,285-pound grand champion, went to Gerald Darrenkamp of Darrenkamp Food Market for $2.80 per pound.

Heidi Quanbeck sold her grand champion lamb to Wilmer "Willie the Butcher" Kreider for $2.60 per pound. With Willie is his grandson Timothy Kreider Jr.

The reserve grand champion lamb exhibited by Tedd Herr, left, went to Walter M. Dunlap, represented by Ken Smoker, for $1.50 per pound.

The top bid of $3.50 per pound bought the grand champion hog from Brian Eshbach, left. Purchasing the 230-pound gilt was Hatfield.

The 245-pound reserve champion hog, owned by Sue Brown, went to top bidder Hatfield Quality Meats for $2.20 per pound.

FSIS Seeks Comments On New Review System For Approving Rapid Tests

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Prior to formal rulemaking, the U.S. Department of Agriculture is seeking public comments on a new system to be used by the Food Safety and Inspection Service in review and approval of rapid tests for use in meat and poultry inspection.

An advance notice in today's Federal Register requests comments on a test approval system. The notice outlines a uniform system that FSIS would establish before accepting tests developed outside the agency. Tests could be used as official procedures in inspecting meat and poultry.

For example, the system would require test developers to submit details concerning the purpose of the test, its reliability and range of detection, durability under field conditions, ease of performance by inspectors or laboratory personnel, and the availability and shelf life of reagents.

"A uniform procedure for reviewing tests for microbial or chemical contaminants should expedite the process and make industry and academia aware of our needs and requirements," said Dr. Lester M. Crawford, FSIS administrator.

"The system should help FSIS put new analytical procedures in laboratories and plants as soon as they are commercially available," Crawford said. "Our purpose is to give inspectors the best tools available to ensure the safety and wholesomeness of the nation's meat and poultry supply."

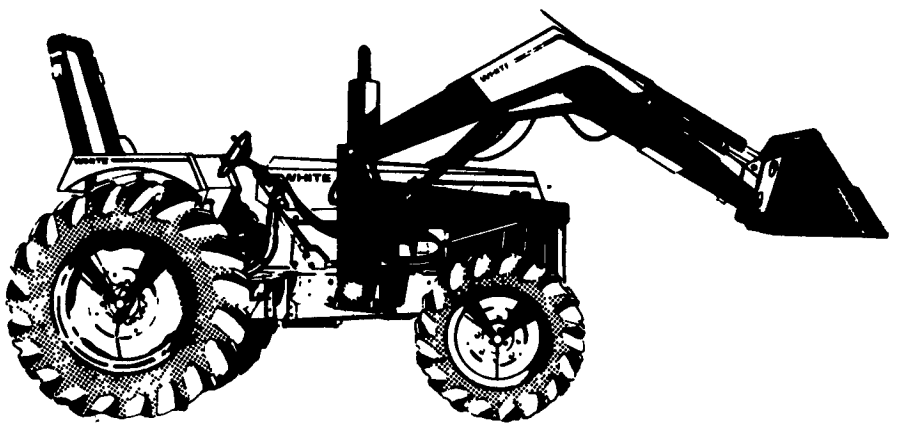
The agency would judge the usefulness of tests. Those judged beneficial then would be evaluated under simulated performance conditions — in the laboratory or at the plant.

"Approvals would not guarantee a market for a commercially developed test. For instance, FSIS might find more suitable tests, encounter limited resources, or shifts in priorities due to unforeseen developments," Crawford said.

Comments on today's notice can be submitted through Nov. 14 to the Policy Office, Attn.: Linda Carey, FSIS Hearing Clerk, Room 3175-S, FSIS, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

FSIS ensures that meat and poultry are safe, wholesome and accurately labeled.

WHITE FRONT END LOADERS



White Loaders Are Convenient, Easy To Use And Even Make Your Chores Fun.

The White 1170 and 1185 front end loaders are sized to perform those tough everyday jobs. Whether its loading, hauling or digging, the 1170 and 1185 loaders are a pleasure to operate. Plus you can store these loaders anywhere at any time with quick attach mounting and an integral storage stand.

For a real workhorse combination, team up a White 60 or 80 with an 1170. Or choose an 1185 loader with your White 100, 120, 140 or 160. Both offer hydraulic self leveling that keeps the bucket level all the way up.

Less worry and hassle. White loaders can make your work a lot easier.

COVER MORE ACRES ON LESS FUEL

New Cummins Engine is turbocharged and aftercooled and puts every ounce of its mass to work converting fuel to horsepower.

Fuel economy and high torque are combined in the White 140. So when the going gets tough and rpm drop, the White 140 lugs ahead with a productive 26% torque rise.

Combine the fuel economy with the other new features of the White 140 and you have a 137 PTO HP tractor that can do the job for you.

SELLING 100 HEAD
CATTLEMAN'S CHOICE SALE

12 Noon, Saturday
October 28, 1989
Aldie, Virginia

Birth	Weaning	Milk	Yearling

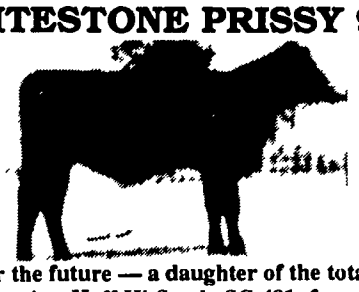
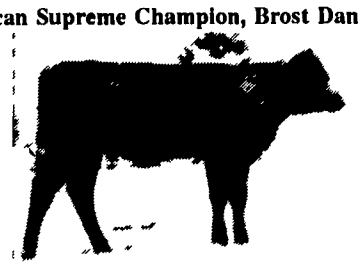
A special feature will be a herd sire prospect by Power Shaft from Whitestone's 1989 Roll of Victory Show Heifer of the Year, Angela.

WHITESTONE PRISSY 938



Bred for the future — a daughter of the total performance sire, Hoff Hi Spade SC 491, from a tremendous two-year-old daughter of Waldeck Shocker who is a maternal sister to the 1989 All-American Supreme Champion, Brost Dan Patch.



Whitestone's full sister to the 1989 All-American Reserve Junior Heifer Calf Champion by Casanova from Nessie.

PURINA CALF STARTENA

Jim and Nina Burdette own and manage a registered Holstein herd in Mercersburg, Pa. located in Franklin County. They have been milking for 15 yrs. and have had tremendous success in the show ring as well as on the farm. They have always used CALF STARTENA in their calf program. We wish them continued success. Here's how they feel about PURINA'S CALF STARTENA.

"Purina Calf Startena is a consistent starter that helps maximize a calf's potential. This calf is a potential 5th generation homebred excellent and all of them were fed PURINA CALF STARTENA."

Jim & Nina Burdette

HERE IS WHY STARTENA SHOULD BE YOUR FIRST CHOICE:

- Calves grow up to 15% faster the 1st 60 days compared to conventional starters.
- Saves feed, 12% better feed efficiency compared to conventional starters.
- Promotes early rumen development that hay can't the first 60 days.
- Highly palatable, calves like it, easy to digest, so they gain more.
- Now available with DECCOX™ or Terramycin.
